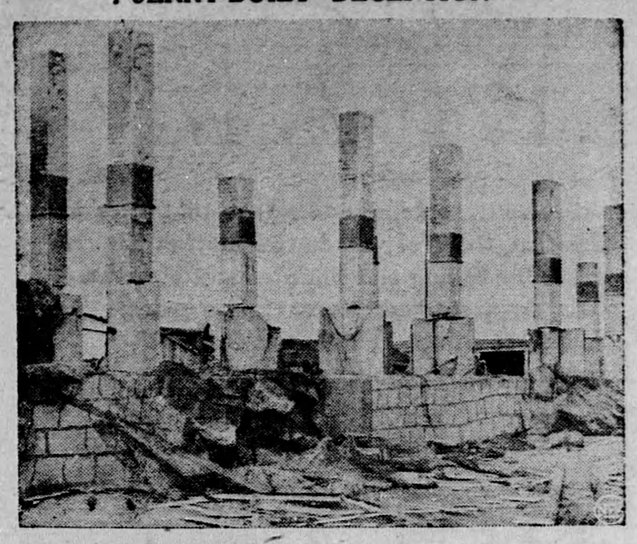
. JERRY-BUILT DECEPTION

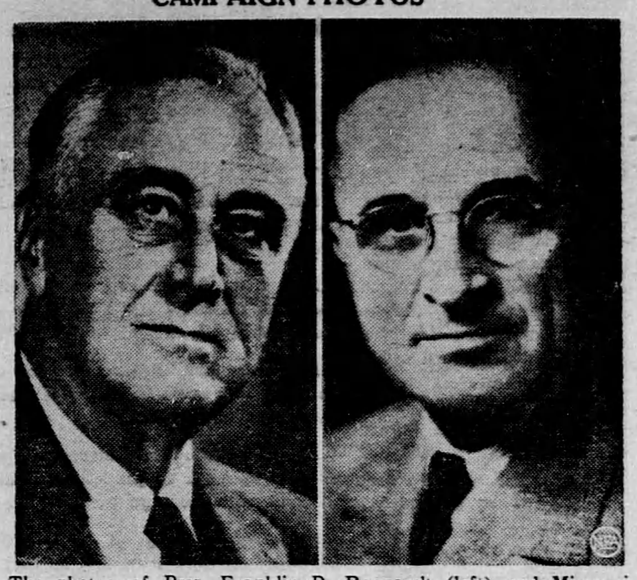


Very deceitful creatures, those Nazis. Photos above show two examples of elaborate camouflage found by Yank troops somewhere in France after Germans fled. Top photo shows what's apparently the stark skeleton of a bombed building. It is a complete fake, having been carefully constructed by Germans to fool Allied airmen into passing up the area. The "ruins" conceal large underground barracks. Also built to hide subterranean quarters was the "farmhouse" in bottom photo. It was pains-takingly constructed of plywood and netting, elaborately painted for realistic effect.

CANADIANS IN PARIS

On the steps of the Church of the Sacred Heart, overlooking Paris, F/O C. E. Glover, Fort William, Ontario, chats with a group of French people who tell him how glad they are that the Germans have gone.

CAMPAIGN PHOTOS

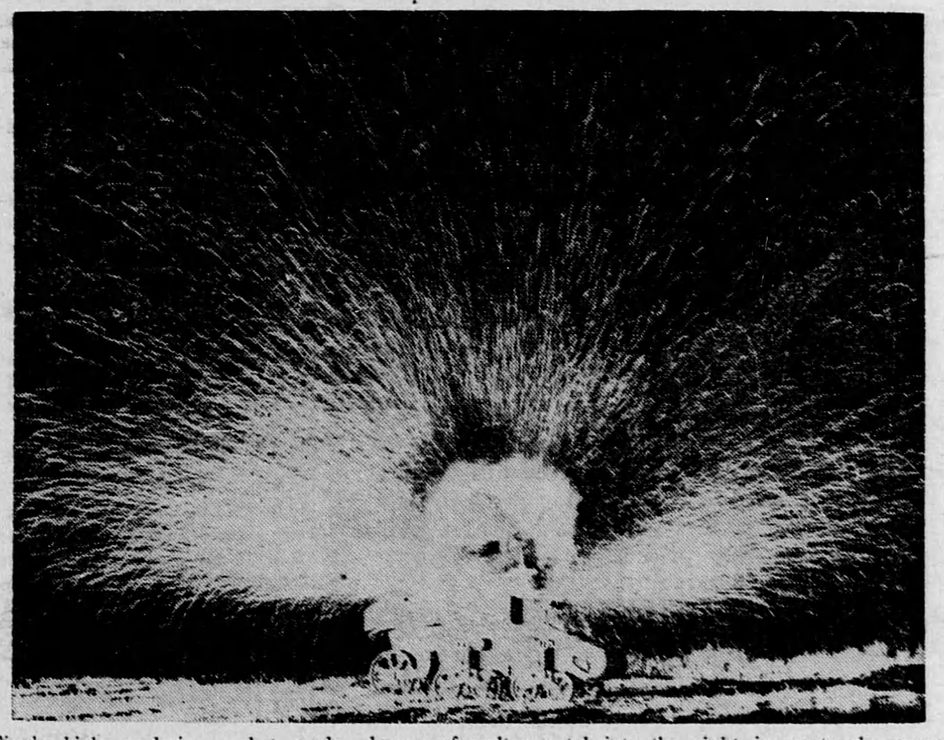


The photos of Pres. Franklin D. Roosevelt (left) and Missouri Senator Harry S. Truman (right), Democratic Vice-President candidate, have been designated by the Democratic National Committee as the official pictures to be used throughout the country during the national campaign.

PARATROOPERS SAY GOOD-BYE'S

Saying good-bye to an Army nurse at an airport in England, paratroopers get ready to take off for the invasion of Holland, the greatest airborne operation in all history. Over 1,000 planes participated in the landing of troops, which the German radio said took place along a 70-mile front extending from the Rhine Delta to Nijmegen, only three miles from the German frontier.

MOLTEN METAL FIREWORKS



Single high explosive rocket sends shower of molten metal into the night in spectacular array. Picture was made when bazooka was fired at tank at Camp Roberts, Calf. Result was three-inch hole in armor plating.
