Mrs. R. J. Vause Dies After Lengthy Illness

Mrs. R. J. Vause of the west backline, Artemesia, passed away at her home on Friday of last week, after an extended illness of almost a year. She had undergone three operations in a Toronto hospital, but her condition did not improve and she was brought home on January 7th, gradually growing weaker.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon with service being held at the home, Rev. McKye, student minister on the Proton circuit, having charge, preaching a most comforting sermon. Interment was made in the McNeill Cemetery, Priceville.

The pallbearers were Messrs. C. Hindle, E. Best, A. Badgerow, W. Harrison, J. Harrison and W. Blackburn.

Friends from a distance who attended the funeral were Mrs. John Trudgeon Snr., Mrs. Neil Trudgeon and Mr. Frank Trudgeon of Dundalk, Mr. Will Trudgeon of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Ferris and family of Wareham, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Patton of Dundalk, Mr. and Mrs. John Vause and son of Stayner and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Turner of Laurel.

Among the beautiful floral offerings surrounding the casket were sprays from Flesherton High Sschool, United Church of Proton Station and the friends and neighbors.

The late Mrs. Vause was formerly Hannah Trudgeon and was born in Melancthon township, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Trudgeon, and was 44 years of age. She was married to Mr. R. J. Vause twenty years ago last June and to them were born three children Della and Ruby at home and Jimmie who died when an infant, who mourn the care of a loving mother and the husbad of a companion. She also leaves three brothers, Anthony of Willowvale, Sask., Thos. of Oregon and Sam whose address is unknown. Mrs. Vause was a member of Proton Station United Church.

Much sympathy is extended to the sorrowing husband and daughters in the great loss they have sustained.

The Poultry Market

Prices of poultry in the Canadian domestic market in 1936 were lower than in 1935. The poultry crop of 1935 was marketed by producers at prices which represented a substantial increase over those of the years immediately preceding. Subsequent developments proved that the farm selling prices of this poultry was too great in relation to the domestic or to the export market prices. This experience showed that there is a price limit for poultry, in comparison with the relative prices of other meats, beyond which the consumer will not give active support to the market.

There is every reason to expect a satisfactory movement of the 1936 poultry crop both in Canada and in export trade. This should have a strengthening influence on the situation during the marketing season of 1937, although an early return to the prices which prevailed in 1935 is not normally to be expected. The canning of poultry meats in Eastern Canada has increased considerably in recent years through the development of an export trade in this product.

Live Stock Report

(By Dunn & Levack)

Supplies of cattle were very light for Monday's market and prices held steady on cattle of good to choice quality, while other classes were slow and easier. The cow trade was active and strong. Choice heavy steers brought from $7.00 to $7.35, with the bulk of the good to choice selling from $6.50 to $7.00; fair to good from $5.50 to $6.25. In the butcher section choice steers and heifers brought from $4 to $4.50. Choice baby beeves sold at from $7 to $8, others at lower prices according to quality. Choice fat cows were in strong demand at from $4 to $4.25; fair to good $3.50 to $3.90; common and medium $2.75 to $3.25; canners and cutters $1.75 to $2.50. The bull trade was slow, choice heavy bulls making from $3.50 to $3.75, with an odd top of $4. Bologuas $3.50 to $3.75.

The lamb market was somewhat lower, top sales being made at $9.50 on Monday. Choice light sheep brought $5 to $5.50. The calf market was easier, because of a very limited demand for export. Choice calves brought from $9.75 to $10; fair to good from $8.75 to $9.50; common and medium $5.50 to $8.

The hog market was disappointing as prices were considerably lower on Monday, sales being made on the basis of from $8 to $9.10 for truck deliveries, with a dull outlook for the balance of the week.

A number from town attended the hockey game in Toronto on Saturday night.

Other Papers' Opinions

NOT BRITISH JUSTICE

(Alliston Herald)

We had another victim of the Farmers Creditors' Arrangement Act relate his experience. Some few years ago he sold a farm and was to receive the initial payment a few days after the purchaser occupied the premises. This payment did not materialize and the following March a small payment was made on interest. The next March another payment was made on interest and by this time interest arrears were considerable. Last year the man who sold the farm went to see the purchaser and pressed him hard for money with a prospect of getting about $400 provided the money was not side tracked after the produce had been sold. It did not come and just as another visit was about to be paid the defaulter notice was received to appear before the F. C. A. A. board on the sixth of March. The distracted man appeared and the case was adjourned. Every effort has been put forth to have the hearing resumed but as yet there has been no response to a score of requests. And the defaulter, who has not a five cent piece invested in the farm, and has paid very little interest, sits comfortably on another man's farm and the owner is unable to evict him. This is not British justice.

OUR FUNNY LAWS

(Durham Chronicle)

If a man, insane, runs amok and kills somebody, there is little chance of his being hanged so long as he remains insane. Should he, however, at some future time recover, he will be taken from the asylum, placed on trial for murder, and if proven guilty he will be executed.

There is something wrong here, in our opinion. If a person is really insane at the time a crime is committed, he is not responsible for his act, neither at the time it is committed nor at any future time he may recover his mental equilibrium. This, we believe, is the stand taken by most people who are not trained in matters legal and we believe it is a more sensible opinion than that adopted by the law.

Down in Kitchener the other day a woman was found to be insane, too mentally unbalanced to stand trial for the murder of her employer. She is to be confined in an asylum at the pleasure of the Lieutenant-governor-in-council. Should she at any time in the future be found in fit mental condition, according to the usual practice she will have to stand trial for murder.

The whole case to us hangs on whether or not she was insane at the time she committed the act. If so, while she should certainly have to stand trial, we do not think it should be on a murder charge.
