The Fifth Mobile Blood donor clinic held in Flesherton on Friday, June 9th, was a decided success. 144 men and women volunteered to supply the blood plasma, which is so urgently needed at the present time. The Red Cross nurse, Mrs. Richardson, who was in charge of the clinic, commented very favourably on the organization and conduct of the clinic. The 144 blood donors and all others who took part in the clinic can feel very proud, that they had a part in making the fifth blood donors' clinic one of the best ever held in the Province of Ontario for the size of the community.

Sund'y School Conventions

Osprey Township

The Annual Convention of Osprey Sunday Schools was held in the Wareham United Church, afternoon and evening of June 7th. Rev. Holmes presided in the absence of president and vice-president. After reading Psalms 145 and 146, Mr. Holmes led in prayer, devoted to the calling upon God, that in this great hour of peril and need, He might see fit to bestow His blessing upon all our civil and national life. Special blessing upon all administration of those in authority and our armed forces, as we believe we are fighting for Christian liberty and freedom of worship. On behalf of Wareham Church, Mr. Holmes gave a hearty welcome to the convention. The special speaker was Rev. Geo. Morrison who ably outlined, "Home problems in which the church can help bring the church and the Sunday School into the homes," stressed the need for co-operation between the home and church, Christian teaching in the home having fallen down. The Church must show parents the need the help of the church to teach the child to pray intelligently.

Address by Rev. Morrison also spoke on "Visitation Evangelism," a special program for the organized church to carry out.

Discussion on parent-teacher relationship was led by D. Stephens, which brought out problems to be faced and how they might be solved. Problem to Present Christianity

To present Christianity, clear cut and definite, a definite faith, producing quality in character positively Christian, living and mutured in the church, a living expression of God's great family, new birth through the blood of Christ. A couple of numbers sung by Miss E. Lepard and Miss B. Lougheed and led by Mrs. Percy Lougheed and Miss Mary Nicol, were much appreciated.

A sumptuous supper was provided by the Wareham ladies in the basement.

At the evening service a song service was led by Mr. H. K. Leary and devotions by Rev. L. Shein.

The following were elected to office for the coming year:

President—D. Stephens.
Vice President—Rev. Serjent
Secretary Treasurer—Mrs. Wilfred Inkster.
Boys, Work—Rev. Holmes.
Girls, Work—Mrs. Harry Hannon.
Home Department—Miss Mable Ross.
Missionary—Mrs. Geo. McDonald.

The Resolution Committee expressed thanks to all who in any way participated in making the convention a success, particularly the Rev. Geo. Morrison and the ladies and people of Wareham

The Badjeros Sunday School to the number of about 16, rendered a number of selections, which was much enjoyed.

Rev. Geo. Morrison, again addressed the convention, having as his subject, "The Home as an Agency of Christian Education." He stressed the difficulties to be faced: the change which will accompany return of armed forces to ordinary civil life; the easy money earned in industry by both men women; loose living and delinquency; junior crime traceable to homes; failure in family relationships; parents falling down in their duty; young people living adult lives before they are adults. He stated that the home has thrown the children on other agencies for Christian education The family must be Sunday School and church centred to win, making Christ the centre of living. Rev. Holmes closed the convention with prayer.

The new executive is looking forward to taking a deeper interest in the work of Sunday Schools and trust that through the Sunday Schools much can be accomplished in support of Christian activities. Let our motto be, "Every Home a Christian Home."

Artemesia Township

The 45th annual convention, under the auspices of the Religious Education Council, of the Sunday Schools of Markdale, Flesherton and Artemesia was held on Thursday afternoon and evening in the United Church at Vandeleur. Rev. Geo. Morrison represented the Council, and the president, W. J. Messenger, had charge.

The opening worship service was conducted by Rev. N. E. Caswell. Rev. G. Morrison presented the various ways in which the Church and Sunday School can be of help to parents, by teaching children to know God, and to pray by showing the value of fellowship in the home and by assisting in the problem of imparting sex information.

The secretary's report showed that there were 12 Sunday Schools in the district with a total enrollment of 600, the highest enrollment being 130 and the lowest 12. The president expressed regret that some of the schools were not represented.

In the round table conference, Rev. G. Morrison dealt with parent-teacher relations and ways of getting parents and teachers together in confidence and understanding. The afternoon session closed wih a discussion of some changes members would like to introduce in the convention district.

The Vandeleur ladies, assisted by picnic lunches brought by delegates, provided a bountiful supper that was enjoyed by all.

Rev. W. A. Westcott of Flesherton conducted the evening service, after which Rev. Mr. Morrison spoke on "Questions Boys and Girls Would Ask."

Two very inspirational addresses were given at this session. Rev. C. D. Cox of Priceville, spoke on "The Teachers' Contribution to Home and Sunday School," pointing out that the time will never come when parents have lost their responsibility for their children's training. Some fathers he said are much more interested in producing pure bred farm stock than in teaching their own sons The best way to train the young, he said, was to train yourself at the same time. The teacher must endeavor to establish a friendly relationship in the home, casual and helpful.

Rev. Geo. Morrison, in his closing address, chose as his theme, "The Home as an Agency of Christian Education." He stressed the fact that the school cannot accomplish its purpose without the co-operation of the home, and that what we want our children to learn, we must be ourselves.

Solos were given by Melville Buchanan, and led by little Jean Cargo.

Officers elected were: President, W. J. Messenger; vice-president, Mrs. Martin of Eugenia; secy.-treasurer, H. I. Graham; superintendents of Departments: Children, Miss Dorothy Boyd; Girls, Miss I. Nichols; Boys, Rev. C D. Cox; Young People's, Rev. Mr. Keyes; Adult, Mr. Brackenbury; Home, Mr. Paul Rumball; Teacher-training, Rev. W. A. Westcott; Missionary, Rev. J. R. Bythell; Temperance, Rev. D. Harris.
