Flesherton and Proton Play 4-4 Overtime Tie

Last Thursday evening the Flesherton Semi-Pros, despite the fact that three of their regular players were out of the line-up, held the Proton Bears to a 4-4 tie before only a small number of fans. The teams battled on a fairly even basis with Flesherton carrying the attack in the first half and Proton in the latter stages. The game was an exciting one to watch with the players giving and taking about equal amounts of body checks. The close checking on the part of both teams was a feature of the game with the ace front line of Morgan, Leavell and Teeter going strong both ways.

In the first period Flesherton ran up a three goal lead before Halliday replied for the visitors. Teeter had two goals to his credit and Leavell one. Both teams were checking hard but Flesherton carried the play only to have Blackburn outluck them in the Proton cage. Ray White received a penalty for dumping Leavell.

In the second period Proton scored three goals by P. Sims, Russel White and K. Sims. The game developed into a free-for-all when Ray White couldn't take a bump and threw his stick at Wilf. Best who replied with a right to the forehead. K. Sims and Hopkins then locked horns and spectators and players alike picked their man. Referee George Akitt had a desperate time getting the fracas halted and tagged Ray White and Hopkins for major penalties.

Flesherton came out in the third period determined to tie it up and this they did in the early minutes when Teeter and Morgan combined for a beautiful goal with the former registering the counter. The local forward lines were being continually outlucked by Blackburn who played a brilliant game for the visitors. The players began using their bodies a little more and play roughened up considerably with the boards resounding with the whack of thumping bodies. Badgerow and Hopkins tangled beside the Flesherton net and major penalties were again handed out but no further scoring resulted. In the overtime there was no score but Russ. White was unfortunate to break his glasses which he is forced to use.

PROTON — Goal, Blackburn; defence, Ray White, P. Sims; centre, Russel White; wings, Badgerow, C. White; alternates, Halliday, K. Sims, L. Sims.

FLESHERTON — Goal, Henry; defence Best and Hopkins; centre, Leavell; wings, Morgan and Teeter; alternates, H. Johnson and Russell.

REFEREE — Geo. Akitt.

Dundalk Took Priceville By A Score of 8-4

Dundalk stepped into a first place with Priceville when they sent the Pricevilleites down to a 8-4 defeat. From the drop of the puck Dundalk held the upper hand all the way and at no time was their lead threatened to any great extent. Ritchie went on a scoring spree that netted him six goals.

In the first period Ritchie counted twice and Mortimer once before E. Turnbull netted for Priceville on a pass-out from behind the net from Weir. Ritchie's second goal was of the flukey variety when it glanced off McLean's stick into the Priceville net. Thompson drew the period's only penalty for tripping.

In the second period Ritchie did the hat trick, Lyons scored once and McLean scored twice for Priceville to make the score 7-3. McLean served two penalties, one for tripping and the other for hooking a Dundalkite who was in the clear. Bell received a nasty cut below the eye but continued in the game after a few minutes of rest.

In the third period Ritchie and Bell scored for their respective teams and the game ended 8-4 for Dundalk.

Referee M. Thompson kept the game well in hand by calling all offsides and rink-length shots and thus the game did not develop into a rough, high-sticking duel that usually happens when the smaller infractions of the rules are let slip by unnoticed.

DUNDALK — Goal, Wellwood; defence Thompson, Spanhouse; centre, Mills; wings, Lyons and Ritchie; alternates, Langdon, McKenzie, Mortimer and Bellamy.

PRICEVILLE — Goal, McDougall; defence, McLean, Frook; centre, Bell; wings, E. Turnbull, D. Turnbull; alternates, O'dell, Weir, Harrison and Burnett.

REFEREE — M. Thompson.

JUVENILE HOCKEY

On January 19th the Flesherton Juvenile team journeyed to Dundalk where they absorbed a 7-0 defeat. Although the boys were defeated, they were far from disgraced. The lads had only three players who had ever played any organized hockey before, and some of them were playing their first game this year. In spite of these handicaps they gave their very best and went down fighting before a well-conditioned, well-coached, fast skating Dundalk aggregation The Dundalk Juveniles have been operating as a unit for three years, and under the guidance of men interested in boys as well as the future of hockey in Dundalk. This team will be the supply house for future C.O.H.L. teams in that town. Too late, we'll realize our need unless we follow their example and help the Flesherton youths to be prepared for vacancies in our C.O.H.L. team. The lads are very enthusiastic about playing and are really fighting to do their best for the men who back them. We hope the parents as well as those interested in the growing youths will endeavour to aid them through their initial campaign.

The next game will be held in Flesherton on Thursday night, January 26. It will begin at 8.15 p.m. and the visitors will be Shelburne.

Skating after the game.

Debate Use of Air

employed veterans, 3,000 transients in Winnipeg, farm family on prairie).

Nevertheless, Mackenzie King more than held his own with the leader of the Opposition.

Before the session is over, the House of Commons is going to hear a good deal, one way or another, from a group called the International Forwarding Company, which proposes to carry bonded freight through Ontario from Toledo to Buffalo over a specially constructed two-lane highway to be built by them. Already a lobby has started, both for and against the proposal. N. J. M. Lockhart, M.P. for Lincoln, asked the Minister of National Revenue, before the orders of the day were called, "Has there been an application, or any indication of an application, to the Minister with respect to the carrying of United States goods in bond by the International Forwarding Company over Ontario highways? If such an application has been received, would the Minister indicate the attitude of the government in this connection?" He received the reply: "No application has been made to the Minister of National Revenue." He indicated that it might be introduced by a private bill, but he had no knowledge of it.

(It's twenty minutes to seven; Tom Reid has just started to play bagpipes.)

Walter Tucker of Rosthern, Sask., made a good speech, as he always does. The youth of Canada, he said, expect more from Canada than the threshing of old straw. They expect from this Parliament proposals which will solve, in a definite way, the problems that face the Canadian people. He then proceeded to make a specific suggestion. It is that we keep the gold mined in Canada for one year, add it to the reserve we have, and use this gold as a base for currency issued by the Bank of Canada to the chartered banks on the basis of one dollar in paper money for every fifty cents in gold. That new money would be increased by ten times through the loaning of credit by chartered banks "On the basis of our financial set-up as it was described by the Minister of Finance (Mr. Dunning) last session. The banking system of this country can and does tend to make loans and investments to the extent of ten dollars for every dollar that they have by way of such liquid reserves . . . "

In order to get the Bank credit out, Mr. Tucker suggests that a board of bank commissioners be set up to develop worthwhile mining projects in co-operation with geologists who pass upon the feasibility of the development. The chartered banks furnish the necessary credit, each one sharing pro rata in the risk. The government guarantees a return of two per cent. And, for the part played by the government, one half interest in the enterprise when developed would accrue to it. This seems advanced, but Mr. Tucker is a sound student of monetary matters.

The great contention this week is, should Mr. McCullagh, editor of the Globe and Mail, have been allowed to use the national hook-up to broadcast his private opinions, or should he not?

Denton Massey says he has no axe to grind for Mr. McCullagh, since the last time he did broadcast he attacked Denton, but he thinks McCullagh should be allowed to use the network of stations. That's what Mr. Bennett thinks, that's what Mr. Rowe thinks, that's what Mr. Manion thinks. But, Mr. Howe, Minister of Transport, thinks not. Mr. King thinks not. Mr. Coldwell thinks not.

The think-so crowd argues that free speech has been interfered with, that our liberties are being undermined, that it's Mr. McCullagh today and no telling who tomorrow. But the think-not crowd argues that the radio is a new and powerful medium, that we are just finding our way in the use of it, that the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation is an autonomous body; it is answerable not to the Minister, but to Parliament.

The rulings made by C.B.C. last December 8th, state: (1) No individual may purchase any network to broadcast his own opinions; (2) No proft-making corporation may purchase any network to broadcast opinions and (3) Properly constituted societies may purchase network time, subject to the following conditions: (e) Accept responsibility; (b) Preface and conclude by announcement making clear the auspices; (c) No interference with normal C.B.C. programs; (d) Sufficient popular appeal (e) Within the wording and spirit of the regulations and not in violation of any law.

There are very strong arguments on both sides. The thing I like least about the controversy is the advertising that is given Mr. McCullagh. He is assured of a great radio audience.

Shelburne 17, Flesherton 3

Everybody seems to be wondering what happened to the Flesherton senior team in their game with Shelburne last Friday night. True, Shelburne is a very smart team with almost everything a team management could wish for. They have a very fast first line and a second string which is second to none in the Central Ontario League. Flesherton, on the other hand, has a very good first line but requires a right winger for the second line. With one of our players playing on his wrong wing and the necessity of one of the first string members having to play centre for the second line makes it that much more difficult for both lines to function properly.

However, these are not alibis for having lost to Shelburne. They are merely some of the difficulties that the Flesherton boys are operating under this season.. It is true Dundalk defeated Shelburne 3-2 on Dundalk ice earlier in the schedule and Flesherton held the same Dundalk team to a 3-3 tie also in Dundalk, and, as a result, Flesherton should have won from Shelburne according to the law of averages. However, this law does not always hold true as is shown in the case just mentioned.

I think the real reason for the Flesherton defeat was because of over-confidence. This will wreck even the best hockey machine ever assembled and is one of the things that a management always tries to keep from entering the minds of his players. The Flesherton boys, after losing their first game of the season to Shelburne 6-1, settled down and won both engagements with Markdale as well as tying Dundalk. Then when the Shelburne team came along last week and with the game in their own rink not to mention the good sized crowd that was present, the locals seemed to blow wide open.

Another good reason might also be mentioned, that being the locals were plainly outlucked right at the start. Once in particular they were right in on the visiting goaler and if Lary Luck had smiled on them the locals might have been on the other end of the long score as it has often been proven that breaks may win or lose a game.

No blame can be attached to any one member of the team more than another. The whole team played poorly and it is hoped that the game with Dundalk on Tuesday, January 24th, will find the locals snapping out of their slump. Almost every team experiences a slump at some time or another and this Shelburne game is a good one to get off our chests.

Flesherton has two games yet both with Chatsworth not counting the Dundalk game which will have been played before this edition is published. One of these Chatworth games is to be played on January 27 in Chatsworth; the other is one postponed from earlier in the season. Keep inquiring as to te date of this game. If Flesherton can win these three games they will have amassed a total of eleven points which should be enough to place them in second or third position.

The Semi-Pro team should also get in the play-offs this year as they are in third place at present with a total of five points. Ceylon, because of their loss of three players, two of them through serious accidents, were rumored to be withdrawing but this is not official as yet. We are glad to see the injured boys out around again and wish them a speedy and complete recovery.

The Juvenile league seems to be well under way now. Six games have been played to date and on Thursday evening, January 26, the Shelburne Juveniles play in the local arena. We hope the local lads will ring up a victory.

This Juvenile League is a step in the right direction towards producing material for the senior teams later on. Only boys under eighteen years of age can compete and it will give them the necessary experience and practice that will prepare them for senior company later on. A cup has also been donated for the winner and play-offs will be run according to the senior team's rules and regulations. As we all know the stars of today were the beginners of yesterday.

Be seeing you next week.

Flesherton 2, Dundalk 1

Flesherton showed a reversal of form on Tuesday night over last Friday's game and after a grim battle finally emerged at the head of a 2-1 score. It was a win that was needed to bring Flesherton back into grace with their fans and fanettes. This win for Flesherton placed them in a tie with Dundalk for second place and was well earned. Combination play gave the locals the win, but on many of Dundalk's rushes they were outlucked in not counting more, as two shots hit the goal posts and another one missed an open net, after Ferris had stopped a drive. The first period showed heavy checking on both sides and neither able to get the advantage of the other. Dundalk was finally able to score when the second period was half over when Livermore counted on a pass from McGuirk, and the period ended with Dundalk leading 1-0. Both teams went out for the last spasm with determination in their eyes, Dundalk to hold their advantage and Flesherton to wipe out the stigma of their last defeat. Play ranged from end to end with Flesherton pressing hard and their efforts were finally rewarded when a ganging attack found Piper behind the Dundalk goal and a pass-out was given to Boyd who shot and Gorrell made sure of the rebound. That goal was scored and the count tied with but five minutes to go. Within a minute later Piper was again behind the Dundalk goal and passed out to Johnson who won the game with his shot that Sims didn't have a chance to stop. Smith and McCutcheon were unable to play the former from the effects of an affected tooth and the latter with a cracked rib and Ben Leavell of the Semi-Pro team was pressed into service and was unfortunate enough to be a second late scoring Flesherton's first goal when he counted after the bell had rung to close the second period. Every man on the team played a whale of a game and the fans expect great things of them in the coming playoffs.

This was the first loss that Dundalk has taken this season and on Flesherton's game in Dundalk the score was a three all tie. There is always plenty of excitement when these two teams come together and a good crowd was on hand to witness the contest.

Dundalk wins from Shelburne, Shelburne snows Flesherton under and then Flesherton outscores Dundalk. Try and make sense out of that and figure why, if you can.
