Your Vacation in Old Québec...

SHOULD business or furlough from wartime duties bring you to Old Québec this summer, you'll find a warm-hearted hospitality in this good-neighbour province. Although our entire resources of men, women, agriculture, mining, fishing, manufacturing, shipbuilding, are working all-out for Victory, we still welcome our friends and neighbours enthusiastically. We look forward keenly to peace days when we may again greet our thousands of visitors, old and new, and extend to them the unhampered facilities of this scenic, historic vacation-and-sports-land.

Perhaps you can't visit us this summer. Well, it's not too early to plan now for that wonderful first peacetime holiday in French Canada! Write or phone us for free descriptive literature and road map.

ARMY EXPANSION

Probably the United States' heaviest draft registrant is Robert Huges, above, of Mt. Sterling, Ill. Officials took no risk of being false prophets when they said his weight would probably keep him out of the Army.
