EUGENIA

"Mothers Doy" was appropriately celebrated in the United Church here on Sunday, when every one wore flowers in tribute to their loved mothers, a gayly colored flower was the symbol for the living mother, while white was the color in memory of the mothers gone on before, but were not forgotten. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Bushell spoke on the wonderful devotion of a mother and how family life was through her linked to spiritual things. He spoke on how many farm women were situated. He said it was well known that stock and the barn came first, then if there is any money left it may go for the house. In many instances a man has all conveniences to work with in and around the barn while the women have to work under the same conditions their grandmothers did. In many cases the isolation and monotony of farm life for women was almost unendurable. For Scripture reading the minister read, Proverbs, Chapter 31, "The praise and properties of a good woman." The choir which was composed of mothers sang a beautiful anthem, "Mothers Face." Miss Muriel Carruthers accompanied on the organ, for the mothers. The Mothers Day service proved an inspiring event as there was a large attendance at church.

On Wednesday evening of last week the Y. P. S. met as usual, Rev. Bushell presiding and conducted the worship period. Scripture passages were read by Miss Phyllis Graham and Miss Edith Fenwick. Mrs. C. Martin took the topic, which was on the missionary in Trinidad and his daily work. It was decided to continue the Y. P. S. until the end of June. Recreation consisted of a contest "Old Sayings." On Monday evening a visit from the Y. P. S. of Flesherton was very much enjoyed. The Flesherton Y. P. S. conducted the program, Miss H. Inkster presiding, Rev. Bushell led in prayer. Miss Alice Armstrong took the discussion period selecting a topic suitable for missions, which was listened to attentively. A duet by Misses Marion Miller and G. McDonald was pleasing. A recitation by Miss Phyllis Graham was enjoyed. Scripture passages were read by different members. After the program lunch was served by the Eugenia Y. P. S. Collection amounted to $2.01. The meeting closed in the usual way.
