Springhill Farm Forum

Springhill Farm Forum met on February 11th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eagles with a fair attendance. They were unanimous in their decision that there are too many trucks on the same route gathering cream, eggs, etc. and that both producer and consumer pay for it. There is also too much duplicating of delivery of food products in the cities when one can see three or four different companies delivering the same product on the same street.

It was considered that something should be done to stop the abusive treatment much of the stock heceives when they go to the city stockyards, causing considerable waste, which is taken off the cheque of the producer.

The Forum is sponsoring an educational film, loaned by the Dept. of Agriculture, in the High School Auditorium, Flesherton, on Feb. 25th. The Ceylon and Orange Valley Forums are also invited.

The meeting for Feb. 18th is to be held at the home of Richard Allen.
