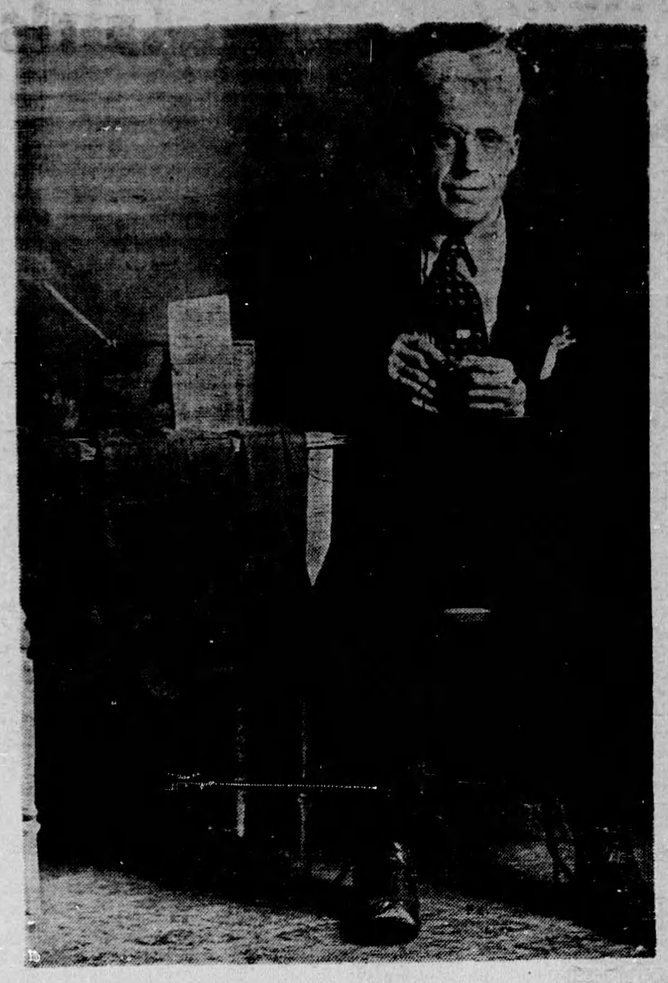
CEYLON MAN HAS SPLENDID KNITTING RECORD



Edgeley Hazard Knitted For The Red Cross

(By Ceylon Reporter

The Village of Ceylon has a very industrious person, by the name of Edgeley L. Hazard, who has been knitting for the Red Cross, besides his usual daily work. Since 1942, he has knit the following: 1 toque; 3 turtle neck tuck-ins; 1 pair of whole mitts; 8 pair of 2-way mitts; 1 seaman's scarf, 72 inches long; 4 plain knitted scarves; 17 helmets; 2 sweaters, with v-necks; 3 turtle-neck sweaters, with sleeves; 25 pair of gloves; 2 pair of seaman's socks; 1 pair of seaman's long stockings; 1 pair of alternative seaman's long stockings; 55 pair of service socks; he has knit one or more of everything in the Red Cross Knitting Book. Edgeley also does customs knitting, which is an example of his good work. We hope the splendid work may be carried on for a length of time by our village citizen.

ROCK MILLS

We experienced our coldest weather over the week end accompanied by strong winds made it very severe. The snow plough went through on Sunday, keeping the roads in good shape for traffic.

There was no church service here Sunday afternoon, owing to the cold stormy weather.

There have been quite a lot of logs coming into the mill here the past few weeks, and looks as though they may have a good stock in by spring.

Pte. Nelson Wilson of Markdale spent a few days with his sister. Mrs. George Akitt and Mr. Akitt.

A number from here attended the funeral of the late John Foster which took place in Flesherton Monday afternoon. Deceased was a residen here for some twelve years when he was manager for the Durham Furniture Co. He was highly respected by a wide circle of friends who will learn with deep regret of his passing. Our sincere sympathy is extended to the family in their bereavement.

Lamplighters Almost Gone

It is said that there are only forty lamplighters left in London, England, and that this winter is the first since 1938 in which they are doing their old-time job of going round every evening at dusk and lighting separately each of the ten per cent of London's street gas lamps that still have to be operated by hand—the rest are lit by mechanized clock control.

In days gone by the lamplighter was thought to be rather a romantic figure; he was popular with the boys and girls, who would sometimes go with him on his rounds, listening to his stories and watching with interest as he turned on each lamp and made a small circle of soft light on the cobbled street. This the lamplighter did in the days before gas-lighting by placing his ladder against the lamp post, climbing up to light the oil lamp inside it. That is why a few old-fashioned lamp-posts are seen to have a bar sticking out beneath the lamp, declares The Children's Newspaper.

Later, the lamplighter discarded his ladder and carried a short pole with which he switched on the gas of a lamp burning an "incandescent mantle."

The forty lamplighters of London may soon give up their archaic work, but they are not afraid of being unemployed as they will have plenty of work to do in keeping the street lamps in working order.

Use Employment Office

The National Employment Office at Walkerton reports that during the month of December 84 veterans registered for employment of which 48 were placed in jobs. There are however 53 registered for employment, an increase over the previous month. With the increase in the number being discharged of late and the large number scheduled to be returning during the month of January, it is expected that many more will be registering for Employment Office Staff in respect to creating jobs for these dischargees and some good results have been attained. All employers are asked to contact the Employment Office and information will be given to them regarding the type of persons registered for employment. There are skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled veterans seeking employment and anxious "to get that job."

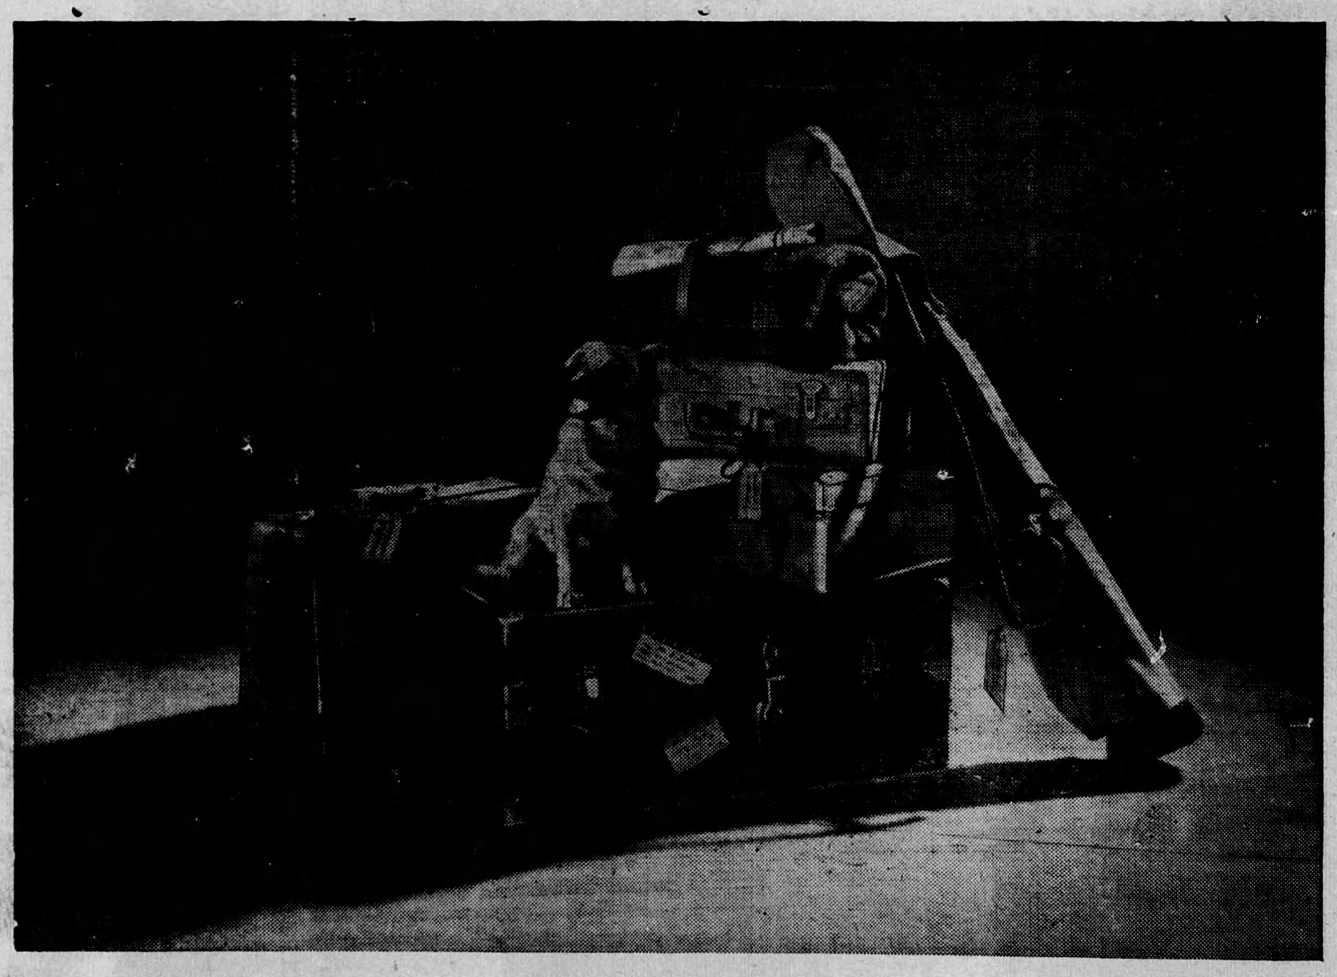
Wife: Well dear, I'll meet you at the Biltmore at twelve for lunch.

Husband: All right, but please don't be any later than one.



". . . and someday, WE'LL take a trip!"

SOMEWHERE in the back of your mind, there's that urge to go places. Right now it must be filed under "Future" but it's part of us as Canadians to want to discover for ourselves what the rest of the world is like—to plan for that "some day," when we'll take a trip! That's why it must be part of our planning now, to make sure such pleasant things as trips are possible in the post-war world. And they'll be possible only if we fight against inflation—fight now to keep Canada's dollar worth a full dollar!

Why is NOW so important? Because NOW civilian goods are scarce, money is plentiful. NOW is the time we must guard against paying more than things are worth—against black markets—against buying more than we need, or goods we don't need! NOW is the time we must support rationing and price controls!

Up to the present, we've kept our dollar sound. And we can continue to do so if we keep up a strong, steady fight against inflation!

If we fail in this fight, prices will rise. Wages will never quite catch up. Soon you'll pay, perhaps a dollar for a quarter's worth of goods! And that means your dollar is worth only a quarter! That's inflation.

And after inflation, comes depression. Depression means neither you nor anyone else in Canada will have trips. You'll be lucky if you have a job! So, for our own sakes, for the sake of returned men, for our children, let's never relax our struggle to keep Canada's dollar worth a full dollar!

Make this Pledge Today!

I pledge myself to do my part in fighting inflation:

By observing rationing and avoiding black markets in any shape or form.

By respecting price controls and other anti-inflation measures, and refraining from careless and unnecessary buying. I will not buy two where one will do, nor will I buy a "new" where an "old" will do.

By buying Victory Bonds and War Savings Stamps, supporting taxation and abiding by all such measures which will lower the cost of living and help keep prices at a normal level.
