60 Years As Clerk Artemesia Township

Sixty years as Clerk of the Township of Artemesia is the proud record of Mr. W. J. Bellamy of Flesherton. It was 60 years on April 4th that Mr. Bellamy received the appointment and since that time he has not missed one meeting of the Council His knowledge of municipal affairs is very broad and his services have been invaluable to the Council in their work. Mr. Bellamy will be 87 years of age this coming July and is at his office every day and in perfect health. We don't believe that there is any clerk in Canada who has a greater length of service than Mr. Bellamy and his many friends in town and district wish for him the best of health for years to come and for his continued attendance at the Council meetings.

Reward Miss Macphail

Appointment of Miss Agnes Macphail to the Senate as a tribute to her untiring efforts on behalf of the farmers of Ontario while a member of the House of Commons for Grey-Bruce was contained in a resolution passed by the Ontario Chamber of Agriculture at its annual convention in Toronto on Monday. The resolution will be forwarded to the Dominion Government.

'The farmers of Ontario have suffered a serious loss in the defeat of Miss Macphail in the Dominion elections, and as a tribute to her efforts I would urge the adoption of this resolution," declared H. H. Hannam, president of the Ontario Chamber of Agriculture.

A resolution pledging support to the organization of county, Provincial and Federal Chambers of Agriculture under the direction of the Canadian Chamber of Agriculture was passed. By co-ordinating the activities of all farm organizations in the county, Province and the Dominion it is hoped to bring together and to harness the best brains in the agricultural industry behind this effort to give agriculture the place in Canadian economic life it deserves, it was said.

More than 200 representatives from county chambers of agriculture, Provincial farm organizations and other marketing and co-operative groups attended the convention.

Smooth Sailing For Canada's War Effort

With the federal elections now neatly placed away as part of Canada's history, there appears to be fairly smooth sailing ahead for the country in its effort to help the allies win the war. The most cheerful note of the week is the highly commendable attitude of those citizens who supported the national government idea. Most of their leaders who fought a losing cause, have publicly pledged themselves to the support of a united Canada.

About the only disturbance of such a united effort appears on the horizon in Alberta, where Aberhart is still fooling some of the people. It is fairly safe to guess by the attitude of key men at Queen's Park that the Ontario situation, arising out of Premier Hepburn's disagreement with Prime Minister King, has been eased considerably. At the present moment, neither Hepburn nor the Ontario Liberal organization desires a provincial election, and for Mr. Hepburn to renew the feud against Ottawa would certainly mean a provincial election in the view of shrewd observers.

With the new government pledged to kep one eye on the efficient conduct of the war and the other on safeguards for Canada's economic structure, both during and after the war, two danger spots will be watched closely by the eye which is looking after the economic front.

These spots are communism, wherever it burrows from underneath across the country, and socal credit in Alberta.

Those who believe that the nation can maintain its integrity and make progress in world competition only by a strong adherence to the policy of honesty, find comfort in the fact that as a result of the Alberta elections, the debt-repudiating social credit government now represents very definitely a minority vote of the electors. And in the federal election, their representation was cut in tow.

Aberhart, for all his promises, has done nothing but pass unconstitutional legislation purporting to lead to the social credit millenium. He knew the legislation to be unconstitutional when he passed it. His most important items of legislation have led to his being defeated in the courts of Alberta; defeated in the Supreme Court of Canada; defeated before the federal cabinet with disallowances, and defeated before the Privy Council in England — the high court of the empire.

Child Recovered

(By Victoria Corners Corr.)

'When Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Stinson took their infant son to Toronto last week, the doctors there pronounced him cured, and decided no more treatments, neither at home nor at Toronto, were necessary. It is wonderful what can be done by science, perseverance and getting a start before the trouble was rooted. Donnie is a fine big healthy boy now, and repays the parents for all they did. First, a year going to Toronto every week, then ten weeks and so extended, seemed a long time ahead, but he made such good progress that the time was cut shorter.

222 THRESHER FIRES IN PAST FIVE YEARS

At the 26th annual convention of the Ontario Brotherhood of Threshermen at Waterloo it was drawn to the attention of those present that during the past five years there have been 222 thresher fires in Ontario with a total loss of $118,485. In two or three fires there was negligence, as the tractors were set over sections of strawstacks and sparks had started the fires. Ontario is practically the only province having thresher fires to any extent it was a condition hard to explain. One member reported that three fires in his district last year were all in steel barns. There were none in frame barns, he said The fires were in hot weather he said. There were none in cold weather.

The driver told the constable, after the collision, that he was prepared to give the lady driver coming toward him half the road, just as soon as he was able to ascertain whch half she wanted.

Presentation To A Future Bride

Over one hundred friends gathered at "The Maples" hall on Wednesday evening of last week, to honor Miss Nellie Stephens and the groom-to-be with a presentation and shower. Mr. Geo. I. Nodwell acted as chairman. During the evening an occasional chair was presented by the School Board, and a lace table cloth by the Institute. Miss Kathleen Reid read following address:

Dear Nellie and Coram:— We, your friends, take this opportunity on the occasion of your approaching marriage, to congratulate you on this important and happy event in your life. You, Nellie, have been with us almost four years as a teacher in our school and a willing helper in the social activities of this community, and words fail to express our regret at losing you, but our loss is another's gain.

We ask you to accept this address and these gifts as a token of our good wishes for you. May they in future years remind you of happy days and your many friends at "The Maples."

Signed on behalf of your many friends: Mary Nodwell, Kathleen Reid, Marion Mack, Marjorie Simpson, Margaret Moote, Arnold Oliver.

In a few well-chosen words Miss Stephens thanked them for the splendid co-operation she had enjoyed during her almost four-year stay. Mr. Hustler also thanked them for the gifts. Speeches were then made by the members of the School Board. Lunch was served and dancing was resumed until the small hours of the morning.

Flesherton Butcher Shops In Merger

A business deal took place in Flesherton the first of the week, which included both butcher shops owned by R. J. Priestley and Alex. Henderson. Hugh Bailey of Dundalk has purchased both businesses and will combine the two by taking over the building now occupied by Mr. Priestley. The shop operated by Mr. Henderson will be closed and Mr. Henderson will manage the new shop under Mr. Bailey. Mr. Priestley came to town from Maxwell two years ago and has been highly regarded as a butcher and his many friends will be sorry to see him and his family leave town. The merger will take place on April 15th.

BORN

BOYD — At the Private Patients' Pavillion, Toronto Western Hospital, on Tuesday, April 2nd, 1940, to Dr. and Mrs. W. K. Boyd, a daughter.

Five hundred years ago this year the art of printing was invented by John Gutenburg, of Mainz, Germany No invention in the history of the world has been such a boom to mankind for only through printed material can knowledge and wisdom be widly spread. Strange to say the first book printed by Gutenberg was the Bible. This made for the spread of Christianity. Even to-day there are more Bibles printed than any other book. Affairs in the world are bad enough as things are, but they would be infinitely worse had printing not been discovered and parfected.
