With Britain's Victorious Armies in Libya

In the seven weeks dating from the beginning of the great British offensive in Libya, the British, Indian and Dominion forces, under General Auchinleck, shattered Axis strongholds and resistance on this front, relieved the garrison of Tobruk and drove the battered and depleted German panzer divisions westwards in full retreat towards Tripolitania.

This picture shows South African troops debussing in the forward area to go into action.

British Victory in Libya—Official Battle Picture

Despite a stubborn defence offered at the onset to the British advance in Libya, which opened on November 18th last, British, Indian and Dominion forces finally smashed the German and Italian divisions on this front. This picture shows a British artillery officer giving orders to his battery by microphone.

THE SALVAGE MAN

Get ready for the salvage man,
Hunt up your scrap today;
Dig out old rags and papers,
That are always in the way.

Iron, too, find it all,
Aluminum and zinc;
Any little thing at all
Means more than you can think.

Mayhap some of those things
You have stored away,
Will help to stop those Japs and Huns
From coming here some day.

FEWER ARE TAKING MORE

People of Ontario had a $64,000-000 thirst in 1941, and the Provincial Government made a profit of $10,800-000 in providing the lisuor to quench Taking into consideration that there is a large proportion of the people of Ontario who don't touch it the fact that nearly 35,000,000 gallons of beer, wine and spirits were consumed in this Province in 1941 means that some fellows must absorb quite a bit of moisture during a twelvemonth.
