EDITORIAL COMMENT

We extend our best wishes to W. A. Hogg, president and manager of the Collinwood Bulletin-Enterprise, who last week observed his 81st birthday. Mr. Hogg has been in the publishing business for 65 years and is one of the veterans of the craft. He followed his father, who first published the Enterprise 80 years ago. We are pleased to know that Mr. Hogg is still hale and hearty and able to be at his desk every day. Best wishes of his follow publishers are extended to him for many more years in his useful sphere of life.

Each Sunday morning at 10 o'clock a pleasing new program is released over CBL, giving the live news from the pages of the weekly newspapers of Ontario. Grey and Bruce counties come in for their share of mention in the newscast. The Advance was mentioned twice in a recent broadcast and on Sunday our two neighboring editors had quotations from their columns. The news from these papers depicts the rural life of the province and is proving a popular broadcast.

Flesherton's main streets were fairly well denuded of their high banks of snow after the recent record-breaking snow fall. It is a fine thing to have the snow taken away from our streets, but the question has been asked whether we can afford this luxury of clean streets. Many claim that with the large deficit against the village the Council should observe the strictest economy in its work.

GOOD ADVICE

It has often been said that Germany lost the last war because she was defeated on the home front. While there are still a few who challenge this statement, it is generally conceded to contain more truth than poetry. The lesson which we in Canada, and particularly in Ontario should learn from this fact is that the prevention of our own democratic institutions and principles, and keeping up our civilian morale should be one of our major objectives.

United States had developed magnetic mines in 1925, and we esteem our neighbor the more when reading this added note, "It was decided not to use them."

While German torpedoes and mines sink a few ships every week, we are told that nearly one thousand cargo ships move in and out of British ports in a week. The enemy is hardly making a dent in Britain's immense resources of shipping.

FEVERSHAM DOWNS ROCK MILLS 8—2

Feversham continued their winning streak by taking one from Rock Mills, 8—2. This game is reported as being one of the cleanest Semi-Pro games this season. Seeley received the only injury of the game when he was dumped by Moore. Moore was given a penalty.

Buster Springgay scored twice for Feversham in the first. A. Springgay getting the only asist. Ernie Guy was the only scorer for Rock Mills in the first.

Feversham increased their lead by four goals in the second. Springgay alone, Sled from B. Springgay: Mullen alone, and Sled from A. Springgay. Rock Mills did not count in this period.

Springgay and Sled both bagged a counter in the last, with Clark scoring for Rock Mills.

OWEN SOUND GREYS WIN FROM C. O. H. A. ALL STARS

The Owen Sound Greys proved themselves capable of defeating the All Stars, when they won 6—4. The Dundalk line proved very effective, scoring three of the four goals. Leavell, Cairns and Boyd were the men picked from Flesherton's team, but Boyd was the only one able to be at the game. He played a very clever game. The goal-tender for he Greys suffered a cut in the forehead which reqiured 5 stitches to close. The All Stars are worthy of credit for holding the classy Greys to a 6—4 score.

SHIPPING FEVER or HEMORRHAGIC SEPTICEMIA

PREVENTION — If hemmorhagic septicemia is suspected, call a veterinary. Do not delay until many of the pigs are dead. The only way in which the disease can be halted is by injection with serum. This should be done only by a veterinary. The cost per pig is insignficant compared with the possible losses. Septicemia is a DESTROYER.

If pigs are properly fed and cared for, kept reasonably clean, with sanitary pens, the likelihood of any infection such a septicemia developing is lessened. It is particularly important to have good ventilation and dry quarters.

General Gort of the British army in France when greeted by General Gamelin was kissed on the cheek. When so many ladies are engaged in war work the wonder is that such duties have not been deputed to their tender care.
