Town to open new trail in Hungry Hollow

The Town of Halton Hills will be opening a new section of trail in the Hungry Hollow Ravine on Saturday.

Residents are invited to join Mayor Rick Bonnette, Town councillors and staff at the entrance to Hungry Hollow Trail, near 124 Miller Dr. in Georgetown at 10 a.m.

The one-hour hike will explore a two-kilometre section of trail that leads from Miller Dr. entrance to the new pedestrian bridge that crosses Silver Creek, just west of Mountainview Rd. There will be a stop at the bridge for refreshments and opening ceremony.

For details go to www.haltonhills.ca or contact the Recreation Co-ordinator Special Events and Volunteer Services, 905-873-2601, ext. 2273.

The Town is looking for residents' suggestions, via a survey, on how to save energy in Halton Hills and how to reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

Residents can complete the survey at www.surveymonkey.com/s/HHEnergyPlan.

In partnership with Halton Hills Community Energy Corporation, The Town is preparing a strategic Community Energy Plan with the goal to reduce operating costs and lower greenhouse emissions.
