On spending a couple of days in Flesherton and looking around over the different places where we boys played our pranks in the old days when as a boy I lived in Flesherton for 3 years and attended school in the winter and worked with a resident of the village at his framing trade, Alf. Malloy by name but on enquiry we could only get track of about 15 or 20 of our school mates out of about 50 or 60 pupils, when Monsieur Drimmie wielded the birch, but few are left to greet me and few are left to know, that played with us upon the green just sixty years ago. Of the remaining ones, outside of the neighborhood we recall a number, we are told and know, who have passed over. There was Dave Wright, Rob. Trimble, Andy Sharp, John Davis, Jack Richardson, Jim Clark and a number more of both boys and girls at that time who have gone to the great beyond and the same may be said of some more soon.
