Halton Hills has lost a favourite employee.

Dale Turnbull, Halton Hills Chamber of Commerce Employee of the Year for 2007, died Sunday, Nov. 10, following a long battle with brain cancer. He was 60.

Turnbull was well-known by customers at Food Basics, as he worked the parking lot, returning shopping carts and helping customers load groceries into their cars.

"He had to quit work (at Food Basics) last June," said his mother Edna Turnbull. "The cancer was progressing and he just couldn't work any more."

"Even though he was in the hospital," she continued, "people were always asking 'How's Dale doing?' and I'd have to say 'He's comfortable.' It was so nice the way people were always asking about him. I think he was an inspiration to many people—he was always so caring."

Turnbull was nominated as the Halton Hills Chamber of Commerce 2007 Em-

Correction:
Gardinia, staffer misspelled

In the November 7 edition of The Independent & Free Press, the caption accompanying the photo of three new Mill Street businesses contained errors.

Patrick Mannell's name was misspelled as was Gardinia. Gardinia owner Dini Lamers was omitted.

The Independent & Free Press regrets the errors.
