pare a bill on Canadian nationality which would amend and consolidate the laws of Canada relating to it, but was, he said, unable to proceed with the matter "For the reason that while the permanent officials of the various departments of government are intelligent and richly experienced in the administration of the departments, their minds are very obtuse, indeed, to the reception of new ideas which concern general public policy in matters only incidentally affecting their departments." Such frankness is most helpful, particularly from a man of Mr. Cahan's standing.

The difficult years, which we hope are behind us, have been a harvest for small loan companies, which arrange credit for people suffering from great financial stress. At least two of them have been before the House this session asking for changes in their charter. Both the House of Commons and the Senate have shown strong opposition to the rates charged. For instance, one company names a 2% rate per month, which sounds easy but actually runs about 27% a year. Families that come into the toils of such concerns must have the utmost difficulty in extricating themselves.

The Finance Minister, Mr. Dunning, asked that the bills be referred to the Banking and Commerce Committee and definitely promised that the Superintendent of Insurance will be asked to continue gathering all available material in connection with the problem of small loans and at the next session of Parliament the government will ask the House to consent to the appointment of a special committee, whose business it will be to study the whole need in this field

However, on second reading of Bill is the place to protest the principle, which a number of us did. I said I couldn't see how people who were unable to pay their debts without borrowing could pay them by borrowing from one of these companies and at the same time pay the additional moneys resulting from 27% interest. One of these companies had carried on a persistent lobby in favor of their bill and that I said always made me suspicious. If the act was as good as they claimed, it could rest on its own virtue. After a division the matter was referred to the committee.

Mrs. N. Marshall Dies

Mrs. Margaret Marshall, resident of Meaford for 50 years and previously to that time of 11th line St. Vincent where she was born and raised, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. F. Pedlar, Eugenia on Friday, March 12th, in her 84th year.

She had been an invalid for the past 10 years, and last April suffered a stroke from which she never fully recovered. The late Mrs. Marshall was one of a family of ten children, four dying in infancy, and a brother and sister surviving, Charles Hill of Thornbury and Miss Lydia Hill of Detroit predeceased her; Mrs. Geo. Galbraith, Owen Sound, Mrs. G. Mitchell of Thornbury and Mrs. Jno. McKnight, 4th line St. Vincent. She was a member of Trinity United Church, Meaford, and is survived by two daughters, Mrs. A. F. Pedlar, Eugenia and Miss Kathleen, Kingston, J. N. and M. H., Meaford. Her husband predeceased her two years ago, one son, Charles H. in 1908 and one daughter, Retta, 2 months ago.

Service was held Sunday at the home of her daughter and was conducted by Rev. Dean of Feversham. Rev. and Mrs. Dean sang very appropriately, "A moment in Heaven pays for it all." The remains were then taken to Meaford, service being held on Monday at the home of her son, J. N. Marshall with Rev. Baker in charge. Interment was made in Lakeview chapel,, Meaford.

The flowers were numerous, among them being a beautiful spray, the kindness of friends and neighbors of 8th line and Eugenia.

PROTON STATION

Mr. Alexander Stewart's household effects were moved from his home here which he sold to Mr. F. Hodgin. Mr. Stewart's many friends wish him health and happiness wherever he may go.

The Proton Station hockey team with their Dundalk helpers and Manager, Mr. Bert Sims and their treasurer, Mr. Lorne Hodgin, motored to Toronto on Saturday and attended the two games played in the Maple Leaf Gardens, which they greatly enjoyed.

The W. M. S. of the United Church, was held in the home of Mrs. Vause on March 17th. Mrs. Acheson took charge of the devotional period, Mrs. Dever read the chapter in the study book. As the date of the meeting chanced to be St. Patrick's Day, Miss Ruth Shearson read an interesting article on St. Patrick, the Patron Saint of Ireland. Mrs. Ed. Stinson presented the society with a nicely pieced quilt, which the members arranged to quilt for their bale at the April meeting.

Mr. Emmett Jackson is very busy with his buzz saw outfit. He is reported to be doing fast work.

Flesherton Won The Centre Grey Trophy

Playing wonderful hockey from the goal out, Flesherton defeated Chatsworth 5—4 in a torrid struggle on Markdale ice, Friday evening, winning the Centre Grey League trophy in two out of three games. Chatsworth took the first game at home 4—1 and Flesherton came back strong to win at home 5—3 and finished a fine season by taking the third. Play flashed from end to end in lightning plays that had the huge crowd in a lather of excitement and suspense from gong to gong. The game was fairly clean and four penalties handed out by referee Saunders, Durham, two to each team, Ed. McFarland and Patton in the first period, while Ed. McFarland and McCutcheon were given five minutes for ruffling each other's hair in a fist fight, when excitement was running high. From then on both teams collected themselves and stayed on the ice, keeping the game going at full speed.

Play commenced at a fast clip and within five minutes Smith skated in alone to beat Kirk and open the scoring; Ferris was forced to extend himself to keep out repeated charges and finally Chatsworth was rewarded with a goal scored on a ganging attack, the puck slipping in off Johnston's skates when Bill Patton suffered for his misdemeanor in the penalty box. Within three minutes after he came back, he put the locals ahead on a nice combination play from Boyd and Smith. Boyd scored another this period, but it was called back on an off-side.

Both teams scored two each in the second, the first by Boyd on a pass from Patton, followed by Bell from E. Woods. Smith again gave Flesh- a two goal lead when Johnston carried the rubber to the blue line, shot it over to Smith on right wing who made sure of his shot. Bell again brought Chatsworth in the running in a lone effort. This period was the best of the game as both goalies made remarkable saves. Chatsworth scored another one in this frame, but was ruled out when Ferris was interfered with in the crease. With play going at high speed and the players keyed to a high pitch McCutcheon and McFarland traded punches and were banished for five minutes.

Flesherton commenced more of a defensive game in the final frame and kept it up for half the period when Woods and Bell broke away, the former scoring, the puck slipping through Ferris' pads. This tied the game four all. Flesherton again went to town and McCutcheon won the game and the Championship when he drove a hot one from outside the blue line that caught Kirk asleep. From then on Chatsworth was kept in their own end of the rink by some fine backchecking by Boyd, Patton and Gorrel. Both teams were almost exhausted from the fast pace set, and while Chatsworth never stopped trying, they failed to re-organize themselves to cause any damage to the Flesherton hopes.

NOTES

Flesherton made one of the greatest fighting finishes ever seen in local hockey to win the centre Grey League title. Losing six of their first eight games played they defeated Durham and Markdale in the schedule to enter the play-downs. They defeated Shelburne 19—8 in two games, while Chatsworth in third place were polishing off Dundalk 8—7 on the round who had only lost one of their league games. Then they lost the first of the final series at Chatsworth and came back to win the next two. Both teams scored 11 goals in the series, but games won were to count. All honour to such a fighting gang who did not know what the word "quit" meant.

Besides coming from the bottom of the League race to win the coveted cup, Flesherton had a hostile crowd in Markdale to contend with.Dundalk district, Chatsworth (naturally), and half of Markdale were giving Chatsworth their vocal support. Why Dundalk did not give Flesherton at least a share of their support is not known, or worried about very much, but we should think they would give a game team credit for the splendid comebackthey made. It was a great disappointment for Dundalk to lose out in both "instances,"and we firmly believe that they felt Chatsworth's defeat worse than the latter themselves did, considering that Dundalk took both games from Flesherton in the schedule.

That was before Boyd joined the team and the boys had their passing working well. Six wins out of the last seven games played shows the calibre of the team, so it should be no astonishment for Dundalk to realize the bitter truth that the better team in the semi-finals and finals won the cup.

Determination to make up for the unfairness of last year,s play-off fiasco, gave the boys an added incentive to show Chatsworth who should have been cup holders last year. Both teams had practically the same players this year as last!
