New Road Foreman

Mr. Norman Stoddart of town has received the appointment of road foreman on this section of the County highways system, succeeding the late G. E. Henry. His beat is from Flesherton to Singhampton and from Maple Valley through Badjeros to the town line. He also has charge of the road from the gravel into Feversham. His new duties commenced on Monday of this week.

Returned Home

Mr. Jas. Robertson arrived home on Saturday after spending the past few months in Toronto. Mrs. Robertson expects to arrive shortly. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson enjoyed a cruise through the British West Indies and were as far south as Trinidad. The change from the warm tropical climate to that which we enjoy at the present time, Mr. Robertson said is almost too much to bear.

Some folk are curious as to the origin of the $15,000 Hon. Duncan Marshall paid for a prize Scottish bull. Perhaps Santa Claus did it.

Osprey Sub-Overseers Appointed For Year

The Osprey Municipal Council met according to adjournment in Singhampton on Saturday, March 21st. All the members were present in the best of health and, apparently, in the best of spirits, as all had in memory the long session of a year ago, the meeting was called at 10 a.m. A number of ratepayers were present for various reasons, some to get old accounts straightened out, some to pay current taxes, etc., which meant that the treasurer took with him nearly $350 to tuck away in the treasury. ## MYLES — HAMMOND

A pretty wedding was solemnized quietly in Toronto on Saturday, March 28th when Millicent Hazel, eldest daughter of Mrs. Hammond and the late Hugh R. Hammond (formerly of Kimberley, Ont.) became the bride of Edward Currie (Ted), only son of Mrs. Myles and the late Albert E. Myles, Kimberley. Rev. Peter Cameron, uncle of the groom, officiated.

The bride, who was unattended, wore a powder blue crepe dress with accessories to match. A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Ossington Avenue, for about thirty immediate friends and relatives. Later the bride and groom left for a motor trip to the States and on their return the young couple will reside in Heathcote, Ont.

Forty Years Membership

Mr. W. Caesar, C.P.R. agent, recently received a welcome certificate which makes him a paid up member of the telegraphers' union for the balance of his life. Mr. Caesar has been 40 years in this union, having been one of the charter members when it was organized in 1896. His original membership crtificate bears the number 37. He was agent at Proton at the time and when his membership in the union was solicited he did not besitate and paid the initial fee. Every year since 1896 he had paid the yearly fee and now that 40 years have passed by he is relieved of further payment of fees. From Proton Mr. Caesar was transferred to Elmira and from there to Flesherton. When the Toronto and Sudbury branch of the C.P.R. was opened he was given the position of agent here in 1908. ## Heated Debates Feature In House

Two major rows were staged in the House this week. In view of conditions it seems a repetition of "fiddling while Rome burns." The worst storm blew up over a resolution introduced by Mr. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, by which he proposes to advance $6,500,000 to wheat growers in western Canada who received less than 60 cents a bushel in 1930. The Government, however, holds the wheat as collateral. A much smaller amount ($200,000) is to be paid to producers of oats as compensation.

Mr. Gardiner, who until his appointment to the Cabinet, was Prime Minister of Saskatchewan, roused the ire of Mr. Bennett by suggesting irregular practice regarding the Order in Council dealing with the sums of money to be paid to producers. Apparently Mr. Gardiner has been used to havng the argument pretty much his own way, but in the leader of the Opposition he met an antagonist worthy of his steel. The chief encounter took place between these two with Arthur Slaght and Gordon Ross becoming involved.

The Bennett Government had taken steps to deal with the matter of money payment to wheat producers last October before the election and had reached an agreement with the wheat marketing organizations regarding the details, but had never got to the point of paying the money over although the promise of payment figured in the election campaign.

Mr. Gardiner, in opening the discussion, told of the Order in Council which was put through by the Bennett Government and made a list of some additional notes written in to the document, and, according to Mr. Bennett, insinuated that the words written in had been added after His Excellency the Governor-General had signed the Order. It was this stressing of the addition to the document which infuriated Mr. Bennett and resulted in a head-on verbal collision of Mr. Bennett and Mr. Gardiner. As Charles Bishop in the Citizen said: "It was an entertaining matinee. . . . Mr. Bennett may not have much help by himself he is capable of staging a big show. He seems disposed to do it, letting pass few occasions to demonstrate both his capacity and his inclination."

Leaders in the heat of debate sometimes use phrases which they would like to recall, but once said, they stand "Not a five cent piece" was a break which caused the loss of many votes and possibly seats to Mr. King in 1930. Mr. Bennett's statements "Canada will not be a wet-nurse to derelicts" and "Canadians are being purified in the firse of adversity" undoubtedly did not help him in the election of last fall. In the heat of the debate with Mr. Gardiner Mr. Bennett made another break when he told that Hon. gentleman that he need not think for a moment that he was dealing with some "poor rural rustic in Saskathchewan."

A little later in the debate the phrase re-occurred.

Mr. Bennett: "Exactly. There is no reason why the Hon. gentleman opposite should talk to himself. If he desires to insult me let him make himself heard."

Mr. Ross (Moose Jaw): "Is the Hon. gentleman referring to me?"

Mr. Bennett: "Yes."

Mr. Ross: "I was first insulted by the Hon. gentleman in this House. I happen to be one of the poor rustics from rural Saskatchewan."

Some hon. members: "Sit down."

Mr. Ross: "—and while I am on my feet I would say that if we had more of them in this House we would get the business through a lot faster than having a bunch of lawyers splitting hairs all afternoon."

Mr. Bennett: "The hon. member for Moose Jaw has said he is a poor rural rustic; there is no reason why he should prove it. Now—"

Mr. Ross: "As I understand it, the Hon. gentleman has used that word as a term of contempt. If so, I accept it as such."

Mr. Dunning: "He says, if it is a term of contempt he accepts it."

Mr. Bennett: "The hon. gentleman is a better judge of that than I am."

Nor will this be the last of the unhappy phrase.

Unemployment continues to be an insolvable Canadian problem. The new Minister of Labor, Norman McL. Rogers, has most difficult work in attempting to deal constructively with so complex and baffling a matter. He has given notice of a bill soon to be introduced, which will enable a commission to be established to coordinate all relief efforts and promote efficiency and economy. Land settlement schemes are again to be tried, to take unemployed from the cities and put them on the farms. (For how long?)

Under the bill the government will have the power to negotiate direct relief agreements with the Provinces, continuing or extending the monthly payments now in force; to initiate
