OTTAWA REPORTS

That The Sugar Beet Industry of Ontario May Be Entirely Mechanized Soon.

The back-breaking work in the sugar beet industry together with the shortage of labor has heretofore kept down the beet acreage of eastern Canadian farms, but the situation is now likely to change. Difficult conditions have spurred efforts to mechanize the industry and a combine has already been imported by the Canada and Dominion Sugar Company to Kent County, Ontario. The combine digs the beets, tops them and loads them into trucks following the combine in the field in much the same manner as a corn combine.

For some time labor saving machinery has been used successfully in western Canada where the farms are large and rolling, but the smallness of the sugar beet fields of Canada necessitated a special adaptation of the combine. Now it has arrived and predictions are that the entire industry will be mechanized within a few years.

Research workers of the Animal Nutrition Department of the Ontario Agriculture College have been responsible for saving the poultry industry from staggering losses. To them also goes much of the credit for the wartime upswing in the production of poultry and eggs.

In 1930 the industry faced disaster as a result of pullorum disease. A research project was launched with results which reduced the incidence of the disease from 10 per cent to two per cent. In 1941, just when the industry was being called upon to increase production for wartime needs, a variant of the disease, called the X-bug, showed up. Mortality rates rose again and back went the specialists to microscopes and test tubes. A new type of antigen for testing purposes resulted and the X-bug was checked. One phase of the work has been the cleaning up of hatcheries and the use of gas in killing off the organism was successfully developed.

German prisoners of war in the Medicine Hat Internment Camp are operating the largest vegetable farm in Alberta, the "Golden Valley Farm". The produce not only keeps the rations of the personnel in M.D. 13 well supplied with vitamin foods, but contributes substantially to federal government coffers. This year, the second of operation for the scheme, it is estimated that production will be 1,800 tons of vegetables of all kinds with a net profit of $39,000.

The prisoners, who are paid 20 cents a day, have broken many new acres of the rich prairie land for seeding, and have provided for irrigation by opening up 12 miles of ditches.

Chistmas Parcels For The Armed Forces Overseas

While Christmas may seem a long way off to those in Canada it is really time now to think of Christmas gifts for friends or relatives of the Armed Forces stationed in the Far East, India, Burma, Celyon or the South East Asia Command. Mail Christmas Parcels now—or not later than October 10th. The journey to the United Kingdom, trans-shipment in the United Kingdom, and then the long ocean voyage to the Far East requires considerable time, and parcels must be sent now to be assured of delivery by Christmas.

Christmas parcels for the Middle East and Central Mediterranean, i.e., Egypt, Iran, Iraq, Syria, Italy, Malta, West Africa, etc., should be mailed as soon as possible and at the latest by October 15th.

It is theoretically possible for a pigeon breeder to start with a dozen pairs of birds and have 960 squabs at the end of 12 months.
