

Rescued cats now seeking homes

Some of the healthier cats among the more than 100 felines rescued from a Halton Hills' home in September are now ready for adoption.

The Oakville & Milton Humane Society announced Monday that special viewings of the cats in the education room of the shelter will be held, with the hope of finding "forever" homes for the animals.

"We will be showing just a few at a time," said Andrea Barker, the OMHS's Manager of Animal Care. "Because of their history, some may be more timid than the average cat and all will need longer than usual to settle in to a new home."

The OMHS is looking for some special families for these special cats. By having special viewing days and times, people who feel like they may be a good fit will have the opportunity to come in and meet the cats and apply to adopt them.

The special adoption dates for the rescued cats are Nov. 23-24 and Nov. 30th & Dec. 1 from noon to 5 p.m. As more of the cats recover from illnesses and surgeries, additional dates will be announced.

The adoption fee for adult cats is $150 and includes spay/neuter, all vaccines up to date, micro-chipping, six weeks

"It's our hope to have as many of the cats as possible in loving homes for the holidays" said Barker.

Beginning on Sept. 5, the OMHS removed 107 live cats and 10 deceased cats from a house in Halton Hills, after an anonymous tip that there could be as many as 200 cats living at the address.

Charges of nine counts of animal cruelty have been laid against Ruth Naccarato, founder of Kool Kats Rescue.
