INCENDIARISM.—We learn from a Toronto contemporary, that the property of Mr. Orange Lawrence, of the township of Trafalgar, was, on the 13th inst., destroyed by fire, the work of incendiaries. There was no insurance. The loss was great, being the produce of fifty acres of good wheat, a large quantity of other grain, and hay sufficient for a stock of fifty head of cattle, a thrashing machine, two fanning mills, and a large quantity of old grain in a building attached to the barn. Two men named Taylor, have been taken up on suspicion, and are now lodged in Hamilton jail.

The Whig denies that the profane language mentioned by us last week, and attributed to certain hon. members, was made use of by them. We can tell the Whig that what we stated is strictly true, and our authority does't rest altogether upon hearsay reports, as his does. And we can tell the Whig, if he didn't know it before, that one old gentleman whose head is "silvered o'er with age," received a severe rebuke from another hon. gentleman, for his utter disregard for the rules of decorum and common courtesy. If the Whig is disposed to defend blasphemy and drunkenness in "high places," let him; he is of age, and can do as he pleases. But will his readers be satisfied with it?

THE PRINCE EDWARD GAZETTE.—We hasten to acknowledge the receipt of a new weekly journal, bearing the above title, and published in the town of Picton, Prince Edward District. There have been so many failures of success in the printing line, in this District, that we do hope the present undertaking will be sustained. Mr. John O. Dornan, the Editor & Proprietor, we have known from a child, and we think him every way worthy of confidence and support. We observe by the Gazette, that an experiment is making in that District, in the growth of Silk, which bids fair to be eminently successful. The individual making it, deserves commendation for his enterprising public spirit.

SOMETHING NEW.

SILK GROWING IN PRINCE EDWARD.—Through the enterprise of our townsman, Mr. S. Pettingell, a new and novel branch of industry has been introduced into our District. For the purpose of testing the fitness of our climate and soil for the culture of silk, Mr. Pettingell purchased last fall in Onondaga county, N. Y., about 1,800 morus multicaulus trees, which he planted this spring, on three quarters of an acre of light sandy soil, and which, notwithstanding the extraordinary drought of this season, grew to a size and fullness of leaf, which we have seldom seen equalled in the best cultivated mulberry orchards in New England, during our travels in the States. In July last, he purchased 5,000 eggs of the silk worm, all of which were hatched and have come to maturity through their several moultings, with less of about 100 worms only, which loss was owing more to inexperience in the mode of treatment, than to any disease attributable to the climate, such as the muscardine, which has been fatal to so many cocooneries in the United States, and even in the oldest silk growing countries. The worms are now forming their coccons, being less than seven weeks from their time of hatching.

This successful experiment has decided, beyond a doubt, the adaptation of our climate and soil to the growth of silk, and will induce many to embark in a business, at once agreeable and profitable, which can be attended by the minor branches of families without interrupting their ordinary employments. Mr. Pettingell must have the credit of first introducing the business into this district, as we have not heard of any previous attempt being made here.

The Assizes for the Midland District commenced in this town yesterday—Chief Justice Robinson, presiding; John S. Cartwright, Esq., Queen's Counsel.

Since the President of the United States vetoed the second Bank Bill, the greater portion of the Cabinet have resigned their offices. Mr. Webster however, continues in his place.

AN ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE OF CANADA.

Men and Brethren—

He that giveth, hath taken away. It has this day been the will of Heaven to call away the soul of your earthly guardian—it hath this day been the will of Holiness to take to himself the spirit of your country's genius! Repine not; murmur not at this great private and national calamity; but with hearts contrite, and humiliated spirits, say, as Christ told you, "Thy Will be done." Mysterious mysteries! who dare behold ye!

Britain will weep a Patriot and a Statesman gone—Canada will sigh for a Friend and Hero lost!

Canadians! He lived only for his country's good. In his childhood was imbued in him kind and liberal sentiments—in his youth he learned bold and comprehensive measures—in his manhood he showed consistent and vigorous actions. Still a young man when Member for Dover! His firmness of purpose, and depth of perception soon elected him one of the Cabinet. Albion's commerce is her life's blood; and he was chosen as its guardian;—Manchester, the very focus of mechanical action, and spirited enterprise, sought his services—did he his duty? Let history answer.

Now to your own affairs, Canadians, and his conduct amongst you. A few years ago you had a fever amongst you. The infection, I believe, was brought to you; the morbid epidemic spread, and direful might have been its ravages—but England, ever watchful of the health and happiness of her children, sent you her best physician. My Lord of Durham administered to you, and wholesome was his physic; but he left you ere recovery. Who then became your nurse and doctor? It was Sydenham. How has he treated you! Answer; I cannot speak. But—

"He is gone,
And his eyes are closed forever!"

People of Canada!—Revere his memory—respect his ashes—show to the Mother Land your grief for departed worth—your lamentations for by gone genius.

Men of Kingston!—Let us as one man witness the last rights of sepulture—let us mingle our tears o'er his dust—and hallowed be the ground that receives the relict!—Then let us

"No farther seek his merits to disclose,
Or drawn his frailties from their dread abode,
(There they alike in trembling hope repose,)
The bosom of his father and his God."

Countrymen and Fellow Subjects!—Our interests are one—let our actions be the same. Our unity may be wanted; our energies demanded. The atmosphere of politics is o'erclouded; a storm of conflict menaces us. Then as children of the same womb, let us be linked—let us be rivetted. Generosity, Humanity and Religion forbid war, but if we are trampled upon, we must turn again.

Your Friend and Co-Subject,
A MANCHESTER MAN.

Kingston, Sept. 19, 1841.

MURDER.—A Coroner's Inquest was held yesterday over the body of Catharine Harris, found drowned yesterday morning in the Bay near the Cataraqui Bridge. The Jury returned a Verdict "that the said Catharine Harris on the morning of the 14th inst. came to her death by being thrown over the Cataraqui Bridge and drowned—that she had been beat and abused by William Ward and thrown over the Bridge by Elmor Farthing both privates in the Royal Marines." The deceased was one of seven unfortunate females who were sent down to this place in one of the steamers, about ten days since, by the Corporation of Toronto. We leave the public to judge of this generous act of the Toronto Corporation.—[Chron. of Saturday.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Thomas Waugh a Sailor on board H. M. S. Niagara fell down in a fit of apoplexy on Tuesday last on board the ship and expired. An inquest was held on the body on Wednesday, when the jury returned a Verdict, "that the said Thomas Waugh came to his death by the visitation of God."—[ib.

THE GREAT WESTERN.

13 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

It affords us pleasure to announce the arrival of the Great Western, Capt. Hosken, from Bristol, which port she left on the 1st inst. Our London advices are to the evening of August 31st. Havre to the same, and Bristol Sept. 1st, all inclusive. The Western brought one hundred and ten passengers. She had a fine run out of 12 days and 10 hours.

THE HARVEST.—Although there had been some days of rain since our last advices, the weather on the whole, had been favourable for the harvest. Large supplies of wheat and flour had been received and it will be seen that prices had declined.

The London papers announce the death of Theodore Hook, in the 57th year of his age.

PARLIAMENT.

The new parliament opened on the 19th of August, the day named in the writs. The commissioners to act instead of the Queen were announced in the House of Lords, and took their seats in front of the throne. The Peers then took the oaths of allegiance, the newly created peers were introduced and sworn, and then the house adjourned.

In the House of Commons, after the return of members from the other house, the election of a Speaker was proceeded in. Lord Worsely nominated the right hon. Charles Shaw Lefevre.—Sir Robert Peel announced his intention to support the nomination, giving his reasons therefor, which were highly complimentary to the candidate, and, no other being nominated, the Right Hon. gentleman was conducted to the chair. The Speaker returned thanks. Lord John Russell complimented him on his re-election, and the House adjourned.

AUG. 20.—The Queen's approval of the Speaker was announced in both houses, after which they adjourned.

The houses met on Saturday and Monday, the 21st and 23d, but only to swear in members.

AUG. 24—The business of the session commenced this day, with the reading of the speech, as follows:

HER MAJESTY'S SPEECH.

The Lord Chancellor, the Marquis of Normanby, the Earl of Clarendon, Viscount Duncannon and Viscount Melbourne, having taken their seats in front of the throne, as lords commissioners, the Usher of the Back Rod was directed to summon the members of the Commons at the bar of the House of Lords, to hear the Royal Speech on the opening of Parliament.

Shortly afterward, the Speaker, accompanied by a large body of members, appeared at the bar, when the Lord Chancellor read the following Speech:—

"My Lords and Gentlemen,

"We are commanded by Her Majesty to acquaint you that Her Majesty has availed herself of the earliest opportunity of resorting to your advice and assistance after the dissolution of the last Parliament.

Her Majesty continues to receive from foreign powers gratifying assurances of their desire to maintain with Her Majesty the most friendly relations.

Her Majesty has the satisfaction of informing you, that the objects for which the treaty of the 15th of July, 1840, was concluded between Her Majesty, the Emperor of Austria, the King of Prussia, the Emperor of Russia, and the Sultan, have been fully accomplished, and it is gratifying to Her Majesty to be enabled to state that the temporary separation which the measures taken in the execution of that treaty created between the contracting parties and France has now ceased.

Her Majesty trusts that the union of the principal powers upon all matters affecting the great interests of Europe will afford a firm security for the maintenance of peace.

Her Majesty is glad to be able to inform you, that in consequence of the evacuation of Ghorain by the Persian troops, Her Majesty has ordered her Minister to the Court of Persia to return to Tehieran.

Her Majesty regrets that the negotiations between her plenipotentiaries in China and the Chinese Government have not yet been brought to a satisfactory conclusion, and that it has been necessary to call into action the forces which her Majesty has sent to the China seas; but her Majesty still trusts that the Emperor of China will see the justice of the demands which her Majesty's plenipotentiaries have been instructed to make.

Her Majesty is happy to inform you that the differences which had arisen between Spain and Portugal, about the execution of a treaty concluded by those powers in 1830, for regulating the navigation of the Douro, have been adjusted amicably, and with honor to both parties, by the aid of her Majesty's mediation.

The debt incurred by the Legislature of Upper Canada, for the purposes of public works, is a serious obstacle to farther improvements, which are essential to the prosperity of the united province. Her Majesty has authorized the Governor General to make a communication on the subject to the Council and Assembly of Canada. Her Majesty will direct the papers to be laid before you, and trusts that your earnest attention will be directed to matters so materially affecting the welfare of Canada and the strength of the empire.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

We have to assure you that her Majesty relies with entire confidence on your loyalty and zeal to make adequate provision for the public service, as well as for the farther application of sums granted by the last Parliament.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

We are more especially commanded to declare to you that the extraordinary expenses which the events in Canada, China and the Mediterranean have occasioned, and the necessity of maintaining a force adequate to the protection of our extensive possessions, have made it necessary to consider the means of increasing the public revenues. Her Majesty is anxious that this object should be effected in the manner least burdensome to her people; and it has appeared to her Majesty, after full deliberation, that you may, at this juncture, properly direct your attention to the revision of duties affecting the productions of foreign countries. It will be for you to consider whether some of these duties are not so trifling in amount as to be unproductive to the revenue, while they are vexatious to commerce. You may farther examine whether the principle of protection, upon which others of these duties are founded, be not carried to an extent injurious alike to the income of the state and the interests of the people.

Her Majesty is desirous that you should consider the laws which regulate the trade in corn. It will be for you to determine whether these laws do not aggravate the natural fluctuations of supply; whether they do not embarrass trade, derange the currency, and by their operation diminish the comfort and increase the privations of the great body of the community.

Her Majesty feeling the deepest sympathy with those of her subjects who are now suffering from distress and want of employment, it is her earnest prayer that all your deliberations may be guided by wisdom, and may conduce to the happiness of her beloved people.

The lords commissioners quitted their seats, and disrobed after the Commons' members had withdrawn.

The address in answer to the speech was moved in the House of Lords by Earl Spencer, (better known among us as Lord Althorp.)

The Marquis of Clanricarde seconded the address.

The vote was then taken—for the address 96, for the amendment 168. Majority against ministers 72. The house then adjourned to the 27th.

In the House of Commons the address in answer to the speech was moved by Mr. Mark Phillips, and seconded by Mr. J. Dundas. Mr. Stuart Wortley moved the amendment, which was the same as that moved in the House of Lords, the debate on which was continued until the 27th, when the vote was taken, as follows:

For the address, 269
For the amendment, 360

Majority against ministers 91. The House then adjourned.

August 27.—In the House of Lords the Earl of Errol came down with her Majesty's answer to the amended address.

My Lords,—It gives satisfaction to find that the House of Lords are deeply sensible of the importance of those considerations to which I directed their attention, in reference to the commerce and revenue of the country, and to the laws which regulate the trade in corn; and that in deciding on the course which it may be advisable to pursue, it will be their earnest desire to consult the interests and promote the welfare of all classes of my subjects.

Being always desirous of attending to the advice of Parliament, I will take into immediate consideration the other important matters contained in your address.

August 30. In the House of Lords,

Viscount MELBOURNE having taken his seat on the ministerial bench, almost immediately afterward rose and addressed their lordships in the following terms:—

"My Lords, I consider it my duty to acquaint your lordships that in consequence of the vote which was come to by the other House of Parliament on Saturday morning last, which was precisely similar in terms to the vote come to by your lordships at an early period of the week, on the part of my colleagues and myself, I have tendered to her Majesty the resignation of the offices we hold, which resignation Her Majesty has been graciously pleased to accept, and we only continue to hold those offices until our successors are appointed."

Shortly after this announcement, a large number of peers left the House.

In the House of Commons, the royal answer to the address was read as follows:

It is a great satisfaction to me to find that the House of Commons are deeply sensible of the importance of those considerations to which I directed their attention in reference to the commerce and revenue of the country, and the laws which regulate the trade in corn, and that in deciding on the coure which it may be advisable to pursue, it will be their earnest desire to consult the interests and welfare of all classes of Her Majesty's subjects. Ever anious to listen to the advice of my parliament, I will take immediate measures for the formation of a new administration.

Whereupon Lord John Russell announced the resignation of Ministers.

THE NEW MINISTRY.

The Morning Herald of August 21st says—Yesterday afternoon, Sir Robert Peel, in obedience to a summons which he had received the night before from her Majesty, attended the Queen at Windsor, was most graciously received by the Sovereign, and is understood to have received the royal instructions to form a new administration.

Nothing to be relied on had yet transpired, concerning the formation of a new Cabinet. Sir Robert Peel was undoubtedly to be at its head, but he kept his own counsels very strictly as to the parties he should invite to share with him in the labours and enjoyments of office. The Times expressly says that none of the published lists are to be received as any thing more than rumour.

Died.

In this town, on Saturday last, Mr. William Dawe.

CARD.

JOHN BURLEY begs to thank the Engine Company, the Artillery Company, and the inhabitants generally, for their prompt and efficient service in saving his back store-houses, &c., from destruction by fire this morning.

Kingston, Tuesday, Sept. 21, 1841.

FRESH OYSTERS just received at A. Smith's British North American Saloon, Brock Street,

Kingston, 21st Sept. 1841.

CIRCUS.

The greatest Circus Company now travelling, from the Bowery Amphitheatre, New York, under the management of MESSRS. N. B. & T. V. TURNER.

THE Managers of this splendid Establishment, respectfully inform the inhabitants of Kingston and its vicinity, that they will exhibit their grand EQUESTRIAN EXERCISES in this City on MONDAY, TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY, the 27th, 28th and 29th of September, near the Artillery Barracks, at the Yard of the National Hotel, corner of Barrack and Quarry Sts.

This Company consists of one of the largest and most talented Equestrian Corps now travelling in this or any other country. The Managers have been to an immense expense in procuring the very best talent that could be obtained, having a desire to merit the patronage of the Citizens of Kingston. The following are some of the principal artists of this establishment:—

Mr. N. B. TURNER, the great four Horse Rider, who has been pronounced the best ever in this country.

Mr. T. V. TURNER, the celebrated and truly named Roscius on Horseback, as he is, he having executed the astonishing feat of turning backward and forward somersets while his horse is at full speed.

The Managers have also engaged Mr. CHAS. FREEMAN, the American Giant, who is the tallest, strongest and best proportioned man in the world, he having been schooled by the Messrs. Turner to perform an act of horsemanship on two horses, which feat cannot be realised unless witnessed; his height is 7 feet 3 inches, and weighs upwards of 300 lbs.

They have also engaged Mr. J. O'CONNELL, the wonderful Tattooed Man, who will perform many new and pleasing dances. They have procured that which is most essential to an Equestrian performance, viz. a good CLOWN, Mr. F. GARSON; and the managers feel assured they can without hesitation, pronounce him the best in America.

Mr. A. ALDRICH, the first of Scenic Equestrians, will perform the Indian Hunter, the Dying Moore, &c., on his astonishing white steed, which is unequalled for his terrific velocity, though not in the least daunting or hindring his miraculous rider, during his splendid personification of the acts.

Mr. S. W. SEELY, the greatest delineator of Ethiopian character, accompanied by the phenomenon called the Green Mountain Boy, who plays the violin right or left handed, balanced on his head, lying on the shelf or reaching it under his back while his head is bent backwards nearly to the ground, and going through all without losing a note of his true melody.

The Arena is attended by a superb Band of Music, led by Mr. Henry K. Gaul, the celebrated Philadelphia performer of the Bugle, assisted by Mr. Griffith, late leader of the National Orchestra, N. Y.; also, Mons. Grabner and Zimerman, of the Theatre Royal, Germany, and Mr. Hardy, of Montreal, Messrs. Hodge, Ray and Densmore, of Boston, and Mon. J. Xymenis, of Italy

Doors open at 7, performance to commence at 7½ o'clock.

Boxes, 2s. 6d.; Pit, 1s. 3d; Children under 10 years of age, half price.

FIRST CLASS BOARDING HOUSE.

To let for a term of years.—Possession given immediately.

THOSE extensive and commodious premises near the Mansion House Hotel, in Store Street, over the business place of the Subscribers, being now finished; presents an excellent opportunity for the opening of a respectable private BOARDING HOUSE. They are situated in one of the most central and elligible parts of the Town; contiguous to the Steam Boat Landings, and principal Hotels. The Building is as thoroughly fire proof as it is possible to make it, & consists of a Cellar Kitchen, large Dining Room three spacious elegant private Parlours, and twenty Bed Rooms.

The increasing business of the Metropolis, and the great inconvenience hitherto experienced for want of such accommodation, offer great advantages to such persons as are calculated to conduct an Establishment.

Application,—if by letter post-paid, may be made to
