

Above: Spectator seating in the TransCanada Rink on the east side of the Mold-Masters SportsPlex can accommodate 250 spectators and the players' benches are designed to accommodate for sledge hockey with see-through rink boards on the players' benches and the widened doors to access the playing surface.

Top right: One of the new meeting rooms between the National Hockey League-regulation-size ice surfaces in the upper level.

Bottom right: Mold-Masters SportsPlex facility manager John Archibald and Ward 2 Councillor Bryan Lewis check out the bright and spacious new lobby area between the new ice surfaces. Former NHL referee Lewis also brought his skates to test out the newly installed ice on the Saputo Rink.
