Friday night a number from here attended the Red Cross carnival in Dundalk. A record crowd was in attendance and the carnival proved quite interesting, despite the ice conditions due to higher temperature.

Cashier — "I'm afraid I'm not as pretty as I used to be."

Boss — "What make you say that?"

Cashier — "The men have started counting their change."

The driver of a Western bus drew up and found he was in the hands of bandits.

"Hands up," said one of the bandits. "We're going to rob the men and kiss the women."

"No," said another member of the gang, "we'll leave the ladies alone."

"Young man," said a woman of uncertain age, "mind your ouwn business; your friend is managing this holdup."

GRADE IX

Bob Turney has been feeling pretty sick. He doesn't know whether it was the blonde or not.

Nice moon Monday night, wasn't there Don? Or was it the moon?

Ruth doesn't believe in the boys get you to come out, by whistling.

We have a new game, Table Tennis. What an excuse for some pupils to hang around at night!

Our red head believes in working hard.

The fund for Bob Turney's candy is still growing, but we will soon have to make another for Don Banks.

Eleanor Proctor didn't accept the invitation to supper last night. Too bad, eh!

GRADE X

Jim A. is our wizard in French now. How does he do it?

We have had an argument as to whether Shirley gets the most letters from Markdale or Mount Forest.

Marion has taken some money from Jim to buy him some refills.

Keith's writing is improving. He can read it now.

Wanted — By Douglas Oliver, some knowledge in history.

Wanted — A patch for David Aberdein's pants.

How did the chicken, tarts and pie taste, Barbara.

GRADE XI

Wesley — "Who goes there?"

Answer — "It is we, Parenthetic Sentence Modifiers."

We are pleased to have Ted Banks in our Latin classes as we never again are puzzled about the Future Perfect Tense because that's what Ted is famous for.

That was a bright idea Lois, purchasing a bottle of ink. Thanks a lot for lending yours, Marge.

Eleanor Williams must be part Irish for she loves that name "Pat".

Betty wishes we were taking the course of Art in third form because she thinks it would be nice to follow (cute little pun on Art.)

Donald should get a wagon to carry all those books with him at noon.

We think Mabel is going to be our Sonja Henie as she has a nice new skating costume which catches the boy's eyes.

Nancy has a craven for Ken. We wonder why?

We think there is a guy in Eugenia who has a ford car with two tail lights who gets Joy out smooching.

Sure sign of spring. Leona's got her green knee socks on.

GRADE XII

Died — On Feb. 31st, 1000 B.C., the language, Latin. The cause was a sudden war with Hannibal.

Wanted — Knowledge for all in Algebra.

We wish to express our sincere thanks for the new Table Tennis so generously provided by Flesherton High School Literary Society.

What did one Fourth Form pupil do but go and search in the lumber yard for the Board of Education last week.

Why do Fourth Form go to school? To get an education so we can get a job to earn the dough to buy the bread to give us strength to go to work — "Our ambition."

This week the roads have been impossible, but two of our boys, Douglas and Burton, still find it impossible to reach school in time.

A catching flu is convenient when it catches up on that day when we have both Intensive Latin and French. Maybe Margaret and Dorothy are just lucky. Hazel wishes she was lucky too.

GRADE XIII

Congratulations are due to Margaret this week. She has been at assembly every morning for five whole days. An unprecedent event in her history.

We've had three visitors to our class this week, in the persons of, L.A.C. Bud Thurston, home on furlough from Calgary, Margaret McMillan and Dorothy Falconer, student nurses at the Owen Sound hospital. Needless to say, we were very glad to see them.

The school has acquired a set of table tennis equipment and our good hearted caretaker has made us a beautiful table. The game has become tremendously popular, and noon hours and after school hours always find four students hard at it and the table surrounded by others waiting their turn. Even the teachers enjoy playing it.

We wonder what is going to become of first form. We've never seen such a shocking class. They chase each other through the halls, endangering other students, screaching at the tops of their lungs, when good manners require them to walk and modulate their voices. They hang their coats on hooks, reserved know that each class has coatroom for fifth form, even though they of its own. Come, come, Grade IX you're in high school now, and you should act accordingly, not like rowdy kindergarteners.

Frances has a lonely pre-occupied look lately. Wonder why?

Angus becomes more of a genius every day. Mrs. Goheen couldn't figure out why her physics experiment wouldn't work, but Angus soon set it to rights, while the rest of us gaped in awe.

The boys are all growing mustaches. They remind us of Bunam Wood coming to Dunsivan. Lead on Macduff! Never mind guys, we like your busute adornments and they are so masculine.

Art says he goes hunting rabbits at night with her kid brother, but we notice that he always heads, sooner or later, for the big red and white house near the edge of town. The reason is obvious, isn't it?

POULTRY

The Poultry Market outlook for 1945 is rather good as there is reasonable assurance that the same export market will be available for this year's crop. The prices will, therefore, be approximately the same as last year.

In 1944 we bought the large portion of our poultry on rail grade basis, which meant more money to the producer for good qu ltry. We are still doing this and intend to even a greater extent in the future.

Notice to Our Patrons

If you still have some chickens or a surplus of fowl bring it in. We will buy them alive or dress them for you and buy them rail grade. Our prices are good.

Till further notice the Creamery will be closed Saturday nights
