Canada Is Adopting New Marketing Policy Abroad

Agricultural Commissioner In London to Exercise Close Supervision; Production Improvement Planned.

The Federal Department of Agriculture will appoint an Agricultural Commissioner in London "to direct the services of those following our commodities and report back to producers from the United Kingdom, Ireland and Europe," Agriculture Minister Gardiner told the Canadian Chamber of Agriculture at Ottawa last week.

"This official will also provide the department continuously with information regarding agricultural development in those countries," the Minister said in a speech reviewing the department's policy in relation to the United Kingdom market.

To Maintain High Standard

Production improvement and maintenance of the standard of Canadian agricultural products will be the basis of the department's marketing policy, Mr. Gardiner said.

He said the department has given careful consideration to the recommendations of the report on the United Kingdom market prepared by A. M. Shaw, director of marketing and had decided on its market policy.

"Under that policy the department proposes to see that Canada sets her house in order by co-operating with Provincial departments to have production improved and developed in most favorable locations," he said.

Suitable Products Only

The Minister said the department would try to ensure that no merchandise "unsuitable to that market be exported to the United Kingdom and that what is exported be improved in quality, packaging and labelling."

"The department proposed to co-operate with producers, exporters, brokers and the trade in the United Kingdom in maintaining the standard of Canadian agricultural products in conformity with grades packaging and labelling provided by Canadian regulations until the product reaches the consumer.

"It is also proposed to co-operate with and assist all Government, producer and merchandising agencies in placing Canadian foodstuffs effectively before the British housewife."

A National "Mark"

Mr. Gardiner said the only proper basis on which the main policies could be carried out was by emphasizing the consistently high quality of Canadian products.

"Publicity for an inferior article is not only worth nothing but is definitely harmful to all good products," he said.

To maintain high quality, Mr. Gardiner advocated adoption of a national mark for Canada's high grade products shipped to the United Kingdom.

The mark would be compulsory on specified products provided they attain the requisite standards and where it is not compulsory it would be accorded only to producers under license.

Midget Engine Conveys Honor Key To Rail Chief

A SPECIAL railway line was set up by the Halifax Board of Trade recently by which Mayor Walter Mitchell presented a golden key to the City of Halifax to S. J. Hungerford, Chairman and President, Canadian National Railways, and President of Trans-Canada Air Lines. The occasion was the annual banquet of the Halifax Board of Trade, at which Mr. Hungerford was guest speaker. The track was laid along the head table and Mayor Mitchell, after making the presentation speech, placed the key on the tender of a miniature Canadian National locomotive which conveyed it along the rail and stopped in front of Mr. Hungerford. The picture shows the President of the National System receiving the key. Among those present at the inauguration of this unique rail service were Hon. Robert Irwin, Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, Premier Angus L. Macdonald and Frank K. Warren, President of the Board of Trade, who presided.

Go Without Sleep 100 Solid Hours

Co-eds and Young Men End University of Georgia Test "In Good State of Health"

Six University of Georgia psychology students who gave up sleep for 100 hours in the cause of science were pronounced "in a good state of health" at the end of their ordeal.

The four co-eds and two young men showed little effect outwardly from the experiment conducted to determine the action of sleeplessness on body and mind.

Results For Science

As the non-sleepers yawned about him, Dr. A. S. Edwards, head of the university psychology department and director of the experiment, termed the test a success, adding that he hoped it would "show results first for science and then furnish practical applications."

Observers Watched Them

The subjects went through their regular routines of classes, meals, exercise and, in some cases, dates. Student observers kept vigil at all hours, prodding the subjects awake when necessary. Bridge sessions, walks and talks helped occupy the nights.

Tests were made of reactions, steadiness, color perception, grip, typing, memory, temperance and visual ability.

Hours Before Dawn Worst

Miss Wallace and Miss Jimmerson agreed that it was hardest to stay awake on the second night and that the hours just before dawn every day were difficult.

Newman said that the long loss of sleep, "while naturally stalling the mental and physical reactions," produced no outstanding detriment to his body. "For instance," he added, "my grip on the gripping devices grew stronger as the experiment continued."

The six professed willingness to undergo another no-sleep test if the results "would help science."

Another test is proposed, Dr. Edwards announced, to compare the reactions of non-sleepers and those of persons with normal amounts of sleep.

DO YOU FEEL SLUGGISH?
Maybe you need more bile

When you feel you haven't a friend in the world and life is not worth a red cent—that's the time your liver is getting you down. Don't fall for it. Make your liver behave.

Tanol Tablets will do the job. They act directly on the liver, stimulating the liver's production of bile. Comprising a special blend of certain laxatives, Tanol Tablets include a small proportion of calomel, probably the most effective liver stimulant known. In a day or two your liver is at work again as well as ever and you feel at friends with the wide, wide world. All druggists have Tanol Tablets, 50c. (C)

HAVE YOU HEARD

Our idea of a perfect home is one where clothes flop on the line on Monday and the kitchen is filled with the scent of baking things on Saturday. Money can no more make a home than it can make happiness.

This appears to have a double meaning:

Doctor—"How's your cold, Mr. Miller?"

Mr. Miller—"It's very stubborn, Doctor."

Doctor—"How's your wife?"

Mr. Miller—"She's about the same."

The big potatoes get to the top of the heap, but they wouldn't be there if it weren't for the little fellows at the bottom.

And speaking of farmers, a tiller of the soil was in Saturday to remark that "lawyers' mistakes are in jail, the doctors' are in the cemetery, but the school teachers' mistakes grow up to be members of the school board."

Mrs. Halfacre—"Your husband is always complaining that he leads a dog's life."

Mrs. Wholesome—"Well, he comes home with muddy feet, makes himself comfortable in the best chair, waits until he is fed and then growls."

Read It Or Not:—The star nearest to the earth is 22,000,000 miles away.

Here is a gentle hint gleaned from Pathfinder:

Blowfoot (after midnight) — "Did you know that I can imitate any bird that you can name?"

Miss Zimptr—"Indeed! Suppose you start with the homing pigeon."

Never judge a person by his outside appearance. A shabby old coat may enwrap a newspaper publisher while a man wearing fine clothes and sporting a gold-headed cane may be a delinquent subscriber.

Canadian National Railways Revenues

The gross revenues of the all-inclusive Canadian National Railways System for the 10-day period ending January 31, 1938, were $4,877,154, as compared with $4,583,396, for the corresponding period of 1937, a decrease of $206,242.

USE PIDARD

New and remarkable remedy for heaves. Satisfaction is guaranteed regardless of the severity or length of time your horse has suffered from this disease. By mail $1.00. Chs. Eug. Girard, Ste. Dorothée, Laval, Quebec.

Ontario Car Accidents Double In Six Years

TORONTO.—H. G. Fester, general manager of the Ontario Safety League, reported the number of motor vehicle accidents in Toronto had risen from 3,673 in 1932 to nearly 7,000 in 1937. Of the cars examined by the Toronto police department in the last five years, Fester said, 8 per cent. had defective brakes and 50 per cent. defective steering, lights or wheel alignment.

Leading aircraft manufacturers of England expect to operate at capacity until 1940.
