New Course of Study In Local High School

The list of subjects of study of the new course in Middle School have recently been released to school teachers. The subjects are as follows: English, History, Health Education, Mathematics, Science, French and Latin. English History and Health are obligatory subjects, for which there are no substitutes. The other four are optional subjects for which there would be substitutes in larger schools, but for which there is not time for substitutes in four-teacher schools. The courses of study are the revised courses, but they have not been released as yet. The old course in Ancient History will be taught next year, 1939-1940. In 1940-41 a new course in History and Geography will be introduced.

The Middle School course has always been a two-year course; that is the same now. Students who followed the old course of study wrote two examinations in English (Composition and Literature) and two in French and Latin (Composition and Authors). Now, one examination is to be set in English and the languages in place of the former two. This examination will be taken at the end of the second year in Middle School. At the end of the first year, students will be passed into the second year of the Middle School on the teacher's recommendation. In Science, Physics and Chemistry are intended to be taught at the same time for a two-year period, with the examination at the end of the second year. Perhaps in smaller schools these subjects will be taught singly and the course be made a one-year course with the final examination at the end of that year.

In Mathematics, Algebra will be taught in the first year of the Middle School and Geometry in the second, with examinations in each subject at the conclusion of the course in that subject.

Not many changes will be made in text books. Students will be expected to purchase new texts, which are different from the present Middle School texts in the following subjects: English Composition, French and Algebra. Lower School texts will remain the same with the exception of Grade X, Latin and Lower School English. Students will have to purchase a new text in Latin. The English books may be different, if the principal and staff decide to make the change.

Lower School promotion examinations commence on Wednesday, June 14th and end Tuesday, June 20th.

Middle School Departmentals for the classes commence on June 16th, and end on June 29th. High School Entrance examinations will be in progress on June 28th and 29th.

TAYLOR — HAWTON

The home of Mr. and Mrs. .Alfred Hawton at Feversham was the scene of a charmingly arranged early summer wedding on Saturday, June 3rd, at three o'clock when their daughter, Edna, became the bride of Mr. Joseph Randall Taylor, son of Mr. Wm. Taylor of Maple Lake, and the late Mrs. Taylor. Rev.Stringed officiated and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Ross Robinson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a becoming street-length frock of maize triple sheer. She carried a bouquet of roses and carnations. Miss Leona Sisson, niece of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid and wore white chiffon with a bouquet of carnations and sweet peas. Mr. Leslie Hawton, brother of the bride, attended the groom.

After the ceremony a reception was held for thirty-five guests when the bride's mother, in a gown of navy blue, assisted in receiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left for a trip to Maple Lake, Toronto and Niagara, the bride travelling in a blue dress and coat with white hat and accessories. Upon their return they will reside on the groom's farm at Banks.

We may be much happier when we reach the place where human need is given higher ranking than human ability to pay.

Gave Gift to Teacher On Leaving School

A delightful social evening was held in the high school on Friday evening when one of the teachers, Mr. Ernest A. Hutton, was guest of honor. Mr. Hutton has resigned from the staff to take effect at the end of this term and in appreciation of his work in the school and its various activities he was presented by the staff and pupils with a set of military brushes and a travelling case. The address was read by Miss Kathleen Bannon and the presentation by Melville Hunt.

Dear Mr. Hutton,-

Strike one. Strike two! Strike three! He's out—but our Henry isn't down. No sir, he gets up every time wtih a smile, and we know that a home run is in store for him soon. Although his smile and cheery disposition is going to be our loss, we are certain that they will take him a long way.

For two years now you have been been popping up in all our activities, and in so doing have established a great responsibility. Not until we heard that you were leaving us did we realize what you have been doing in these two short years. Your excellent advice and coaching ability has won the respect of the boys concerned with athletics. Not only within the school but also in the community have your interests been directed. Our Young People's Union is losing a good sport and leader, who has done his utmost to make it the success it has been.

Yet, we think Flesherton is probably soo small for a man of your ability and disposition; in that, we mean, greater things are in store for you which, we regret, cannot be afforded here. Therefore, we feel confident that our loss will be someone else's gain, and for this reason our sadness is turned to joy and we wish you the best in your greater undertakings.

For, there's always a way to fail, my lad,
Always a way to slide,
And the men you find at the foot of the hill
All sought for an easy ride.
So on and up, though the road be tough,
And the storms come thick and fast
There is room at the top for the fellow who tries,
And victory comes at last.

And so, on behalf of the student body and staff, we ask you to accept this small token of remembrance.

W. E. Harris Federal Liberal Candidate

Walter E. Harris, barrister of Markdale, was the choice of the Liberals of Grey-Bruce at the nominating convention held in Durham on Thursday afternoon last and will oppose Miss Agnes Macphail, M.P., at the forthcoming Federal election. The successful candidate received a clear majority on the first ballot, being opposed by John Burrell of Ayton, J. A. Paterson of Hanover and J. H. McQuarrie of Durham. The convention was one of the largest in the interest of the Liberal party ever held in Durham. All the candidates addressed the delegates and Mr. Harris made such a favorable impression that he was given a substantial majority over his closest rival. Dr. Blair, M.P. for North Wellington, was the guest speaker and gave a splendid address which was listened to attentively by the crowded hall of delegates.

Trustees-Ratepayers Hold Convention

The 15th annual convention of the Grey County Branch of the O.E.A., Trustees' and Ratepayers' Department, was held at Flesherton on Saturday. While the attendance was not all that could be desired, those who attended were quite enthusiastic about the fine program. Those attending were from all parts of the County.

President Ferguson called the convention to order at 11 a.m. and Rev. F. Ashton and Rev. G. R. Service conducted the devotional exercises. Scripture was read from the 12th chapter of Romans by Rev. Ashton. Rev. Service gave a short address, stressing the importance of Christianity in sustaining a democratic country. He compared the freedam of our fair country to that of the countries under a dictatorship. He said: "If democracy is to survive, Christianity must survive and grow." He hoped that more religious teaching would be incorporated in the school curriculum. This address so impressed the delegates that Rev. Service was asked to frame a resolution re Bible teaching in the schools.

In the afternoon Reeve A. Down of Flesherton extended a hearty welcome to the delegates, saying that it was an honor and a pleasure for Flesherton to entertain such an important convention, and he hoped that it would be a success. In a short, snappy address President Ferguson stated that it was a far cry from the horse and buggy days to the present auto. Our school system should be advancing also. He favored the "larger unit of administration," believing it to be a step in the right direction. Reference was also made to Bible teaching and to the visit of Their Majesties.

The subjects of Art and Health were dealt with by Miss Alice Heard and Miss Laura Pallett, of the staff of the Flesherton high school. Both young ladies had their subject well in hand and left a most favorable impression on the delegates. Exhibits relative to these subjects were on display. These were not only a credit to the pupils who made them, but to the teachers who must have given the pupils an inspiration to do such fine work. Much credit also goes to Inspector Pentland, who assisted with the arrangement.

Miss Agnes Macphail, M.P., in her usual pleasing and impressive manner, addressed the delegates on the subject "Education for Living." Education goes on for life, stated Miss Macphail, and it is necessary that we realize this to make the most out of life. She believed trustees should give more thought to school equipment, management and teachers employed. A good teacher will awaken a child to a realization of its responsibilities.

An illustrated address, observations of schools in Denmark, Scotland and Ontario, by M. A. Campbell, proved most interesting and instructive. Mr. Campbell visited all places shown and was able to give first hand information regarding them. During the convention pupils of Miss Lucas entertained the delegates with songs.

The Flesherton junior band, under the direction of Mr. Trickey, demonstrated what may be accomplished by a few weeks of training under a trained leader.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, F. E. Abercrombie; Vice-President, E. A. Carson; Secretary-Treasurer, H. H. Boyes.
