WAR MAY DOOM CIVILIZATION

In a new book "The Air is Our Concern," just issued in Great Britain Prince Bibesco and a dozen other experts write on the promise—and threat — air development holds for the Motherland. "Either aviation will kill war, or the war from the air will kill civilization." declares the Prince. The trouble, which peace-loving peoples must have constantly in mind, is that so many of the war-minded people are ready and willing to back up the warrior class in promoting the belief that there must be one more great conflict to satisfy the world — a war to prove the efficacy or futility of the new and increasingly destructive agencies as means of settling international disputes, before the enemy class will be satisfied. We were told this before the last great war was entered on. Then it was the submarine and the increasingly powerful explosives that were the deciding agencies, and very many people, who had no faith in mutual bloodletting and wholesale destruction of life and property as a means of settling international differences laid "the flattering unction to their souls." that perhaps they could find excuse for the carnage because, after all, their side was really warring to end war. And so they fought on to reach victory and peace—perfect peace.

There were many who hoped that for once the triumphant nations would really profit. We have all long since learned, however, that the winner, as well as the loser, profits not by these destructive conflicts and that the civilized world has suffered from the confict and will no doubt continue to suffer in "mind, body and estate." Surely we do not require another big war to prove the futility of these destructive outbreaks and to try out the new terrors of the air the avowed intentions of the inventors being to blot out whole communities of inoffensive combatants, as well as to lay low contending armies at a whack. But the nations are all busily preparing for just such terrifying encounters and, unless the present attempt to prevent it, the high offices of the League of Nations succeeds, we shall see one of the leading countries of Europe turning these new engines of war on Ethiopia, the first Christian nation in Africa, whose territory is coveted by its contemplated conqueror.

It is apparent that many people have wandered far from the paths of peace and that the Golden Rule continues to be ignored.

Parasites of Poultry

Lice and mites are otfen the cause of poor egg production during hot weather. Body lice can be controlled by the use of blue ointment applied beneath the wings and around the vent. Mites feeding off the bird at night, and living in cracks and crevices during the day, have to be treated difefrenty. Ordinarly coal-oil will kill the mites, but as it evaporates quickly the effects are not lasting. An excellent "paint" to apply to the roosts and nest boxes is composed of one part crude carbolic or, possibly better still, nicotine sulphate, to three or four parts of coal-oil or a mixture of coal-oil and crank case oil.

FEVERSHAM

Mrs. Alvin Colpitts and three daughters, Misses Bernice, Lillian and Myrtle of Fort William visited with the former's cousin, Mrs. W. J. Conn and family near here recently. NOTICE

It has been brought to the notice of the board of Trustees of the cemetery of the United Church in Feversham that some parties who are known have undermined the corner post of the cemetery fence by digging out gravel and have loosened the post so that the fence at that corner of the road may fall down and leave the cemetery exposed to animals. The trustee board decided to ask the said parties who dug away the gravel to fill up the hole before they have to take action by law against them.

—By order of the Trustee Board

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Fenwick, Eugenia, Ont., wish to announce the engagement of ther daughter, Delmer Marie to Harold, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cook, 425 7th St. East Owen Sound. The marriage to take place the latter part of August.

Postmaster Not Yet Appointed

Saturday evening rumours were current about town that the postmaster for Flesherton had at last been decided and that Mr. George Banks of town had received the appointment. Mr. Banks has not received any notification of the appointment and had nothing to say about the rumour.

The position has been vacant since the first of January last, through the illness and subsequent death of the late W. W. Trimble, and Miss Gertrude Lever has been acting postmistress since that time. About a score of applications for the position were received by the Post Office Department, several of them being returned soldiers qualified for the position and the selection has been difficult to make. The position of a successor to the late Mr. Trimble is regarded as a real political plum and the appointment of a successor is awaited with eagerness by the public.

PRICEVILLE

All is in readiness for the big memorial service to be held Aug. 25th, Sunday afternoon at 2.30 p.m.. The Hon. Mr. Justice McFarland, a Markdale boy, Lt. Col. of the 147th overseas battalion, will deliver the chief address of the day, for further details see bills. The fine band heard on the 12th at Flesherton will be on hand to discourse even sweeter music.

The store of Mr. F. G. Karstedt is now a model of tidiness, including the fair young clerks. The new shelving has all been remodelled and pained by that master workman, Mr. Elmer Watson. Everything is in "ship shape order", no trouble to show goods. This is quite in keeping with the garden of the lady of the season, a flower of flowery beauty and I wish to bring to those who have an eye and an appreciative heart for the varying loveliness and beauty such as this is.

A large crowd was present and all spent a very enjoyable evening. A host of friends join in wishing this esteemed couple many years of happiness and prosperity.

Miss Doris Pedlar has been ill and under the doctor's care. We trust that she will soon be well again.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Croft visited recently with relatives at Holland Centre.

It Has Started

Even if we had no other means of telling, the mail box of the F. P. & E. can nowdays show by its contents that there is an election at hand. From some mysterious (?) source (s) every day comes prepared political propaganda from the majority of the parties now established in Canada. The funny part of it all is that (1) Writers are hired to write it, (2) stenographers are hired to type it, (3) men are hired to print or mimeograph it, (4) the machinery, ink, paper and postage is paid for and (5) the men whom it boosts expect to gain handsome salaries as a result —BUT, it is sweetly and serenly sent along to the weekly newspaper to publish FREE. Can you beat it? —Free Press and Economist.

PRODUCING NEW GUEEN BEES

A method of producing new queen bes is to place a full sheet of foundation, or a new tomb, in the centre of the broodnest of a desirable queen and to watch this comb daily. As soon as eggs are found in its brush the bees from the comb and place them in a colony that was made queenless and brodless an hour previously. Elleven or twelve days later ripe queen cells will be found on this comb. This method ensures that larvae of the right age are used and that the resultant queens are from good stock.

A local chap says the biggest family at Wasage Beach this summer is the Spooners. He says that up there at night you see some of them whereever you go.—Shelburne Economist.
