Britain's Railway Women Take Over the Steel Way

Over 50,000 British women are helping to run the railways in place of men called to the forces. Many of them have taken over from their husbands or brothers. They are carrying on the key job of dealing with an ever-increasing volume of war-time transport with cool efficiency.

Nominations Being Held In Flesherton And Artemesia

Nominations for the Council of the Township of Artemesia and the Village of Flesherton are being held on Friday of this week. The Township nomination will be held in the afternoon and the Village nomination in the evening. This year a familliar face will not be seen at the Artemesia nomination, that of the late Mr. W. J. Bellamy, who presided over the preliminaries for 62 meetings and 28 in the Village of Flesherton. Clerk Alex. Cameron will preside in Artemesia and Clerk C. J. Bellamy in Flesherton.

The annual financial statement of the Township of Artemesia has been prepared by Treasurer Alex. Cameron and has been printed, being available for distribution at the Nomination meeting. The statement shows a healthy state of the township's financial standing.

Reeve John A. Davis will be up for re-election again this year, as will his councillors, Frank Betts, J. McLoughry and Henry Tucker. The latter came into the Council in the spring when Councillor I. B. Whittaker received the appointment of Township Road Superintendent. Mr. Robt. Purvis, a councillor for many years has retired after giving good service and his seat will have to be filled. Whether any other ratepayers will be after an appointment is not known at present.

Due to an order of Premier M. F. Hepburn, this is the first Nomination meeting held in the past two years, although a meeting was held at the regular time last year to receive the report of the treasurer. It is hoped that the ratepayers will have enough interest in the affairs of their township to attend.

The groom was supported by his brother, Cpl. L. Hall of the Signal Corps, Camp Borden.

A bit of irony by the Windsor Star: "French fleet had better come over to our side quick — or the Italians will beat them to it."

Deer Were Flighty

One week of deer hunting in the Flesherton did not result in a great number of deer being brought down. Quite a large number were seen within three miles of town. but they were very elusive and hard to locate at the proper time. Three deer were being chased from swamp to swamp within two miles of town and escaped all week. Saturday evening at dusk they were seen standing on the road about thirty yards in front of the occupants of a car, but there was not a gun handy. Emerson McKillop and Albert Sparks captured theirs the second day of the hunt and missed other good shots, as was the experience of most of the hunters. Others who are now supplied with venison include Jas. Oliver of the O.D.R., Jas. Turner of Laurel, hunting south of Priceville, W. J. Chard, Leslie Chard and Arthur Chard. We understand that about 20 deer were taken out of the valley, north of Kimberley, by resident and outside hunters.

The deer hunt was very successful this year, as far as the government was concerned, as they sold hundreds of licenses to hunters, scores of whom went home sadder and wiser without their deer, but enjoyed a fine holiday with real fall weather.

DICKSON-WILSON

A pretty autumn wedding was solemnized in Metropolitan Chapel, Toronto, recently, when Rev. Peter Bryce united in marriage Phyllis Corinne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark E. Wilson of Guelph, and Gordon Norman Albert Dickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Dickson of Orchard, Ont. Mrs. R. Jickells was at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Pilot Officer Arthur Lawler of Aylmer, wore a fir-tree green angora dress with gold beading. Her accessories were in dark brown and she wore a corsage of white Killarney roses. Mrs. Arthur Lawler, Guelph, Ont., sister of the bride, was matron of honour. She wore a rose and brown ensemble with corsage of bronze 'mums. The bridesmaid, Miss Ilyene Dickson, sister of the groom, was in leaf green and her corsage was of deep crimson baby mums. They wore large picture hats with brown accessories. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Carmen Dickson.

Standards of autumn flowers decorated the altar. During the signing of the register, Ross E. Wilson, brother of the bride, sang "O Promise Me."

Following the ceremony a reception for the immediate families was held in the Windsor Room of the Savarin Hotel.

For travelling the bride wore a brown tailored suit, a twin to that of the groom, and a tweed top-coat in beige. The couple left for a honeymoon in the Muskoka district. They will reside at 302 Drew St., Oshawa.

The bride was given a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Lorne Heels, 251 Osler Ave., Toronto. from her friends at Research Enterprise, among the gifts being a lovely table lamp, Corey coffee maker, toaster and pyrex ware.

She received many beautiful gifts

A dinner party was held in her honour at Ellen Bradley's Tea Room by her girl friends now in Toronto. Those present were Evelyn Aljoe, Jessie Grant, Florence Greenwood, Emilie Pinkerton, Loraine McArthur, Vera Lauder and Gladys Gray. At the close of the evening the bride was presented with a lovely silver dish with best wishes from the girls.

MEMORIES

The times I've groused about that room
And those two careless boys,
They always left a litter there
Of clothes, and books, and toys;
There were stamps and syrup labels,
Hockey sticks and pads;
I've always vowed there never were
Two more untidy lads.

Now'days when cleaning up the house,
This room I need not touch;
Nothing's out of place there now,
And no one knows how much
I'd give to pick their treasures up,
Clear chairs and make the beds,
And later see there, resting,
Two dear unruly heads.

Mothers, wtih your children dear,
Be gentle, do not scold,
For while they're at your table
You are blessed a hundred fold;
Just now you are their little world,
You are all they need to know;
Be happy while you have them,
Some day you'll miss them so.

70 Vernon St. Toronto, Ont.
