What Was The Net Profit

Ex-Councillor Alex. George, says the Walkerton Herald, who in addition to his coal and wood business, conducts a farm on the northern outskirts of Walkerton, has got rid of all his fat cattle, selling over $3,000 worth since the first of the year. The final load went out last Thursday and were sold to Mr. Brunt, cattle dealer at Hanover, who got the others, and which made a total of 45 head that he purchased from Mr. George this season. In addition to these, the Walkerton ex-alderman sold $650 worth of hogs. All the feed for the entire output of cattle and swine was raised on Mr. George's 100-acre farm, which proved so prolific that a considerable quantity of grain was left after the bovines had been finished on the place. Mr. George is authority for the statement that the farmer, whose stock is properly finished, is getting a good break on the markets this year. ,

Must Not Take Trout Less Than Seven Inches

A warning has been issued by the Ontario Department of Game and Fisheries against catching undersized trout.

"Various streams are being planted with yearlings just now, and reports have been received that they are being fished out as fast as they are distributed," the warning stated, "There is no desire to prosecute any one, but a close check-up will be made on all fishermen in these vicinities. Fines will be imposed upon anyone found in possession of trout under seven inches."

As a guard against catching yearlings which are about four to five inches when planted, it is recommended that all fishermen use nothing smaller than a No. 4 hook.

Etc. A sign used to make others believe you know more than you do.

BUCKINGHAM

We are glad to know that Mr. Wesley Fawcett is improving nicely after an attack of pneumonia.

A picnic to Sunset Point on Saturday last, sponsored by the ladies of the Community Club, was a very successful event. The weather was ideal for such an outing and over one hundred took the opportunity to journey down and spend the afternoon. The older people as well as the children seemed to thoroughly enjoy the different sports provided, until 6 o'clock, when all gathered at the tables to do justice to the lunch served by the ladies. The accommodation at this delightful recreation centre, and the courtesy of those in charge make it a very desirable place for such gatherings.
