On Wednesday evening a number of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Chas Moore to spend a pleasant evening with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Arnold (nee Margaret Moore). The evening was spent in games and dancing and before lunch was served, the following address was read and presentation made:

Dear Walt and Margaret:- We, your friends, have gathered on this happy occasion to extend to you our congratulations in view of your recent marriage. You, Margaret, have been brought up amongst us. Many of us are your former school mates, and though your work has taken you far from our neighborhood these last few years, we all took a kindly interest in your successful progress as a nurse, and were always glad to see you on your visits home.

To you, Walt, who is a stranger to most of us, we wish to express our pleasure at this opportunity of becoming acquainted with you; and although Margaret and you will make your home in a different country, we are glad that it is not so far away but that you both will be making frequent trips here, and we feel assured that the same mutual pleasure we have felt in the past will be felt in the future.

As a token of our good wishes, we ask you to accept this cabinet of silver and trust that, as you use the silverware, you will think of your old friends in this community, who sincerely wish for you both a long and prosperous married life.

Sgned on behalf of the community,
Ernie Stinson
Russel Linton
John Talbot

Live Stock Report

The cattle market opened slow on Monday, and prices were generally lower on all classes. Western shipments again composed the major part of the run, and the quality of these offerings were only of medium class, and slow of sale. Stockers and feeders were in limited demand. The completion of the present agreement between Canada and United States, permitting Canadian cattle to enter that country under lower prices, because of the immediate increase in the rate. Unless American markets advance their prices, it is unlikely that any recovery will be made on the local market. Some hope is expressed that the agreement would be extended, but nothing definite can be promised in this respect at present.

Choice heavy steers continued in good demand at from $9 to $9.50, but other grades were lower, ranging from $6.50 to $8.50 according to quality. All butcher cattle were quarter to a half lower, choice from $6.75 to $7; fair to good $5.75 to $6.50; common to medium $4 to $5.25. Baby beeves featured the cattle market, selling at a top of 11 cents, with the bulk of the sales of good to choice from $9 to $10.50 Selected stockers sold at $4.75 to $5.25, and feeders of heavier weights $5.75 to $6; other stockers of medium to good quality sold at $4 to $4.50; common to medium $3 to $3.75. Choice fat cows ranged from $4.75 to $5; common to medium $3 to $3.50; canners and cutters $2.25 to $2.75. Choice bulls $4 to $4.50, bolognas $3 to $3.50.

Choice lambs sold at $9 and bucks at $8. Best light sheep $3 to $4. Choice calves were in strong demand at $9.50 to $10; fair to good $8 to $9; common to medium $5.50 to $7.

The hog market was lower, owing to heavy supplies and lower reports from American markets. Monday's market closed weak at $11 for truck deliveries.
