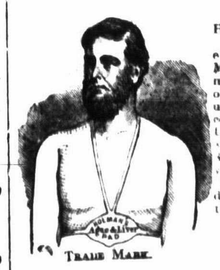
HOLMAN LIVER PAD.

Endorsement Extraordinary!



Toronto, 19th February, 1879.

HOLMAN LIVER PAD CO.

GENTLEMEN,—I have much pleasure in testifying to the extreme efficacy of your remedy for dyspepsia. My mother, Mrs. W. A. Murray, No. 146 Wellington street, had been a martyr to the sufferings induced by this malady for upwards of six years, obtaining but short temporary relief from the usual remedies so often had recourse to in these cases. After considerable persuasion she consented to wear one of your Liver Pads, and, notwithstanding her want of faith in it, she experienced considerable relief in the course of a few weeks, since then she has used a second one, and now CLAIMS for your Pads the ENTIRE CREDIT of having brought about a CURE beyond expectation, for which not only does she feel deeply indebted to you, but I myself must congratulate and thank you for a cure I could but at the most have hoped for.

Yours most respectfully,
C. STUART MURRAY, M.D., L.R.C.P., &c.

DIVIDED LIVES.

Divided lives! The words unfold
A hidden store of silent pain,
We were as one in days of old,
Divided now, estranged and cold,
How can we meet again?

The days go on, the busy race
Of Life and Duty must be run.
We pass the olden meeting-place,
Or look each other in the face,
And wish the past undone.

Divided lives! And, day by day,
More hard to bear the loss appears,
Too oft the loved ones drift away
Afar from us, and Hope's bright ray
Is quenched in lonely tears.

The Past is dead that was so sweet;
Lost is the love we called our own,
Our life has reached its noon-day heat,
The road is rough for weary feet,
And yet we walk alone

No future time can ever fulfil
The promise of those early days.
Our works achieve success, but still
The old wound throbs, and ever will—
Divided lives divided ways!

BEACONSFIELD'S 'TAFFY.'

HIS EXTRAORDINARY SPEECH ON AGRICULTURAL DEPRESSION.

The following is a verbatim report of the extraordinary utterance of the Premier of England in reference to the state of Canada and the United States.

The Earl of Beaconsfield said—I know it may be said that, after all, we don't fear the competition of Europe but we do fear the competition of America. (A voice—Hear, hear.) We are told that our present agricultural system has failed in consequence of sustaining three classes. That is a complete fallacy. Whatever may be your tenure, three profits must be obtained from the land, and the question arises whether it is not better that the profit should be represented by three classes than one. I hear every day that it is impossible to compete with America. (Hear, hear.) There may be other causes which have prostrated our energies at the present moment. I will not give any decided opinion upon the matter. It is a singular circumstance that at this moment the greatest apprehension is felt in the United States that they cannot compete with Canada. The taxation in America is so high—(hear, hear)—the rates of wages so high—(hear, hear)—that it is impossible, according to some of the best American authorities, for them any longer to continue a successful competition with Canada. What is the position of Canada? If we are to be fed from beyond our shores it is at least a satisfaction that we should be fed by Her Majesty's subjects. The situation of Canada is most peculiar. Since the surrender of the Hudson Bay Company and the settlement of their affairs, the Dominion of Canada became possessed of what I might almost describe as an illimitable wilderness and a wilderness of fertile land. Now, a very peculiar circumstance to be noted is that the Dominion of Canada is not in favor of present proprietors. (Hear, hear.) What the Dominion of Canada wishes to institute is a great yeoman class. It has legislated for that purpose; its legislation has now an influence for that purpose; and let us see what is their legislation. Every honest man, of fair character, who goes to Canada, has a right to apply to the Government agent, to claim, and to obtain, a quarter section of land, which consists of 160 acres, which he receives on the condition that at the end of three years he shall have reduced it to perfect cultivation, that in the interval he will raise a substantial building on the land. At the end of these three years a Government inspector visits his allotment, and if he has fulfilled the conditions he is permitted to receive another quarter section of 160 acres, and on payment of a dollar an acre, and no greater payment even if the value of land in the interval had greatly increased. Thus the yeoman was launched, you will observe, but from the first moment this is not a small business. The holder of an allotment must deal with hired labour. Hired labour is less in Canada than in the United States. In the United States the ruder labourer you can conceive would get 12s a week, and a skilled labourer 16s or 18s. The first thing that a yeoman does is to calculate the value of his freehold, which will depend on the amount he has paid during those six years of hired labour, the amount expended on building, and the hard money paid down for the last quarter section, and at 4 per cent. he writes off the interest. What is that rent? (Hear, hear.) I will mention a very curious circumstance which I have heard from the very highest authority. Some years ago the cultivation—the extreme cultivation—of the Western States alarmed this country by its influence in affecting prices. The production, which was extreme, has been reduced one-third, generally speaking, and in the same States one-half of the chief pioneers, who advanced so greatly the cultivation of the extreme Western States of America, have sold their farms, and have sold them at thirty-eight or forty dollars an acre and therefore you will see there is a basis of rent included in such an arrangement. They are now repairing to the illimitable wilderness of Canada. You ask me what is my inference? It is a practical one, and I think you will, upon reflection, deem it to be a wise one—that when you are suffering from foreign competition it is wise not to take precipitate steps, and to take care that you do not conclude that that is permanent which is only transitory, especially when we see circumstances so transitory that the very place of competition is doubtful. When you hear through me—I will not say through me—that Canada expects to be completely successful in beating the United States from the European markets, is it wise for us not to take precipitate steps. I have had an opportunity lately of conversing with a gentleman who may be considered the highest authority in this matter, which is as political, I might almost say, as statesmanship. He told me he was quite perplexed, after the deepest enquiry, as to what would be the result to Canada if two hundred millions acres of the wilderness were gradually brought into cultivation. He said there were some who thought that America would be destroyed in that case. As regarded Canada itself, he said that if the influx of population were to go on, and those fertile acres placed at their disposal he could not tell what would be the consequence. That population would demand not only sustenance, but extravagant and extreme sustenance, as always happens—for example, in California, and wherever money was made quickly; and for his part, he said, he should not be astonished, because of the impulsive character of humanity in the United States, if that wilderness which now so alarms us would soon be occupied by consuming millions.

Murder Will Out.

A few years ago "August Flower" was discovered to be a certain cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, a few thin Dyspeptics made known to their friends how easily and quickly they had been cured by its use. The great merits of GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER became heralded through the country by one sufferer to another, until, without advertising, its sale has become immense. Druggists in every town in Canada and the United States are selling it. No person suffering with Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Low Spirits, etc., can take three doses without relief. Go to your Druggist and get a bottle for 75 cents and try it. Sample bottles 10 cents.

OLD AGE.—Boerhave, the great German physician said that "old age was the only disease natural to man." Yet in America only four out of every hundred people reach sixty years and in England only seven. Why should the mortality be less in England—with its dense population and unfavorable conditions for longevity—than here? It is doubtless due to a new country, an uncertain climate and the little reverence which is paid by the young to the experience of the old. The young think they know more than their fathers, and they follow only the teachings of their own experience. The result is that they soon find that they have acted foolishly, and prematurely lose their lives. To keep the system healthy the secretions should be kept in order. Dr. Hunter wrote that "he looked upon every adult he met in the streets of London as a walking museum of morbid anatomy." The moment the bowles become clogged they should be cleared of faecal matter gathered there, by the proper use of DR. HERRICK'S SUGAR COATED PILLS, which have taken their place in every drug store in the Dominion and have wrought such wonderful cures during the past years. Their use would tend to promote general health.

NOT AS THE POET SINGS.—If the unfortunate and unhappy Kirk White were alive, it is more than probable that he would leave unsung his poem commencing "Come Consumption's Ghastly Throng, as the remedy for that fell disease has now been discovered. It is Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. Many so called remedies have been offered to the public, but none have proved trustworthy until this preparation was given to suffering humanity. It not only relieves in every case, but in most cases permanently cures, at the same time is perfectly palatable.

In the cure of Consumption probably no known medicine equals Syrup of Hypophosphites prepared by Mr. James I. Fellows, chemist, Moncton, N.B. A number of cases have come under our notice the past year when the results which have followed its use have been astonished. We write this unsolicited by any one, and advise the afflicted to try it.

EDITOR "COLONIAL FARMER."

"The beauty of having a bottle of Perry Davis' Pain Killer in the house is, that you are prepared for the Worst, Croup or Cholera, the Pain-Killer is a sovereign remedy."

The druggists will give you in exchange for a fifty cent piece, a beautiful package of Beartine for the hair. It is the most delightful hair Dressing we know of.
