ROYAL COUPLE COME

Despite the odds quoted by Lloyds some months ago, Canada had the unique joy of welcoming her King and Queen today. Escorted by two cruisers the Royal couple travelled via the C.P.R. Empress of Australia, and were met by most of the Canadian navy—our two "destroyers" on the Atlantic coast.

Dramatic was the appearance out of the western skies of two tiny specks in the air which became visible as two units of the Canadian air force winging eastward to salute the King.

Never did monarch receive warmer welcome or greater loyalty than did George the Sixth and his Queen, Elizabeth. From ocean to ocean Canadian life is quickened and the fires of homage burn bright. The visit of the Royal couple to the United States is, too, a happy feature of the unique event.

Canada has marked the memorable occasion by a special issue of very beautiful postage stamps, and a special silver dollar. Decorations in the centres to be visited are very beautiful.

While unprecedented, all Canadians join in the hope that the many precedents being thus established, may be but the knitting of a closer Empire bond in a world which sadly needs cohesion, tolerance and the opportunity for undisturbed industry and prosperity.

HOLDFAST U. F. W. O.

The regular monthly meeting of the Holdfast Club was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Beaton, with a good attendance. The roll call was answered by the members naming a Canadian River. Mrs. J. K. McLeod gave a splendid paper on current events. The topic "Has Hydro been worth the price," created a lively discussion, led by Mrs. Allie Muir and Mrs. John Nichol. Impromptu speeches by each member proved a very interesting part of the meeting. Mrs. Wm. Beaton conducted a contest which was won by Mrs. D. Campbell and Mrs. John Stewart. A donation of bulbs was given by Mrs. D. Campbell. The singing of the National Anthem brought a very interesting meeting to a close. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. McDermid.

Mrs. J. Wickens of Kimberley is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. Idle.

Mr. Morris Welsh has purchased a new tractor.

We extend our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Bert Graham and Ruth in the loss of a loving son and brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McMullen were recent vistors wth Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fawcett at Vandeleur.

An epidemic of 'flu has been going the rounds. The school has had a very low attendance during the past couple of weeks.

Mrs. Dave Genoe spent a couple of days in Toronto recently.

MAXWELL

A large crowd gathered at the United church Sunday to pay their last respects to the late Robert Alister of Collingwood, formerly of Osprey township. Rev. Gosse of McIntyre conducted the service, in the absence of Rev. Elliott, who was conducting the service at Eugenia of the late Mrs. L. Latimer.

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Jas. Long on Thursday, May 11th, the president, Mrs. Leggatt, in the chair. Miss Bones gave a very interesting address on Canadian art and artists. The election of the following officers for the coming year was made:

President—Mrs. Jas. Leggott.
Vice Pres.—Mrs. Ed. Seeley.
Secretary—Mrs. Ernest Hawton.
Treasurer—Mrs. Chas. Long.
Dist. Director—Mrs. Ed. Seeley.

Miss Ethel Fenwick and her friend, Miss McNabb, of the G. & M. hospital at Collingwood spent the week end at the former's home here.

Mrs. H. Down of Flesherton is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. Poole, and family.

We welcome Dr. Byrnes to our village and hope that he decides to remain here.

VANDELEUR

Mothers' Day service was observed in the church here on Sunday afternoon. The program prepared by the Ontaro Religious Education Council, was used. The pastor, Rev. S. E. Annis, acted as leader, assisted by Geo. Buchanan. Miss Dorothy Kelso gave a reading "The Room of Gold."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mitchell and family of Toronto visited with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Buchanan.

Miss M. K. Graham and Miss Parker visited the former's home in the Valley recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn Lee visited with Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hutchinson.

Mrs. Davidson is visiting with friends and relatives here, having spent the winter months in Orillia.

Quite a few children of the community are ill with measles.

Misses Dorothy Kelso and Pauline Hutchinson, delegates from Vandeleur Women's Institute, attended the Junior Institute convention in Guelph last week.

KIMBERLEY

The rain on Monday was a welcome relief from the dust of the roads. Farmers will be through seeding this week. Early fruit trees are coming out in bloom and the valley is a beautiful sight just now. It will be better by next week.

The Ladies' Aid had a very successful concert and play given by the Victoria people. The play was entitled "Over the Hill to Paradise," and was good and well attended.

Mr. D. A. Weber and Dan Graham have traded in their old tractor and have a new Fordson, which is doing good work. Dan and Stan Haines are busy with it.

Mrs. Callet is visiting with her sister, Miss Selena Ellis, since the funeral of her brother, the late W. T. Ellis. She intends returnng home during next week.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Burritt attended the funeral of Mrs. Burritt's uncle, Mr. Wm. Holley, of Holland Centre. Interment took place in Markdale. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Thompson of Orangeville also attended and made a call with Mr. and Mrs. Burritt when returning home.

We extend to Mrs. Bert Graham of Flesherton our sincere sympathy in the death of her only son, Frank, who passed away in Owen Sound hospital.

Mrs. A. E. Ellis spent a day visiting her cousin, Miss Fannie Abercrombie at Fairmount. Miss Abercrombie is over 90 and enjoying good health.

We understand that Rev. S. McAuslan has presented his resignation as pastor. We regret it very much. Rev. McAuslan has given eight years of more than ordinary faithful service. We believe he has decided to take a much-needed rest.

Men Get Married Too

("Old Bill" in Dunnville Chronicle)

John Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jones of Pleasant Villa became the bridegroom of Miss Elizabeth Smith at high noon today. The ceremony took place at the home of the groom's parents and a full house was counted. Mr. Jones was attended by Mr. Brown, as groomsman. As the groom approached the altar he was the cynosure of all. Blushing prettily he replied to the questions of the clergyman in low but firm tones. He was charmingly clad in a three-piece suit consisting of a coat, vest and pants. The coat of dark material was draped about his shoulders and tastefully gathered under the arms. A pretty story was current among the wedding guests that the coat was the same one worn by his father and grandfather on their wedding days. Mr. Jones does not deny the truth of the sentimental touch. The vest was sleeveless and met at the front. It was gracefully fashoned and at the back was held together with a strap and buckle. Conspicuous on the front of the vest was the groom's favorite piece of jewellery, his fraternity pin, and from the upper left hand pocket was suspended a large Ingersoll watch, the bride's gift to the groom, which flashed and gave a needed touch of brilliance to a costume in perfect taste and harmony.

The groom's pants were of dark worsted and were suspended from the waist, falling in a straight line almost to the floor. The severe simplicity of the garment was relieved by the right pantalette which was caught up about four inches by a Boston garter worn underneath, revealing just the artistic glimpse of brown holeproof hosiery above the genuine leather shoes laced with strings of rather chic material.

Beneath the vest the groom wore blue galluses attached fore and aft to the pants and passing in a graceful curve over each shoulder. This pretty and useful part of the costume would have passed unnoticed had not the groom muffed the ring when the groomsman pased it to him. When he stooped to recover the errant circulet the cirulean blue of the galluses was prettily revealed.

His neck was encircled with a collar Characterized by a delicate pearl tint of old fashioned celluloid, and around the collar the cravat was loosely knotted exposing a collar button of bright metal. The cravat extended up and under the left ear with that studied carelessness which marks supreme artistry in dress.

Mr. Brown's costume was essentially like the groom's and as the two stood at the altar a hush of admiration enveloped the audience at the complete and wonderful harmony of the raiment. Actually you could hardly have told one from the other had it not been for a patch of court plaster worn by the groom over the nick in his chin made by a safety razor. Neither Mr. Jones nor Mr. Smith wore a hat at the ceremony. As Miss Smith led the groom from the nuptials it was noted that she wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms.

John A. Palmer, slide trombone player of Meaford was awarded a medal at the York Band Festival, held in Aurora.
