

Willow Park Ecology Centre to mark its 15th anniversary

Willow Park Ecology Centre is a model for 15 years of success through volunteers and partnerships.

The ecology of Willow Park has evolved from a degraded floodplain to early succession, hosting a diverse array of wildlife and flora along the Credit River in Norval.

Over the last 15 years, the dedicated and energetic volunteers, in partnership with Town of Halton Hills Council and staff, have led to the establishment and maintenance of several park features and key habitat areas. This allowed their vision to deliver invaluable education and recreation programs in north Halton to become a reality. Ongoing monitoring programs give insight into the resilience of its ecology and future needs.

Come see for yourself on Sunday, September 29, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. during the Town of Halton Hills Doors Open—Norval event. You may experience this unique park of Halton Hills through self-guided tours, Scavenger Hunts and hands-on creative and crafty projects. The park will host Anthony Barr of the Sacred Sevens Healing & Drum Circle in a spiritually uplifting Drum Circle (open to the public) starting at 1 p.m. Don't have a drum? Between 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. join Carolyn Martin on your own or with family and friends, to create your own drum. Or use one of the instruments provided onsite.

At 2:30 p.m., both the recent and founding-member volunteers will be honoured during the 15th Anniversary Volunteer Appreciation Award Ceremony. If you plan to attend any of the events please register at <http://www.willowparkecolgy.ca/registration.html>.
