YOUR SUBSCRIPTION DUE

We wish to thank all those who have been so prompt in renewing their subscriptions to The Advance during the past few weeks. A large number come due the first of the year and we would be glad to write receipts for many more during the next few weeks. The Wartime Prices and Trades Board requires that all subscriptions must be paid in advance, or the subscriber taken from the mailing list. We have been very lenient so far, but in the near future we will be again obliged to go over our lists and prune out those who have not paid. As we have said in the past, we don't wish to deprive any person of reading The Advance, but if payment is not made we will be forced to follow our definite instructions in this regard.

SOAKING THE RICH

(Toronto Telegram)

There is little doubt that because of heavy taxation the springs of private charity will dry up. The levies on gifts and inheritances over the decade or two will dissolve the largest fortune now in existance, and the high level of income tax has spelled the doom of new accumulations of wealth by one family. Consequently the outlook of private institutions and charities dependent upon the generosity of large contributors is none too bright. What we may ultimately see is the dependence of those institutions and foundations on other than charitable aid.

Charities maintained chiefly with money provided by wealthy benefactors have accomplished a tremendous amount of good. They have assisted the victims of misfortune, promoted science and relieved the public purse of heavy expenditures.

The disappearance of their support would necessitate the governments coming to their aid with State funds from taxation

The public health is the foundation upon which rests the happiness of the people and the welfare of the nation. The care of public health is the first duty of the statesman.

Adam and Eve were naming the animals of the earth when along came a rhinoceros.

"What shall we call this one?" asked Adam.

"Let's call it a rhinoceros."

"But why a rhinoceros?"

"Well, because it it looks more like a rhinoceros than anything we have named yet."

"The army must be reinforced . . . must be kept up to strength . . . and it is the first duty of the people of Canada to see that it is"

General McNaughton, speaking in Owen Sound.

On Feb. 5th you have a vital choice to make, and all Canada looks to North Grey to choose rightly. For this choice affects the war effort of all Canada.

You are going to give one of three men a seat in Parliament, where he can have a free voice. If you send Mr. Case or Mr. Godfrey, they simply become one member among 238 others. Neither one can be Minister of Defence.

If you send General McNaughton, he is Minister of Defence. He is pledged to support the Canadian Army which he built. Although he is Minister of Defence, he needs a seat to have a free voice in Parliament, or he is badly handicapped.

Many issues have been brought up, which cannot be settled until the General Election. But the matter you must settle now is this:—Will you give Canada's Minister of National Defence a seat in Parliament —or will you deny him this help?
