STATESMANSHIP?

According to the Globe the status of F. R. Oliver, member for South Grey in the Legislature, has been worrying one of the Toronto Conservative members, W. A. Baird. He wished to know if Mr. Oliver was "the last survivor of the once great U.F.O. party, or whether he has definitely aligned himself with the Hepburn government?" Mr. Oliver's answer was to the point and crushing. He referred Mr. Baird to a plan of the House for the answer to his query. Mr. Oliver had been eulogizing Mr. Hepburn as "the best bet in that office that this province has had in many years." From the reply it is permissible, in the immortal words of a radio broadcaster, to "figure it out for yourself."

We refer to ths matter simply to draw attention of the public to the flood ow drivel that is being palmed off on Ontario as an evidence of statesmanship.

It has been suggested by someone that a Hansard of the Ontario Legislature, after the style of the Federal House, would be a big improvement by proving to the electorate the importance of Ontario affairs by placing on record some of the remarkable forensic efforts put forth by the various members to show that the other fellows are all rogues and rascals, unworthy of a place in the Council of our nineth part of a nation. Some of the people of our nine provinces are fully persuaded that many of their representatives are only the nineth part of a statesman. Should the cost of a Hansard be added to the rest of our legislative cost they would be sure of it. It might, however, be a good thing in providing a means to allow the electorate to see the futility of providing the huge sums necessary to keep up our provincial Legislatures and an argument in favor of legislating our Legislatures out of existence by a change in the B. N. A. Act!

EDITORIAL NOTES

Did you get fooled this morning, gentle reader? It is your day!

Rev. Dr. Shields, the combative Toronto preacher, in a war of words with Mayor McBride, denounces His Worship as an enigma! As long as he does not call the doughty Chief Magistrate a parallelogram he will not be entirely squelched.

The Globe suggests that Mussolini and Hitler take time off and go fishing, as President Roosevelt has done. It says "there's nothing equal to a day's angling as a soother of hasty tempers." Before endorsing this declaration we would like to ask the Globe editor if he ever went fishing on a day when the pesky fish absolutely refused to bite.

The Owen Sound Sun-Times the past week printed pictures of a small syrup-making outfit in Sydenham, where the proud owner is shown in his 100-tree sugar bush. Pooh! Pooh! Send your photographer down to Flesherton, Sunny boy. In this district we grow sugar bushes with 3,000 trees. Come and get pictures of a real outfit, as these small developments are only of passing interest to Sun-Times readers down here.

"Freedom and bread" is the question which was decided in Sunday's vote in Germany. Of course everybody wanted these two necessaries of life. From what do they want freedom? Probably it is freedom from criticism for tearing up their own solemnly signed treaties. As for bread, they have quite as much as the rest of us and ought to be satisfied with that. The whole thing is only a roaring farce, and "roaring" is the only word that describes it.

The employees of the Ontario Government are assuming some functions hitherto deemed out of their line. Recently we had the Minister of Agriculture going specially to Scotland to find a bull for the farm at Guelph, and now it is announced that even more romantic mating is contemplated by the Minister of Lands and Forests. He is overseeing the honeymooning of the peahen in London's zoo, who is to be taken to Rondeau Park, on Lake Erie, where the Provincial Government will supply the peacock. The Deputy Minister has undertaken to see that half the anticipated brood are returned with their mother to the London zoo. What next?

The Late E. Pallister

Just as the dawn was breaking on February 20th, 1936 the late Edmund Pallister received the Divine call to come up higher and receive the Mansion prepared for him. No one would suggest that life was ebbing swiftly away, as he was talking intelligibly to the end. He just inclined a little backward on his pillow as though lapsing into a quiet slumber and passed peacefully away with his head resting between his wife's hands.

He was the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Pallister and was sixty-four years of age, on the 14th day of January. He was born on a farm on the 12th line, Osprey, a short distance east of Rob Roy.

He assisted with the chores up till the last day, and succumbed to ailment, chronic bronchitis.

He leaves a widow to mourn his irreparable loss, whose maiden name was Miss Katie McQueen; four brothers and three sisters also survive: viz. Robert and Thornton in Sask. Levi near Durham and Andrew near Maxwell. Carrie, Mrs. E. Moore in Sask. Minnie, Mrs. Allen McLean, Feversham, Sarah, Mrs. Andrew Morrison, Maxwell.

He united with Maxwell Methodist Church in the year 1903 and kept his faith till the last. He was an active member and supporter of that church. Always on the side of peace and always made home happy. His nearest neighbors, when they viewed him in his casket, showered beautiful expressions of love and sympathy over him, all admitting their loss of a beloved and devoted neighbor.

For a number of years he specialized in the raising of heavy draft and coach horses.

Being of an artistic nature he delighted in the culture of trees, shrubs and flowers. A particular farmer and good agriculturist he left a farm practically free from noxious weeds and in a highly fertile state.

His pastor, Rev. Mr. Bushell of Maxwell preached a sermon which was exemplary to those present and appropriate to the deceased. Two hymns were sung: "Jesus Lover of My Soul," and "Abide with Me".

Mr. James Long, funeral director was in charge. Interment was made in Maxwell United Church Cemetery. A beautiful tomb site selected by his nephew, Mr. George Morrison and C. Long.

The pallbearers were: Messrs. Joseph Wright, Charlie Long, Wm. and Keith Robertson, George Morrison and Sandy McQueen.—Cont.

Heated Debates

programs of public works, and to make agreements with companies, partnerships or individuals, relating to the expansion of industrial employment. Arrangements with private companies must, however, be sanctioned by Parliament. Instead of the "blank cheque," the specific sums of money will be voted in the suplementary estimates to cover relief costs. The new Act will expire March 31st, 1937.

The European situation gave rise to questions by Mr. Bennett and Mr. Woodsworth on the Orders of the Day. Mr. King in reply quoted from a statement made by Mr. Anthony Eden in the British House, in which he had thanked the members of that body for their forebearance in not asking questions and assured them that the work of negotiation had been assisted by their restraint. Mr. King asked the members of this House to take the same attitude, but pointed out that Canada was not a party to the Locarno agreement and that the present negotiations arise out of the Locarno agreement.

Mr. Woodsworth said he appreciated the statement of the Prime Minister, but asked "What is the attitude of Canada, or have we expressed an attitude either to Great Britain or to the League, with regard to what we consider the action of Germany might involve?" In reply to which the Prime Minister said: "That attitude of the Government is to do nothing itself, and if possible to prevent anything occurring which will precipitate one additional factor into the all important discussions which are now taking place in Europe. I believe that Canada's first duty to the League and to the British Empire with respect to all the great issues that come up is, if possible, to keep this country united."

I have had another birthday, and what a birthday! No one could mind being a year older when the occasion brings such joy. Letters, wires and callers expressed good wishes all through the day. Mrs. Black crossed the corridor to present me with a beautiful corsage bouquet of orchids and lily of the valley, and a number of pictures of the flowers of the Yukon, on which she is an authority. Mr. Telford, member for North Grey, the "Old Guard" (Mr. Woodsworth, Heaps, McInnis) sent roses, and so many other friends expressed their good wishes with spring flowers that my office was like a lovely garden. It was a gala day, ending with a birthday dinner, cake and candles and all.

The importance of Mrs. Barrett's forthcoming visit cannot be overestimated; she is in no way the cooking teacher of the average type, she is intensely practical.

She is, first of all, a teacher of the culinary art, but she is also an entertainer whose showmanship has never been excelled. Mrs. Barrett makes kitchen drudgery disappear & inspires every last person in the audience to hurry home and try out some of the dishes they have seen prepared, as if by magic, on the stage before them.

THERE IS NEVER A DULL MOMENT IN ANY SCHOOL CONDUCTED BY MRS. BARRETT—FASCINATING, INSTRUCTIVE, ENTERTAINING — AND IT'S ABSOLUTELY FREE.
