SELECTING EGGS FOR HATCHING

The Department of Poultry Husbandry, O. A. C., Guelph, in Bulletin 379, "Farm Poultry," advise to "select eggs for size, shape and colour. In view of the weight standard for market eggs, it is wise to select eggs for hatching which are two ounces or better in weight. It is well to keep in mind that two-ounce pullet eggs are equal to a somewhat heavier egg from the same bird as a hen. Continuous selection, year after year, will give results. Do not select dirty eggs or handle eggs with soiled hands. The egg shell is porous, hence there is a possibility of contamination.

"Eggs deteriorate in hatching quality with age. When holding eggs for hatching, keep them in a cool place at about fifty to sixty degree Fahrenheit. The temperature should be uniform. Be sure that the place is clean and not musty. Eggs for hatching should be kept not longer than ten days, and the sooner the eggs are set after being laid, the better the hatch is likely to be."

AUCTION SALES

Mr. Henry Walton will hold an auction sale of farm stock and implements two miles south of Kimberley, on Thursday, April 8. Geo. Duncan, Auctioneer.

Mrs. Thos. Nichol will hold an auction sale of farm stock, implements, and furniture, etc., on Lot 25, Con. 1, N. D. R., Glenelg, one half mile west of Priceville on Friday, April 2, 1937. See bills for large list. George Duncan, Auctioneer.

KIMBERLEY

The pictures and concert given by the young people on Thursday night was real good; they played to a full house.

The W. I. met at the home of Mrs. R. Chard on Thursday afternoon. The officers have most of the quilt tickets sold. They expect to put on a social evening on April 16, when the lucky ticket will be drawn for the quilt.

We would like to know why it is that some collie dogs have been chasing deer along the mountains and through the valley. Two were chased on Thursday through Mr. W. Haines', Mr. Norman Burritt's fields. Mr. Stafford and several other farmers here are quite indignant over the matter. Could not something be done to protect these innocent animals?

A number of ladies and girls gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Graham and presented Miss Iola (soon a bride to be) with a kitchen shower, she got a splendid collection of useful and lovely gifts. All spent a pleasant evening with lunch. We extend our congratulations to the happy young bride and groom.

The W. I. has decided to hold June 3rd for their annual sports day this year.

Miss Marjory Proctor and Mr. Ross Atkins motored to Midland for Easter. Mrs. Proctor is with Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Proctor at Eugenia, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dillon and boys and Mrs. Jas. Lawrence to Oshawa with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor; Miss Tena Hutchinson and Miss Iola Graham are home here from their schools.

A wedding of interest to us all took place in Thornbury on Wednesday, when Miss Iola Press, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Press became the bride of Mr. Ken. Gilbert. After the wedding dinner at the bride's home, the young couple went to their home on the groom's farm near the village.

Miss Bessie Stafford and Mr. and Mrs. Dalton, Doris and Ronnie are enjoying Easter at the homes of their parents here.

Men's fashion makers predict that this spring men's business clothes will blossom out in bright reds and greens. They must expect there is to be a big painting campaign, with the business men on the working end of the brush, and a whale of a lot of spilled paint.

Dundalk Masons Gave Challenge For Hockey

The last hockey game of the season was fought out on Flesherton ice on Wednesday evening last when Dundalk Masonic Lodge challenged Prince Arthur Lodge to a hockey game. Plenty of excitement and fun for the large number of spectators just brought out groans from the players who were brought out of several years' retirement for the occasion. The game was clean throughout and only one penalty was handed out to a Dundalk player by Referee Reg. Boyd and one to Flesherton. It was the irony of fate that Dundalk's representative of law and order, Chief Murcar was the one to be given the gate, while Roy Piper was the victim for Flesherton, both on trips. These old fellows on both teams surprised the fans with their speed (oh, yeah) and stick handling ability. It was a very friendly game as the boys were not in any condition for heavy body-checking and the friendliness was shown when Murcar and Shier McTavish at one time had their arms draped around each other, to keep from falling. Roy Piper stated that at one time he had his skates fairly well trained to travel ahead, but in this affair they wanted to go backward. He blamed the trouble on the kates. Our old friend Geo. Hanbury gave splendid support to his Dundalk team mates, even though it was his first game of hockey. M. E. Harrington well known in Flesherton as a good curler, also proved that he knew which end of the stick was supposed to be used. The editors of the Dundalk and Flesherton papers had two strong clubs and made good use of them as leaning posts, while their wind returned after their strenuous rushes.

While the game was enjoyed by all the players the ordeal of the following days of attempting to loosen up creaking joints and muscles took all the joy out of the contest. Following the game the visitors were given a lunch at Curran's restaurant (advt.).

Flesherton — Goal J. Kennedy; defence, F. J. Thurston, G. McTavish; centre, J. Nuhn; l. w. C. McTavish; r. w. R. Smith; alt., R. Piper and L. Wauchope.

Oh, yes, we almost forgot to say that Dundalk won the game by the score of 9—5.
