WALSH EXPANDS THEIR TORONTO ORGANIZATION

W. GEORGE AKINS

Thomas E. Walsh, President of the Walsh Advertising Company Limited, Windsor and Toronto, announces the immediate inauguration of a new and larger Toronto organization, staffed and equipped for complete agency service under the direction of W. George Akins.

The present organization headed by R. E. S. Green and operating under the Windsor office will be incorporated in the new set-up. New and larger quarters on the 11th Floor of the Victory Building have been leased.

Mr. Akins, who has had unusually broad experience in the inter-related fields of advertising, merchandising and publishing, began his career with one of the outstanding figures in Canadian journalism, the late W. H. Thurston of Flesherton, Ontario. Later, in the daily field, he was on the staffs of the Sun-Times, Owen Sound; the Mail & Empire in Toronto and the Star in Regina, Sask. In addition to serving as publisher of several weeklies, Mr. Akins was for some years an executive of the G. A. Davis Printing Company of Toronto, entering the agency field in 1935 as an account executive with E. W. Reynolds & Company Limited. He is taking over his new duties immediately, Mr. Walsh announces.
