MITCHELL—HUNTER

A lovely autumn wedding was solemnized last Saturday, afternoon in the Church of the Redeemer, Toronto, when Miss Madeline Patricia Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Hunter, became the bride of Mr. George Cecil Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell, Flesherton. The church was decorated with tall brass standards of white gladioli and a large bowl of white gladioli stood on the altar. Rev. Dr. R. A. Armstrong officiated, and Mr. Otto James played the wedding music.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, looked charming in a gown of ivory satin, the skirt shirred at the back forming a train, small tight jacket, and shirring at the front and the tops of the sleeves. She wore a coronet of orange blossoms held in place by a Carrickmacross head-dress from which fell a long shell pink tulle veil. Her flowers were a shower of bouvardia and roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Kathleen Hunter, Miss Mary Jane Halstead, Miss Norah Hunter and Miss Aileen Hunter, wearing period gowns of starched net over satin, two in coral pink and two in blue. Their dresses had little jackets and they wore tiny Elizabethan hats and carried colonial bouquets of deep purple asters and talisman roses. Little Miss Harriet Elizabeth Goldsborough, the groom's niece, was flower girl, dainty in a long frock of white point d'esprit with a wreath of pink roses in her hair, and carrying a nosegay of butterfly roses. Mr. Douglas Brown was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Mervyn Johnston, Mr. Neil Campbell, Mr. Arthur Fitzgerald and Mr. Ross Munro.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Walmer Rd. Mrs. Hunter was gowned in sapphire blue velvet with a turban and scarf of matching tulle, and carried a bouquet of talisman roses. The groom's mother chose a smart gown of purple velvet with a small French velvet hat to match, and carried Johanna Hill roses.

Later the bridal couple left for Chicago, the bride travelling in a suit of coronation blue with topcoat to match, small turban in two shades of blue, navy accessories, and a corsage of gardenias. On their return they will live on Castleview Ave.

Morgan expects to occupy the residence this winter. Mr. Edgar Betts has purchased the residence and property of his father-in-law, Mr. J. J. Truck Driver Had Fortunate Escape

T. Anderson of Hamilton miraculously escaped injury in a motor accident on Saturday morning at the outskirts of Flesherton on the Ceylon road when the large truck he was driving slipped off the side of the road. The truck was a tractor trailer and was carrying a load of 10 tons of steel for the King Paving Company. When the rear wheel of the trailer broke the edge of the road and slipped into the ditch the load shifted to one side and tipped the trailer, one large bundle of steel and two barrels loaded with wire broke through the side while the other bundle plowed into the right side of the cab, and against the instrument board, completely demolishing it. The driver was jammed against the wheel which was bent from the impact, but he was able to climb through the cab window. The frame of the tractor was bent and other damage sustained. It was estimated a couple of hundred dollars would make repairs.

Splendid Concert By Toronto Talent

A splendid concert was presented in the town hall, Flesherton on Friday evening, when Bob Wilson and Harry Binns of Toronto, with their troupe, delighted a filled hall with their mirth provoking humor and splendid songs. Bob Wilson was funny as usual with odd dress and jokes and Miss Jean Wilson, Scottish contralto, teamed well with him in everal numbers. Harry Binns and Miss Jessie Butt were repeatedly encored with their clever singing in duets and their work was decidedly high class. They have appeared in every city in Canada and the United States and are heard over Toronto radio stations each winter. Flesherton was indeed fortunate in having them here. Miss Lillian Butt was the pianist and the audience marvelled at her ability, when she played two pieces on the piano and sang a third at the same time. She also gave several fine readings.

Another person who captivated the audience was Miss Dorothy Merral with her piano acordeon which she played with a masterful touch that was a treat. She too, gave two especially fine readings. All the members of the troup were heartily applauded and gladly responded to the re-action of their audience. With such talent the two hour performance came to an end all too quickly. They will be welcomed by a capacity house if they ever return here. The concert was held under the auspices of Ceylon United Church.
