Duck Is Real Breeder

Another record has come to our notice this time in the duck family, that is worthy of a place in the firmament or unusual occurrence, This duck is owned by Mrs. Edward Loucks of the east backline, Artemesia and last spring laid 92 eggs in a great effort to keep the duck and drake population above par and to give hungry mortals enjoyment this fall, at Thanksgiving and other occasions. Imagining that her spring record was not enough this prolific duck started laying again and has several eggs to her credit. No doubt the cool weather of the past few weeks has bewildered her, causing her to imagine that spring was just in the offing.
