

Got a clunker?
Get some cash!

Glen MacDonald (left) and Tom Pollard of Georgetown Chevrolet promote the Cash for Clunkers program.

Chevrolet dealership is 'setting a precedent'

Georgetown Chevrolet, Buick, GMC is leading the way in encouraging consumers to turn in their well-worn, inefficient and air-polluting vehicles, and offering cold hard cash towards one of their new lineups of fuel-efficient and industry-leading trucks and automobiles.

Tom Pollard, general sales manager at the dealership says, "We are trying to set a precedent here in Halton Hills".

This is not a manufacturer's program, but the brainchild of Pollard and Glen MacDonald, general manager, along with the entire staff at Georgetown Chevrolet, Buick, GMC.

So far, a vehicle with 511,291 kilometres is the highest mileage vehicle turned in and the customer was pleasantly surprised with the amount she received towards her new Sierra 1500 extension cab with a class-leading fuel-efficient six-speed transmission.

So push, pull, drag or tow your clunker to Georgetown Chevrolet, Buick, GMC and receive up to $2000 towards a new vehicle or test drive the new 2012 Cruze, Sonic or just arrived Orlando seven-passenger multi-purpose vehicle. You will do yourself and the environment a tremendous kindness.
