The ladies of the W. I., having no objections to a mere man going with them to their picnic at Harrison Park on Monday last, we betook ourselves to the truck, and had a pleasant drive and enjoyed the delightful ground, which brought to mind the old song "On the winding path by the brookside . . . ." While there we learned there were still tickets to be had for the cruise to Port McNichol and Midland. Temptation being too great we bought one and had a pleasant trip, with ever-recurring scenery among the many islands on the way. The magnitude of the Georgian Bay was again impressed upon me, though the world seems not so big after all, when one meets with friends from Teeswater (Mr. and Mrs. Will Freeman), Mrs. John Beaton, Henry Beaton and daughter, Mr. Tuck, Mr. and Mrs. Will Arrowsmith of Markdale, and Eugene Murphy's daughter of Mt. Forests and many others. There was no use running home in view of the 12th next day. The parade was the biggest and best I ever saw, fine speeches enhanced by Mr. J. Cook's loud speaker. The leaders of either party in the Federal House did not give satisfaction, according to one of the speakers.

Mr. Henry Watson of Ottawa was a visitor last week with his mother and brother, W. G. Watson.

"No, I'm talking from Home— WE HAVE A TELEPHONE NOW!"

Take our word for it—when you call up your neighbours for the first time on your new telephone—you'll feel real proud of the thing. To talk to friends far across the fields—is a convenience you should have had long ago. Some farmers have been telephoning for 30 years. Most farms have telephones today. And they'll all tell you it pays—in so many ways.

If you haven't got a telephone, now is the time to get one. Enquire about . . .
