EDITORIAL NOTES

The whys and wherefores of some of the defeats at the recent election are still being discussed.

With the myraids of wild geese travelling south the past few days it must be that winter cannot be far behind.

* * *

Twins were born on a C. N. R. train while it was speeding between Washago and Richmond Hill. We wonder what place of birth will be inserted on the birth certificate?

* * *

World affairs are in a measure indentical with local politics. People allow one or two people in a town to do all the boosting and any hard work that is to be done. Britain has been carrying the brunt of the hard work at the peace conferences at the League of Nations meetings and it is foreign policy that has kept that League in existence. The nations today expect Great Britain to police the world.

The last three days of the past week was open season for partridge hunters and some were able to secure their alloted number. Black squirrel season was also in for one day and one hunter was able to enjoy a black squirrel dinner, which he stated was very appetizing.

Mr. Gordon Wauchope moved last week to apartments in Mrs. McDonald's residence, While on Monday Mr. Alex. McEachnie moved to Mrs. H. Paton's residence on Toronto Street.

A meeting was held at Owen Sound on Tuesday of last week when representatives of the Flesherton Board of Trade was invited to join the Owen Sound Board of Trade in discussion on the problem of attracting more of the tourist traffic to Grey County. While many were of the opinion that advertising should be carried out in the United States others believed that advertising throughout the province of Ontario would bring more business than from foreign tourist. great though that business is. Grey County has many natural advantages to attract tourist trade that many counties are unable to duplicate and it would be the height of wisdom to capitalize on the many attractions available. An organization has been formed to go into details on the formation of an association to attract the tourist

PRICEVILLE

The Mission Band of the United Church met at the home of Miss Lizzie Mather on Thanksgiving night where the young people, many not yet in their 'teens, gave a fine program of recitations. solos, duets and choruses very creditably.

The second of the union prayer meetings was held in St. Columba church on Wednesday night last. Hitherto the attendance has not been very inspiring. We all need the benefits of prayer, as also does the town and country as a whole.

Mr. Joe. Ferris, having recently sold his farm to the Messrs. Odell opposite, has bought the house in town, known as the late Mrs. Graham's.

Mr. J. C. Harrison hought the house owned by the late Mrs. McConkey, occupied by Rev. A. Sutherland, who has moved into part of the Manse. Mr. Jas. McDougall moved from there to the one vacated by Mr. Harrison.

The Anniversary services of the United Church proved very successful by way of attendance. Rev. Mercer of Holstein exchanged pulpits with Rev. J. W. Johnston for the occasion very acceptably. The choir, we are informed, did very creditably in four anthems. The special collection. taken in lieu of the usual fowl supper, has so far "panned out" well, with more on the way. The average attained during the last ten years will be surpassed, with all the work, waste and worry eliminated, "whatever that means!"

The Women's Institute will meet on Thursday afternoon, November 7, at 2.30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. J. P. McMillan. All ladies are cordially invited to attend.

MAXWELL

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kerton on the birth of twin daughters, born on October 24th.

Miss Ayers is visiting with Mrs. Angus Morrison.

Mr. Walter Saigeon of Sask. is visiting in this locality and renewing old friendships.

The play and dance under the auspices of the library board was well attended and was a very enjoyable affair.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. William Kerton, twin girls. Congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Grummett and daughter, Noreen visited with Mrs. John Arnott on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Duckett and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Binnington spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Atkinson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. William O'Brien from the West are visiting here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Metcalfe and Mr. and Mrs. William Spilker of Shelburne spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Binnington.

We are very glad to report that Mrs. John Robertson has returned home from Toronto Hospital and is feeling much improved in health.

Miss Ethel Wright of Toronto visited with her cousin, Mrs. E. Buckingham last week.

Miss Merlie Buckingham of Toronto and Miss Shirley Buckingham of Holstein vistied the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Buckingham.

W are sorry to report that the teacher of Tryon school. Mr. Mackenzie, is on the sick list at present. We hope that he will soon be able to take up his duties again.

Another sign of the millenium we suppose, will be when you can believe everything you hear even when an election campaign is on.

The Late Harold Ellis

The funeral of the late Harold E. Ellis whose sad death occurred in the Blind River Hospital on October 8th was held on Friday afternoon, October 11th. Service was conducted at his late residence, Trowbridge Street, Meaford by Rev. Sidney Martin Pastor of Trinity United Church, assitsed by Rev. J. S. Veales of Severn, formerly of Kimberley.

The late Mr. Ellis was a son of Mr. W. T. Ellis and late Mrs. Ellis of Kimberley, where he was born 42 years ago. His wife and son, Kenneth mourn the loss of a loving husband and father. Besides them are his father, two sisters. Mrs. R. Chard and Mrs. Les. McMullen of Kimberley, also four brothers, Victor of Owen Sound, Stuart. attending Pharmacy in Toronto, Russel and Elmer of Kimberley.

Among the many in attendance at the services were: representatives of Toronto Stock Yards, Gladstone Hotel Toronto and Messrs. Dunn and Levac, and Shields and other firms, Mr. and Mrs. George Stuart, Mr. Henry Ellis and son Mervin and Mr. Ross Ellis of Pawasson, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Stuart, Burks Balls, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stuart, Kingston, Mrs. Mowat and daughter of Campbellford. Mr. Fred Stuart of Bracebridge, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Knalt of Toronto, also a great uncle, Mr. Thos. Fawcett and Mr. and Mrs. Musenheimer, Parry Sound. Many friends from Owen Sound, Thornbury, Kimberley and Markdale and other localities were present.

The many beautiful floral tokens of condolence included those from wife and son. Ellis brothers and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Knott, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Knott, Mr. and Mrs. J. A Stuart and family, Mr and Mrs. Don Butchard, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Stuart, Miss Selina and Joy Ellis, Mrs. Wilbert Artley, Mr. and Mrs. McLean, Blind River. Dunn & Levack and Shields, Toronto, Ryan Brothers, at Gladstone Hotel, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. McGlenning, Mitchell, Owen Sound Transportation Co., Mr. and Mrs. Leslie. Sault St. Marie, Mr. E. E. Stanford, New Liskeard, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, New Liskeard, Lottie Stuart, Sudbury, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Toronto, Section 20 Shoe Dept. of T. Eaton Co. Toronto, Dr. and Mrs. Hamill and Dr. Frank Hamill, Blind River. N. Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Cassels.

An Aberdonian returned home after a week's holiday in London. His friends in the local hostelry asked him how he had enjoyed himself, and what he thought of the Londoners.

"Och!" he said, "they're decent enough chaps, but they've little imagination. One afternoon I went into one of those non-stop revues at half-past one, and at half-past eleven I'd seen the same show five times over."

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

For 50 years. Martha Southwell, who died the other day in Romsey Institution, London, at the age of 88, used the lid of what had once been her coffin as an ironing board. She was certified dead after an illness when she was a young woman, placed in a coffin, and the lid lifted on. While she was being carried to the mortuary she recovered consciousness and knocked on the coffin so violently the bearers dropped it in terror. It broke as it fell. Martha stepped out of the wreckage and ran back to bed in her shroud. She resumed her work in the institution as if nothing unusual had happened. The lid of her coffin came in handy as an ironing board. She used it 'till the day she died in the home where she had been born.—Goderich Star.
