The remark of Chief Justice Robertson of the Ontario Court of Appeal, that the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph is a 'training ground for criminals" is enough to cause the late Hon. W. J. Hanna to turn in his grave. The Guelph institution was built under Mr. Hanna's authority when he was Provincial Secretary in the Whitney government. It was his pet and his hobby. It was to be more than a prison. It was to be a reformatory in the widest sense of humanitarian idealism. It was to be an enduring monument to a big hearted man. And now it is termed a training ground for criminals!

But Mr. Hanna's vision may yet bear fruit. Somewhere in Ottawa there reposes a report on prison reform, which one day, let us hope, a Government which places human welfare above material interests, will pry loose from its moorings, and give to Canada a prison system dedicated to the noble purpose of returning men and women, who have gone astray, to their rightful place in society. Remarks such as those made by the Chief Justice should spur such a movement along. Justice must not be blind.

In one report Mussolini is reported rescued and in another, slain. Take your choice—and we have a hunch it will be the same as ours.

One thing this war has solved—thousands of women don't have to worry every spring and fall what fashions to wear.

FARMERS GET SHORT MEASURE

The problems of Mr. Donald Gordon are no doubt numerous as he endeavors to mantain price control. Whether intentional or not it is no secret that farmers are getting the short end of the measuring stick. In Mr. Gordon's effort to hold down the cost of living he has certainly been hard on the arm of farm men and women who are responsible for our food production.

We are especially thinking of the sheep industry. Two years ago farmers were asked to increase productio of sheep with the assurance of good prices. On September first the Wartime Prices Board reduced the prices of lamb which meant a three-cent drop to the producers. This brought the prices back to pre-war levels. The result is many farmers are discouraged.

Farmers are loyal and want to do a part in our war effort, but when returns are disappointing they quit and unfortunately too many of them are doing that.—Creemore Star.

All we have to lick now is—Germany, Japan, and over-confidence at home.
