They Know Mountain Fighting, Too

Hitler's boys did some historic mountain fighting in Norway, but if they try it against Yugoslavia they'll run into the "komitadjis," famed for centuries for their mountain warfare. Expert sharpshooters, the fearless komitadjis have never been dislodged from their mountains. Here are some of them in festive dress.

How Can I?

BY ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove white spots on furniture caused by hot dishes or water?

A. Rub the spots with a mixture of machine oil and soda.

Q. How can I make a satisfactory emergency glue?

A. Soak some tapioca in warm water. This will prove a very satisfactory glue or paste.

Q. How can I remedy the loud ticking of a bedroom clock?

A. Place a glass container of some kind over the clock. It can then be seen without being heard.

Q. How can I make steak more tender?

A. A tough steak can be made more tender by rubbing with a piece of lemon and then with olive oil.

Q. Is it advisable to beat rugs and carpets when cleaning them?

A. Rug manufacturers advise against this, as beating causes the threads to weaken and break. Instead, use a carpet sweeper daily and a vacuum cleaner once a week, and beating will not be necessary.

Q. How can I clean a velvet piano cover?

A. Brush well; then sponge with a weak solution of benzine or borax. Dry thoroughly and then brush the pile the right way.

Nazis Fear Flank Attack

A real threat to German drive south is sure to result from Yugoslav position . . . Nation has best army in Balkans, could throw million men, fairly well trained but poorly equipped, in flank attack against extended German supply line.

Modern Etiquette

BY ROBERTA LEE

1. When a young man meets a girl on the street and stops to talk, shouldn't he remove his hat and hold it in his hand as long as he talks?

2. When giving a formal dinner, should the carving be done at the table?

3. Shouldn't a call of condolence be returned?

4. Is it necessary to repeat the person's name when being introduced?

5. Is it necessary to have a train on a white satin wedding dress?

6. Is it all right to use ruled paper for social correspondence?

Answers

1. It isn't necessary for him to hold his hat longer than a minute, and not at all if the weather is disagreeable. He should of course lift it when meeting the girl, and again when leaving. It would be presumptuous for a grl to expect a man to stand bareheaded in a snow storm or rain. 2. No; it should be done in the kitchen. At an informal dinner the carving may be done at the table. 3. No; it is not required and certainly should not be expected. 4. No. "How do you do" is sufficient. 5. The dress may be made with or without a train, depending upon the formality of the wedding. 6. No; if there is trouble in writing a straight line, buy the black-ruled paper which fits under the notepaper and envelopes. These are called "guides" and can be purchased in any stationery store.

Flies High for Science

Ordinarily most conservative in the altitudes at which its aircraft fly, Trans-Canada Lines went "stratosphere" at Montreal recently and sent one of its ships up to 22,600 feet. The ascent to more than the four mile level was in the cause of science, to test a stratosphere-type military flying suit.

HAVE YOU HEARD?

A bachelor, whose landlady was supposed to mend his clothes, grew tired of finding his pyjamas always without buttons.

In despair he pierced the lid of a cocoa tin and sewed it to his pyjama jacket as a hint.

When the jacket was returned, he found the lid still there, and opposite it a buttonhole of equal size!

Movie Star: "I've decided to demand a new trial."

Interviewer: "But why? You won the case."

Movie Star: "I know, but I'm not satisfied with the publicity."

The business man looked blue. He walked round the office with an extremely worried face.

"What's wrong with you?" asked his associate. "Family trouble?"

The other paced the luxurious room nervously.

"No," he replied, "it isn't that. It's something else—and I just can't explain it."

His associate lighted a big cigar.

"Stop talking nonsense, man," he advised. "Why, you're sitting on top of the world. For the past fifteen years, without fail, you've been drawing five thousand a year, and—"

"Now you've hit it," interrupted the other. "That's just what's worrying me. A twenty-five thousand a year income for the past fifteen years." He rubbed his weary forehead. "Don't you see how terrible it is?" he went on excitedly. "I'm in a rut!"

Betty: "Your new overcoat is pretty loud, isn't it?"

Billy: "Yeah, but I'm gonna buy a muffler to go with it."

First Little Girl: "I have two brothers and one sister."

Second Little Girl: "I have two sisters and one brother."

Third Little Girl: "I have no brothers and no sisters, but I have two papas by my first mama and three mamas by my second papa."

Bean Drying Is Successful

Tests Undertaken By Ontario Dept. of Agriculture Will Help Dispose of Bean Surplus In Province

W. R. Reek, deputy minister of agriculture, has announced that the experiment in bean drying which was conducted by the Ontario Government had proved a success. Last week the problem confronting the growers was to get their beans to some central point where the drying could be done without delay.

Thousands of bushels of beans in storage in Western Ontario were threatened when excessive moisture was discovered. The crop has to be dried within the next month if it is to be prevented from rotting.

Government officials have met with representatives of the growers to discuss the problem of transporting the beans to some central point capable of doing the drying quickly and at the same time it is expected steps will be taken to facilitate the marketing of the crop.

Sub-Arctic Holiday Open to Travellers

North of 54! The words conjure visions of intrepid explorers, sturdy French sailors and soldiers trying to hold an empire for their king, of Scottish people braving terrors in their search for a home, of missionaries, of prospectors. In August next the Canadian National Railways will offer an opportunity to visit this spacious empire. From Winnipeg to Churchill and return the special train will be home for the travellers who leave that city on August 15 and return on August 21, having in the meanwhile visited Dauphin, Flin Flon, Sherridon, the Pas and Churchill.

Adventure in Canada Yet Awaits Explorer

Positively adventure yet awaits the bold in Canada as witness this extract from a booklet entitled "Hunting, Fishing and Canoe Trips in Canada," issued by the Canadian National Raiways, the particular reference being to the Northwest Territories: "Decidedly not a tenderfoot's joy ride, but real explorers, not worried too much by maps that prove partly erroneous and not afraid of hearing the timber wolf at night, and preferably provided with the best equipment and guides, can find their heart's desire in this great solitude—right up to the edge of the barrens in the far-famed land of little sticks." The land referred to lies north of 60 degrees North and comprises an area of 1,309,682 square miles, while the hunting includes Polar Bear.

Over-Protected Child Grows Antagonistic

Antagonistic attitudes develop frequently in children who are given too much affection and over-protection, according to Dr. Mandel Sherman, psychologist and psychiatrist at the University of Chicago's orthogenic school.

"When the child grows up and leaves the family, he becomes disappointed and frustrated because those in the outside world obviously cannot give him the attention and affection to which he had become accustomed. This causes him to believe that people are unfair to him, and he later expresses this attitude by joining groups which are antagonistic to existing authority."

"A successful marriage is an edifice that must be rebuilt every day." —Andre Maurois.

Newsprint production in Canada during January, 1941, amounted to 261,298 tons, an increase of 10,266 tons over January, 1940.
