Getting ready at GDHS

With classes beginning next Tuesday (Sept. 3) Georgetown District High School Co-op Education teachers Donna Norrie and Len Untinen (right) have been giving the office staff a helping hand as they laminate the new maps of the school, to enable new students and visitors to find the rooms they are looking for. (Below) Night custodian Chris Tsimihodimos has been busy installing the signage for the classrooms at the school in preparation for next Tuesday. Tsimihodimos must ensure the signs coincide with the school maps, so that in the event of an emergency, responding staff can quickly find the correct room.
