Must Tatoo Hogs

Under a new ruling all hogs shipped from the counties of Lambton, Huron, Kent and Essex must be tatooed by the shipper, prior to being sent to the packing houses for slaughter.

For years, since the Grading Act has been in force, it has been the custom, generally, for a buyer to purchase the farmers' hogs at the pen, the shipper doing the grading. This has generally been satisfactory to the farmer, but should he not consider satisfactory the grading he was getting, then he had the privilege of asking that his hogs be graded "on the rail," that is, at the packing house after being slaughtered.

However, all shippers in Lambton, Huron, Essex and Kent received notice that all hogs must now be tatooed when shipped. A record sheet is made of each farmer's hogs, and when rail graded at the packing house, a duplicate copy is sent back to the farmer who sold the hogs, as well as to the shipper. A shipper may continue to buy on his own grading as before if the farmer is satisfied, but in every case the farmer will receive his report from the Government grader as to just how his hogs grade. The idea is to endeavor to get the farmers to grow better hogs along recognized lines of market demands.

Feted On Leaving

On Friday, June 29, the teacher and pupils of Maxwell public school assembled to honor their school-mate, Miss Julia Priestley, who recently removed to Flesherton. The following address was read by Miss Lillian Poole and the presentation made by Miss Lura Londry.

Dear Julia,

It is with much regret that we learn you are about to leave our school. You have always been willing and ready to help and we will miss you sorely. But we know that your sunny disposition will win you many friends, and we hope that you will always cherish a spot in your thoughts of your days in Maxwell school. We will always think of you and hope that we will all meet as often as posisble. We ask you to accept this manicure set as a small gift and as a token of our esteem.

Signed on behalf of your teacher and school mates of Maxwell school.

Union Services Well Attended

Good congregations commenced the union services last Sunday. In the morning at the Baptist Church almost every seat was occupied, the pastor preaching on "Paul's affliction." The choir gave a very appreciative anthem, "Jesus took my Burden." The evening service in St. John's United Church by Rev. Ashton was based upon "The man with a burden." The choir sang very effectively the anthem "Open my eyes that I may see." Mrs. Blackburn officiated at the organ and a good congregation assembled. Next Sunday there will be no service in the Baptist Church, both morning and evening services being held in St. John's Church. A cordial welcome is extended to all.

Hogarth-Stewart

(By Our Ceylon Corr.)

A quiet wedding but one of considerable interest to a large circle of friends in this locality was solemnized Saturday, July 2, at the Presbyterian Manse, Priceville, when Rev. Sutherland united in marriage Dora Mary, daughter of Mrs. Stewart and the late Archie Stewart of Ceylon to Mr. Melville Thomas Hogarth, son of Mrs. Hogarth and the late Mr. John A. Hogarth of Jarvis, Ontario.

The bride was very attractive in a gown of orchid triple sheer with white hat, shoes and accessories and carried a bouquet of pink and yellow orchids. She was attended by Mrs. Sam McDermid, Priceville, gowned in blue while Mr. McDermid supported the groom.

A wedding dinner followed at the home of the bride's mother where a beautiful color scheme of yellow and white made a very attractive setting, orchids being massed in bowls and used profusely with yellow and white streamers.

For travelling the bride chose a blue ensemble with white hat, shoes and white accessories. The happy young couple are honeymooning in Muskoka and upon returning home will reside in Ceylon. Many beautiful gifts were received among them being an aeropack from the pupils of Swamp College school where Miss Stewart has taught for the past two years.

REV. ROSS MUIR INDUCTED THURSDAY

(By our Priceville corr.)

The induction of Rev. Ross Muir was held on Thursday evening in St. Columba United Church. Rev. Mr. Pickering of Hanover was in charge, Rev. W. Newman of Elmwood preached the sermon and Rev. Mr. Gordon of Dundalk addressed the congregation and the new incumbent. The usual questions by the leader were put and answered in a firm clear voice, the congregation standing during the questioning. A meeting of the official board of the church was held at the close, after which a bountiful lunch was served to all.

Flesherton Now Well Protected Against Fire

The Flesherton Council received delivery of the new (to them) fire truck from the town of Meaford, following the purchase made some weeks ago. Meaford purchased more powerful fire equipment and delivery was made two weeks ago. Since then they have tested the new machine and when everything was found in excellent working order, the old machine was brought to Flesherton.

Flesherton has been in great need of proper fire fighting equipment and was fortunate in being able to secure that which was discarded by Meaford, not because it was inefficient, but that it was felt a booster pump was also needed to supply sufficient pressure. There are two fifty gallon chemical tanks mounted on an International chassis, two smaller chemical tanks, hook ladder, extension ladder, search light, siren and two hundred feet of hose. This was all purchased for $650. A new fire hall was erected on town property in the park, and this will also house supplies for the Hydro Commission.

The truck was accompanied to Flesherton by Mr. William White, night policeman of Meaford, Reeve Wm. Riley, Wm. Blooker, chairman of the Fire and Light Committee of the Meaford Council and Councillors Frank Harding and Clifford Erskine. These gentlemen gave a demonstration of the value of the equipment when Reeve McCauley set fire to a large pile of calcium chloride bags on the County Road property in town. The bags were waterproofed with tar and when the fire had made considerable headway an alarm was turned in. The blaze was extinguished with one tank of chemical, but broke out again in several places and a further half tank was used to finally quell the flames. Reeve Riley stated their task was a difficult one as a fire of that nature is a stubborn one to fight. A blaze in a building is easier extinguished. The local Council members were well pleased with the exhibition, following which the final transaction of the purchase was made by Reeve McCauley.

The Council has erected a siren on the tall hydro pole on the main corner, which in due course of time will be sounded either from the switch box on the pole or from the telephone office on receipt of a call. A fire brigade will be organized at once and drills will be held to build up the efficiency of the volunteer brigade.

Mrs. Burnett Honored

(By Toronto Line North corr.)

A very delightful afternoon was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Burnett on Thursday, June 30, when the ladies of this neighborhood took Mrs. Burnett by surprise, the occasion being her eighty-first birthday. The company entered all in a body headed by the three little Sparks sisters who sang "Happy Birthday" and presented Mrs. Burnett with a sheaf of eighty-one roses mixed with maiden hair fern. Each of the company extended birthday greetings to Mrs. Burnett and then spent a few enjoyable hours in social chat after which a dainty lunch was served. The delicious birthday cake iced in white was topped with pink candles representing eighty-one years. The cake was cut by her honor and Mrs. Emerson Wickens, on behalf of the ladies, extended hearty congratulations to Mrs. Burnett and hoped she would live to receive many more happy returns of the day. Following this all sang "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow." Ice cream and candy was also served and snapshots were taken of the party during the afternoon. We hope Mr. and Mrs. Burnett will be with us for many more years.

LOONS AND LOONETTES

The loon, or great northern diver, is a familiar bird to all residents of this part of Canada. His crazy voice as he sails high in the blue from one lake to another in the morning or in the evening has given rise to the expression "Crazy as a loon." He has some wonderful peculiarities for a bird. His feet are placed so far behind that he cannot walk or stand without crutches but he sometimes tries to use his wings for sticks. His food is entirely fish which he pursues and catches under water. The writer has seen the process and it was a sight to see that bird flash through the water after its prey.

A correspondent at Meaford asks me what they call the baby loons. He says that baby swans are called cygnits, but never heard what a baby loon is called. He says a flock of six newly hatched loons inhabit the harbour at Meaford where they are learning looncraft. For instance, when they attempt to dive, they cannot as yet get all the way under, and their little yellow tails stick up out of the water like snubbing posts for water bugs. When one scares them they flit over the water with wings and feet in a straight line to get away. This appears to be the only accomplishment they have fully mastered. As to what the young ar called we have no data to refer to but we will do the best we can to answer our correspondent's question. It is to be presumed, of course, that the sextet is made up of both gentleman and lady loons. The ladies might be called 'lunettes." The gentlemen naturally, as is the nature of the human race, would be known to the female portion of the sextet as "lunatics." All six as they scurry from danger, from their exertion in the effort, might be fittingly called 'pant-a-loons." So that these three classes as a composite picture can only be called baby loons. But they are very interesting little fellows as they pursue their daily lessons in the loony curriculum.

Osprey Nomination

The township of Osprey has been struck by a municipal heat wave and is now in the midst of a summer election, which became necessary owing to the death of the late Reeve and resignation of two councillors.

The nomination was held on Monday of this week, which was not very largely attended by the electorate. The following nominations were made:

For Reeve — Arnold Hutchinson, (by acclamation.)

For Deputy-Reeve — Morton Sayers, James Fawcett.

For Councillors — John Hudson, Dan Cameron and John Stinson. Two of them will be elected on the 11th inst., when voting takes place.

Why Not Grey League?

Hanover is perfectly happy in the bosom of the Bruce League, being close to practically all the towns and enjoying sports asosciations with them, but, at the same time, it is a question if there aren't enough towns in Grey County to form a Grey League. Three of the four "B" teams in the Bruce League at the start of the season are in Grey County—Meaford, Owen Sound and Hanover—and as things now stand maybe they could induce Chesley to join them in a Grey "B" League. Durham is playing ball this year, and, with Markdale, Flesherton, Dundalk, etc., could surely form a "C" group for Grey. To be sure, we doubt if the Grey "C" teams could be as strong as the "C's" in Bruce, but there could be a league in each county. Wiarton would be left stranded in the north of Bruce as the only "C" team in that section, and Chesley would be the only "B" team in the Bruce League. Either that or call it a Grey-Bruce League with the four "B" teams in one group and a "C" group in each county.—Hanover Post.

Red Oak Log Too Large Sawing At The Mill

One of the largest logs seen in Wellington County in many years was sawn into lumber at D. L. Mundell's yard, 8th line, Erin, on Wednesday, June 22. The log was from a red oak tree, which was cut in the Ashgrove district in Halton County. Its circumference at the butt was sixteen feet, four inches and when cut in twelve foot lengths, it made slightly over six hundred board feet of lumber. It was found necessary to split the stick in three pieces with dynamite before it could be placed on the carriage of the portable saw in use in the yard.—Orangeville Banner.
