Presentation

A large group of friends and neighbors met in Eugenia Hall recently in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Watt, (nee Ita Pedlar) married recently. The evening was spent in music and dancing, then near midnight the group was called to order and the following address was read by Mrs. Laurie Pedlar.

Dear Ita and Bert:

We have gathered here to-night as a community to extend to you our best wishes as you enter that great adventure of life, which lies before you. The spirit of jollity and happiness in which we find ourselves is marred only by regret that your home will not be with us. Truly, a couple possessing your sterling personal qualities is a boon to any community, but in our loss we console ouselves with the knowledge that your value in this respect will be appreciated wherever you go.

We wno have known you, Ita, so well, can truly appreciate Bert's good fortune in winning a bride whose attractive personality is a blessing, not only to a home, but to all who have the privilege of her acquaintance.

Since you have decided to face life together, we are confident that your mutual qualities of honor, love and loyalty will result in the fulfilment of our sincere wishes for your future success and happiness.

As a light token of our esteem, we ask you to accept this gate-leg table and radio-lamp, not for its material value, but for the sincere good wishes it signifies.

Signed on behalf of your friends:
Frank Betts
Laurie Pedlar
Laurie Betts

Mr. and Mrs. Watt thanked all in a few words, inviting all to visit them in their new home. Lunch was served, then, "on with the dance."

Feversham School Holds Commencement

The appreciative, capacity audience which greeted the Commencement of the Feversham Continuation School on Thursday evening, March 25, testified to the growing interest of the people throughout the district in these annual school entertainments.

Mr. Fred Hale, chairman of the School Board, made a very capable chairman for the program which was introduced by a number of choruses sung by the student body in white uniform dresses. This number was opened by singing "O Canada" in French, and concluded with the F. C. S. song and yell, a good introduction to a sparkling program of fine entertainment. Much applause greeted the performance of the Highland Fling, cleverly executed by five girls in costume. The wings of the stage were swung back, and nine girls with clubs gaily decorated with school colours, red, yellow and blue, presented an interesting variety of rythmic exercises. The boys smartly dressed in white duck trousers and white "terry-cloth" shirts, climaxed their demonstration of mat gymnastics and pyramid building with a dramatic "chair" pyramid built up to the ten foot ceiling and brilliantly illuminated with magnesium flares.

A summary of the play "Lena Rivers," in original verse recited by Norma Davidson introduced the following characters: Lena Rivers, Jean Bushell; Granny Nicholls, Bernice Hudson; John Livingstone, Ronald Springgay; John Junior, Murray Lepard; Caroline Livingstone, Beatrice Maxwell; Nancy Scovandyke, Ethel Fenwick; Joel Slocum, McCallum Stephen; Uncle Billy, Robert Fenwick.

The pianists for the evening were Misses Delmar Seeley and Jean Bushell, each of whom also rendered pleasing piano solos.

Graduation diplomas presented by Rev. Bushell to the graduates of last year, followed the valedictory address, excellently given by Miss Bernice Neil, at present an Upper School student in Collingwood Collegiate. The only graduates able to be present were the valedictorian and Mr. Lloyd Clifton, who is taking his Senior Matriculation at Flesherton High School. The address we quote in part: "At these gatherings we are reminded that life has two parts; first, the very happy days of pleasant association in school which for those of us who are graduates are gone forever, then the other part which is that of the coming days and years of life.

I would like to recall some of the memories of the past: We, the thoughtless pupils of the other days have done some thinking since our graduation. It has been in these moments of reflection that we have realized what good and sincere friends the teaching staff were to us. Their interest in us banished discouragement and helped to bring to us determination to conquer the difficult places. We pay tribute to them as conscientious teachers and loyal friends in our work and play, in both of which their co-operation has inspired us to higher ambitions."

Remember:

Not in the clamor of the crowded streets,
Not in the shouts and plaudits of the throng,
But in yourselves are triumph and defeat.

Before the singing of the National Anthem, which brought the enjoyable evening to a close, the chairman spoke in appreciation of the principal, Miss Evelyn Shouldice, and the assistant, Mr. Albert Armstrong, whose capable direction had contributed in no small way to the success of the Commencement.
