FAMILY ALLOWANCES TO START JULF 1, 1945

Details of the biggest social measure in Canada's history, family allowances based on the number of children under 16, have been presented to Parliament. Starting July 1, 1945, payment will be made in respect to 3,450,000 under 16 years of age. The outlay will be about $200,000,000 a year and every cent of this will add to the purchasing power of low-income groups, enabling them to buy goods and produce made or produced in Canada.

Cheques will go to the parent who supports the children. In the case of men overseas the cheques will go to their wives at home. The scale is: $5 a month for a child between 6 and 10; $7 a month for a child between 10 and 13 and $8 a month for a child between 13 and 16. Where there is a large family the rates will be lower by $1 a month for the fifth child; by $2 a month for the 6th and 7th children and by $3 a month for the 8th and any additional children. Thus payments will run from $5 a month to $40 and are expected to average about $6.25 a month per child.

It is believed this is one of the largest postwar prosperity measures ever attempted. Not only will it enable low income families to improve their standard of living and clothe and feed their children better, but the added demand for articles and food will stimulate sales from farms and factories throughout the Dominion.

Damage Action Entered Against Two Townships

As a result of the fatal accident on the town line of Artemesia and Glenelg, near what is known as the South Line, south of No. 4 Highway on June 9th last, when Corporal Bruce Arthur Riley of the Motor Cycle Corps, Camp Borden, was killed, notice has been received by the townships of Glenelg and Artemsia that an action is to be entered to collect damages, it being alleged the accident was caused by a hole in the road. Riley was one of half a dozen cyclists out on manoeuvres when the accident happened. He was a native of Hanover, but at the time of the accident his wife resided in Toronto.

The notice of action was received from Camp Borden.

Going Strong After Five Days Fighting In France

The following letter was received by Mrs. W. J. Blackburn from her son, Tpr. Earl Blackburn, who took part in the invasion of France. It was written on June 10th and was received here June 22nd:

A few lines once more, only under different circumstances this time. I must say that at the present I am writing this sitting in my tank about 2,000 yards from the German lines and up until a few moments ago they were dropping a few artillery shells around so, of course, we got out of the way for the moment.

I landed on the French coast on the big day called D-Day, as I imagine you have heard considerable about, and have been in the front lines ever since. In fact I have been through the German lines twice today and back safe. We sure had to travel, but that is my job in Recce troops, as we go through and see what he's got for the boys to work on.

I really don't think there has ever been anybody in this world more scared that I have been at times, but am getting sort of used to it now. I have had some pretty close shaves, but I still don't think he is going to stop me doing what I came here for. I have sure seen plenty of good Germans (dead ones). I feel quite satisfied now. I had been driving a tank in England for quite awhile without any accidents and have finished five days of action so far and still going strong.

I have been out again, so I had better finish this while I have the chance. We are eating well, fixing it up ourselves when we have the chance, so we manage quite well that way.

The Air Force is around quite a lot in large numbers and Jerry's planes get in once and awhile to make us hit for cover.

Being as it is 12.45 in the morning now, and I have to be ready to roll at 4.30, I guess I better get a couple hours of sleep if possible, now that it has cooled down. Give my best regards to everybody, as I don't expect to have much chance for letters until we get back behind the lines for a rest.

TORONTO PICNIC WAS WELL ATTENDED

The "Get-together" of the Flesherton-Toronto Old Boys and Girls was held in High Park, Toronto, last Sunday has been declared as being very successful. The day was ideal and more than two hundred gathered to enjoy it and meet old friends. The Flesherton attendants were: Mr. Geo. Armstrong, Mrs. Geo. Johnson and Mrs. Harold Best and Geraldine. Hymns were sung in the evening, prior to a very pleasant supper, led by Dr. F. W. Murray. Troop Officer Gives News About Joe Little's Wounds

Mrs. Jos. Little, Eugenia, has received a letter from Lieut. James A. Cameron, in command of the troop of which her husband is a member, and telling how Joe came to be wounded. We quote the letter in part: "By this time you probably have heard from your husband and know that he is making a fine recovery. Joe is a fine chap and I know you are very proud of him. He did a grand job in the troop. It was in the Rapido River show; the fighting was guite tough When trying to cross a valley the tank bogged down, with Jerry on the ridge in front of us. I got out to ask the tank behind to try and tow us out Joe got out and helped the driver (Lloyd Dixon) put the cable on. Just then Jerry let loose with mortars. Dixon went around the left of the tank. Joe and I crowded at the right rear of the tank. They were leading extremely close, practically underneath us, when I noticed Joe rolled over, and I knew he had been hit. I assisted him into the tank, where the boys had him bandaged in no time, and gave him some morphine—also a cigarette. He received a bad gash in the head, also in the groin. It wasn't till that night (he was wounded at 3 p.m., May 12) that I was able to assist him back to the R.A.P. so he could be evacuated. He was grand all the way over—never a murmur out of him, except when we got tangled in some barbed wire and then fell in a deep muddy ditch. It was so funny that we paid no attention to Jerry or shellfire, but broke out laughing right there. I will try to get down and see Joe soon, if he hasn't left the hospital for a convalescent camp. Joe took the blast that day that would have got me if he wasn't there." Latest information is to the effect that Joe is progressing favorably, but he may be a little deaf.

RADLEY — In loving memory of Selina Radley, beloved mother and grandmother, who passed away June 27th, 1939.

She has gone across the river
To the shores of ever green,

Some day, some time, our eyes shall see
The face we loved so well.
Some day we'll clasp her loving hand
And never say farewell.
