OTTAWA NEWS LETTER

The Progressive Conservative Association, in annual meeting here, tacitly endorsed the federal labor code by adopting a new party plank asking that it apply to all industry and be made permanent. The Progressive Conservatives proposed that this be done, not by amendment of the British North America Act, but by agreement between the Dominion and the provinces. The new national labor code received further unexpected approval when the Ontario Government announced it would adopt its provisions and have it govern employer-employee relations in that province.

The code prohibits strikes or lockouts until every effort has been made to settle disputes by collective bargto settle disputes by collective bargaining and compulsory arbitration.

The frank presentation in the House of Commons by Hon. C. G. Power, Minister for Air, of the demobilization and rehabilitation problems, received warm commendation from all parties. Major Power took the House into his confidence as to the difficulties of the situation but said that the government was prepared to take every measure necessary to meet the requirements of men leaving the service after the war. Once again Parliament demonstrated its disposition to get down to business and passed the air estimate of $1,090,000,000 in three days.

FAMILY ALLOWANCES

The Government proposal for family allowances was not criticized at the annual meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association, which dealt largely with matters of policy. The attitude of the Bracken party was expressed in a resolution asking that family allowances not be used as an instrument for low wages in Canada. The Government had already divorced the question of wage adjustments and family allowances by making the latter plan an integral part of its general social security program.

The war expenditures committee of Parliament upheld Hughes Cleaver to hold its meetings in secret. ruling that the committee had power to hold its meetings in secret Last week Progressive Conservative members claimed the committee could not sit behind closed doors as it had not been set up by Parliament as a secret committee. The meeting authorized the issuance of minutes of meetings by the clerk. Mr. Cleaver said that evidence on war expenditures could be more fully obtained when meetings were held in secret, subject to the judgment of the committee as to publication f the evidence. The Government position throughout has been that the most trying period of the war for Canadians is still ahead and that no information which may assi t the enemy should be disclosed.

POLICY OF PLENTY

Strong intimation that monetary restrictions must not limit Canada's industrial and agricultural production after the war was given the Commons committee on reconstruction by Dr. W. C. Clark, Deputy Minister of Finance. Dr. Clark told the committee it could not be assumed that the gold standard would return in the post-war period. This is taken to mean that the Dominion's productive capacity will not be restricted to meet an antiquated distribution system, but that a policy will be adopted for utmost use of Canada's natural resources and manufacturing facilities. Distribution methods will be worked out to see that general benefit to all Canadians will be attained, according to most recent enunciation of government plans.

There's ROOM FOR EVERYBODY...

PRODUCTION MEN—keeping in constant touch with sources of raw materials, suppliers of parts, government and military authorities.

THE ARMED FORCES—with responsibility for training and supply, for troop movements, for operations on land, air and ocean battlefronts.

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS—in touch with every phase of our production and military program—with foreign governments—with national and international war agencies.

YOU—depending on your telephone for quick, essential communication at work and at home.

But telephone lines can carry this wartime load only if we all use existing facilities sparingly, and keep our calls just as short and business-like as we can.

Additional equipment is severely limited by material shortages; co-operation must take the place of construction if essential calls are to go through promptly.
