DEFERRED MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

Possibly some good reasons could be given for deferring the municipal elections for two years. If so, Hon. Mr. Cross has overlooked the fact.

"We are motivated only in this proposal by one objective, namely, the winning of the war," said he last week." But he failed to indicate how it would put the skids under Hitlerism to have municipal elections every two years.

Let's look at it. The municipal elections cost some money admittedly. Here is about the sequence of events.

1. The Municipal Clerk and Council set the dates and pursue the legal formalities.
2. Polling places are provided and paid for.
3. Voters' Lists are prepared and printed, and election is advertised.
4. Ballots are printed.
5. Election officers are engaged and paid.

After the election the people spend the rest of the year cussing the Council. Now, where does the pro-Hitleristic influence come in, there?

The Clerk and Council serve for the same remuneration, election or no election. The renters of polling places stand to LOSE the amount usually paid, and will have that much less to spend in the community.

The printers will have their revenue cut down—and have much less to contribute to Mr. Hepburn's and Ottawa's income taxes. (Who ever heard of a printer hoarding money? It just can't be done! And for obvious reasons!)

There remains only the candidates for public honor to be considered. It is doubtful if the cigar bill of the average municipal candidate is sufficient to be considered.

WHY ANNUAL ELECTIONS?

As a matter of fact, we have long felt that annual elections are important factors in our democratic setup, and even that elections by acclamation are subversive of best results—save in such cases as they are the result of extraordinary efficiency, and not merely indicative of a lack of interest on the part of John Public.

Our municipalities have declining debts and as a rule are in good financial shape, which cannot be said of the "higher" governing bodies. Why? Largely because of the annual election. Also, because the ratepayer is close at hand, and watching with interest the public expenditure.

Cross (which is of course, Hepburn) is talking twaddle when he suggests that we stop our annual elections merely to "win the war." The only indication of how he thinks it will help, is apparently on the ground of economy.

If we are to win the war by economy, why not stop everything that means an outlay of money Why have Parliament meet in session? Save the money for bullets. Why run the railways? Or stores? If economy is the watchword, why not let Ottawa run the show, and dissolve our Legislatures?

There's lots of foolishness we could do, if it were just a matter of following the politicians.

LAKE FISHING DECREASING

During our holiday we spend a short time fishing for lake trout at Lions Head and were fortunate in landing thirteen fine fish in about four hours. The fishing was extra good. Why? This is the season for the fish to come into shallow water for spawning purposes and are then a prey for the fisherman with nets and line. The females are heavy with spawn and, if allowed to deposit their eggs at the proper time, would assist in the natural restocking of the fishing grounds. This year the fishermen of the Georgian Bay and Lake Huron have complained of the poor fishing on the lakes and no wonder. If the present state of affairs continue very many more years, the commercial fisherman will be compelled to store their nets away for the want of fish to catch. Let the Department of Game and Fisheries declare a closed season during the last week in October and the first two weeks in November and in a very few years fishing will again be a paying proposition on the lakes. Up to the present the fishermen have opposed the scheme, as they claim that fishing is best in the spawning season, but that is a narrow view for them to take as they are defeating the aims for their own good by such a stand.
