How Come Fashions?

Feminine fashions are so often referred to that the following notes regarding the more prosiac apparel of men may be of interest. To be high-hat once conveyed the sense of extreme radicalism. Contrary to general belief the top hat is a democratic and even proletarian garment, while many of the humbler articles of masculine attire are of aristrocratic lineage. The bow on the left hand side of the felt hat, for example, is a relic of the buckle that used to secure the waving plume of the highorn Cavalier, while the walking-stick is probably a substitute for the sword which it displaced after the age of chivalry. The golfer's plus fours back to the leg-wear of the Guards, whose trousers turn down four inches at the knee. The cravat was originally a scarf. The word is from the French cravate, a corruption of Croat. This was the name given by the French of Louis XIV's time to the scarfs worn by the Croation soldiers in the royal regiment. The modern dress coat originated with the aristocratic Beau Brummell who is credited with establishing the idea of a uniform type of dress for men. In contrast to all this aristocracy, the humble silk hat is the modern counterpart of the high-crowned headgear of the French Revolutionaries

USED CALF AS HEATER

Kitchener, Ont.—The heater ran away from the horse and sled, and the doctor had to sprint 100 yards after it down a snow-covered road. The heater was a young calf, which a farmer had taken along to provide warmth for the doctor on a long drive to where one of the farmer's family lay ill.

MALE OR FEMALE?

—The average person, on reaching the age of 70, has spent 23 years in bed, another 23 in pleasure, 6 years in eating, nearly 2 years in washing and some 13 years in talking. But we all know people who are not "average." Some of them, indeed, seem at times to have talked continuously for 13 years.

The provincial income tax bill got its first reading on the opening day of the Ontario Legislature. Income tax extraction is like pulling teeth, and as the Government is not using an anaesthetic, the idea is to get it over quickly.

PRICEVILLE

T. L. RAWSON, 94, OLD-TIMER OF WEST, IS BURIED

Mr. Donald Campbell received word that his cousin, Mr. T. L. Rawson had passed away.

The funeral of Thomas Linton Rawson, who died Monday at the home of his son, Thomas Linton, Jr., Ochre River, Man., was held Wednesday at that town. Mr. Rawson's parents, John Rawson and Esther Linton, came from Yorkshire to Canada in 1811 and settled at "Muddy York," now Toronto. Born at Claremont, Ont., Aug., 1843, Mr. Rawson was the third youngest of a family of twelve children, eight girls and four boys.

When Mr. Rawson was still a child the family moved to Walkerton, Bruce county, Ontario, and there he spent his youth and received his education. He was well known as an athlete. Married in 1870 to Mary Buil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Buil of Priceville, Ont., he took up residence at Priceville and remained there until 1893.

In that year he brought his family to Manitoba and took a homestead in the Grandview district, where he farmed until after his wife's death in 1918. Since then he had lived with his youngest son near Ochre River. He was a Conservative in politics.

Besides his son, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. E. Stevenson, Kelvington, Sask., two other sons, William J., Brandon; George A., Flin Flon; and 26 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.
