Halton Regional Police officers seized close to $1 million worth of marijuana at 14 different outdoor grow operations Wednesday across the region as part of the annual eradication effort, named Project Agriculture this year.

Members of the service's drug unit and several other officers were busy cutting down plants that ranged in size from four to eight feet in sweltering conditions Wednesday.

HRPS Chief Stephen Tanner was on hand to oversee "cultivation day" at a location in Halton Hills just off Eighth
