Appreciation By The Band

Mr. Burton Field, secretary of the Flesherton Old Boys' & Girls' Association, received the following letter from Lieut. J. D. Wilson, conductor of the Field Artillery band which played in Flesherton Civic Holiday, which we are pleased to publish at this time:

"May I thank your Toronto Committee and your Home Town committee for the wonderful reception the bandsmen and myself received during our stay in Flesherton, everything was so pleasant. During my career as a bandmaster I have played at many such functions in various parts of the country, but I can truthfully say that never yet in my travels have I found such a warm, hospitable, congenial bunch of people as the Flesherton Old Boys and Girls and the Townfolk. Nothing is left to chance, every little detail covered to the furthest point which makes the engagement so pleasant for everyone concerned."

"I've asked Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins to dinner at seven, Jane, but I think that we'll give them a quarter of an hour's grace," said the mistress.

"Well, ma'am," Jane replied, "I'm a little religious myself, but I think that's rather overdoing it."
